Sawen Menting Held.—A meeting of the property owners of the Riverside sewer district was held Saturday night at the engine-house at the corner of Killingsworth and Aibins avenues, to receive the report of the committee ap-pointed to confer with the City Coun-cil in regard to the extension of the assessment district, and the equalization of the assessment. The committee reported that the Council had agreed to the demands of the petitioners in a modified way. The Council agreed to extend the assessment district, but did not take in quite as much territory as the residents thought should be taken in. The meeting was adjourned to the call of the chairman of the committee, which will consider the matter further. No action was taken on the report at the meeting, but the general sentiment of those present favored abiding by the concessions made by the Council.

MRS. Woodcook Hears From Hilles.

—A communication from the White House, bearing the signature of Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the President, is a priceless treasure in the possession of Mrs. M. L. Woodcock, a well-known Portland woman, who is spending the Summer at North Beach. While very brief, the letter expresses the appreciation of the writer, on behalf of the President, for a message from Mrs. Woodcock in which she related her share in the choosing of Theodore Rossevelt as the Republican standard bearer in 1964, and assured President Taft that the same backing would be his to command in the convention of next year.

BESIMESS OUTLOOK BRIGHTER.— The outlook for Fall business all over the country is very bright, says Abe Meier of the Meier & Frank store who returned yesterday from a six weeks purchasing trip to New York. Mr. Meier headed 18 purchasers and besides superintending extensive purchases spent considerable time looking into general business conditions. He says the money situation apparently is much improved and dealers in nearly every line are looking for a lively business during the Fall season. Several if the purchasers returned with Mr. Meier and others will arrive in Port-Meier and others will arrive in Port-and during the present week.

It is followed ten days later by the Day of Atone-ment, the intervening time being ob-served as days of penitence. Upon the day of atonement all Jews the world over abstain from food or drink for 24 hours, and do not work.

Yom Kippur is the Hebrew term for this fast, which falls on October 2 this year. The day of atonement is a day of good will for all orthordox Jews, for it is one of the tenets of their faith that hefers one of their number can that before one of their number can make peace with God, he must make peace with his fellow-men.

The day of atonement is celebrated by the blowing of trumpets at its beginning, as is also the feast of Rosh Hashonoh. This year, however, the feast of Rosh Hashonoh falls on the Sabbath, and on this account the trumpets are not blown. On that day pray-

Western Washington Development League, with headquarters at Centralia, arrived last night from Boise, where he attended the convention of the commercial executives from various Paciic Coast towns.

Some 49 commercial organizations from California, Oregon, Utab, Idaho, from California, Oregon, Utan, Idano, Washington and Montana were represented at the gathering. The membership is restricted to men engaged in professional publicity work for commercial organizations. Rellly Atkinson, of the Boise Commercial Club, was chosen president of the new association, and A. L. Summers, secretary-treasurer. treasurer.

The idea of the organization of the professional "boosters" into a body of their own was first suggested at the meeting of the Oregon Development meeting of the Oregon Development League at Salem last year. The call for the meeting at Bolse was issued by a committee consisting of C. C. Chap-man, of the Portland Commercial Club, Beilly Atkinson, of Bolse, J. E. Barnes, of Centralia, and Francis Hepe, of California. The next meeting of the secretaries will be held next year at Tacoma.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing Resolutions were adopted indorsing the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1912, and also the San Diego Fair the same year. The relation of communities with railroads was discussed. It was the general sentiment that the towns and railroads should get together on a basis of better understanding.

DOUBLE DROP THRILLS

Crowd at Oaks Sees Girl and Man Leap From Balloon.

Thousands of persons watched Miss noon, and a crowd slightly larger saw Jack make a single drop while his balloon was illuminated by fireworks

When Charles Broadwick fired the "cut loose" signal from the earth, Jack shot down like a bullet. His heavy parachute did not open till the boy had dropped 750 feet, when the great wings dropped 780 feet, when the great whits opened with a jar. Miss Tiny watched from her perch the boy commence to float gently earthwards, and pulled her own rip rope. The girl dropped further than the boy. Like a flash of white she seemed to fly towards the ground. Then her parachute opened ground. Then her parachute opened and with little dips and dives Miss Broadwick glided down.

Presentation of a gold baton by the Metropolitan Opera Quartet and the members of the Oaks Park Band to Director Philip Polz was a fenture of the evening. Delightful concerts were given by both organizations.

With the exception of this after-noon, Miss Tiny will make a balloon secension every day at 4:30, while her brother will go sloft every night at 2:30. Pelz' band will give concerts every evening and the quartet may be heard every afternon in addition.
