

JAPAN AND RUSSIA SETTLE ALL CLAIMS

Negotiations, on for Years, Close Satisfactorily Without Arbitration.

CZAR IS BIGGEST GAINER

Mikado's Government Agrees to Pay to Conquered Country $150,000 for Apportionment to Persons Whose Claims Are Satisfied.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—The Emperor of Russia and the Emperor of Japan exchanged telegrams yesterday on the occasion of the settlement of questions relating to various claims and counter claims for indemnity on both sides for losses incurred during the war.

The negotiations have continued for years and were pushed energetically by M. Malinsky-Malavitch, the Russian Ambassador to Japan, prior to his recent departure from Tokyo.

For the most part the claims were on the Russian side, the big item of which was payment for property of Russian subjects at Port Arthur.

Statement Out Soon. An official statement respecting the settlement, to be issued soon, is expected to adhere to the policy adopted by Japan to utilize successive diplomatic acts for the promotion of good relations between the two nations.

When the Japanese Emperor received the Russian Ambassador in farewell audience he decorated Mlle. Malinsky-Malavitch with the highest order and invited her to the imperial luncheon.

Up to that time this honor had been extended to Miss Alice Roosevelt only. In the settlement reached Japan agrees to hand over to Russia $150,000 for apportionment to persons whose private claims Russia has supported.

Japan will purchase for $45,000 the property of Russians situated on concession land in the suburban districts of Port Arthur. She agreed to pay rental for houses of Russians at Kwantung and abandon claims to the treasury of the Port Arthur municipality, as the municipal funds are needed to satisfy the claims of contractors.

Red Cross Ship Damage $80,000. Japan also agreed to pay $80,000 for a Red Cross ship which she seized and which has now become unfit for that purpose. The former Russian hospital ship Angara, which is to be returned to Russia for repairs before the transfer is made.

The Russia points out that the claims between Russia and Japan have been settled without recourse to arbitration and that Japan has reversed the decision of its own prize courts with regard to the Red Cross ship.

Good Feeling Expressed. The text of the telegrams exchanged between the Emperors is published here. The Japanese Emperor, announcing his pleasure at the settlement and at handing over to Russia the ship Angara, "as an evidence of the sentiment of unalterable friendship I feel for Russia," proceeds:

"I am sure that your majesty will graciously share my conviction that the settlement will contribute to consolidate still more the good relations existing between our two countries."

The Russian Emperor, in reply, expressing heartfelt thanks, says: "Thoroughly sharing as I do your majesty's sentiments, I see in the handing over of the Angara fresh proof of a most potent pledge of our reciprocal friendship."

EASTMORELAND National Newspapers Feature Reed College TO important Newspapers, "news" is flashed daily from every corner of the earth and from cities and towns thruout the country. In printing selections from this mass of material, the Editor exercises a rare judgment. Upon this judgment depends the success or failure of the Newspaper. The Editor of the New York Evening Post, in his judgment has seen fit to devote three columns to the subject of Reed College. The Boston Transcript and Boston Herald have each printed several items. In the New York Herald, Boston Record and Los Angeles Times articles or notices have appeared. While the Springfield Republican, sometimes regarded as America's best newspaper, has dwelt upon the importance of Reed College. In addition, the Seattle Times, Spokane Spokesman-Review and many other Oregon and Washington newspapers have devoted much space to the subject. This brings the grand total to more than half a million copies of newspapers nationally distributed. All of this is the most desirable form of Publicity. None but institutions of nation-wide importance ever receive it. The one specific location in Portland that directly benefits by this Publicity is "Eastmoreland." As a Homesite property, it is brought to the attention of prospective newcomers, first. Hence to investors, I say "Watch Eastmoreland Now."
