PLUMMER SEES JUGGLE

COUNCILMAN MAGUIRE DEFIED AT COMMITTEE SESSION.

Inspector of Buildings Declares That Architect Boasted He Would Cause Removal.

Inspector of Buildings Plummer yesterday morning told Councilman Maguire that an ordinance introduced by the latter was designed to oust Plummer and was a juggle. Mr. Maguire denied it, but Mr. Plummer insisted on his point, further declaring that E. L. Williams, an architect, appointed chairman of a revising committee, had boasted that he would "get" Plummer. These statements were made at a meeting of the health and police committee. "I was told in the last campaign," said Inspector Plummer, "that two plans had been agreed upon in the effort to have me ousted from the office. One was to try to have the Mayor remove me, and the other was to have an ordinance introduced, the provisions of which would do the work. I guess this is the ordinance." "The whole intent and purpose of the ordinance is to change the title of the office so that it will conform to the charter and to place it under civil service," declared Councilman Maguire. "The office has been juggled by every Mayor and made a football of by them; Simon juggled it, Lane juggled it, and now I propose to change the title to Building Inspector, so as to place it un-
