Senatorial Swings at Henderson's Curves Are for Most Part Futile.

PORTLAND 7-TO-1 WINNER

McCredie's Troupe Drives Thompson From Mound in First—Ryan and Madden Each Get Home Run, but Not Over Fence.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Benny Henderson held the Senators to four hits this afternoon, while the Beavers drove Thompson from the mound in the first inning, after rapping him for four hits which netted three runs. Thompson, who replaced Thompson, was hit heavily, and contributed five walks. Portland won, 7 to 1.

The game was featured by two home runs inside the lot, Buddy Ryan completing the circuit when a drive from his bat dropped the ball in the tall grass near the right field fence. Van Buren and Madden were unable to find the sphere, while Ryan trotted for a home run. And Tommy Madden drove the ball to the score board in left field, also making a circuit trot.

Madden's home run provided the only tally registered by the Senators, who were absolutely baffled by Henderson's shots.

Buddy Ryan's hitting was the feature of the game, the premier stickler of the league getting four hits in five trips to the plate. In the first innings his drive to Jimmy Shinn, which the third-sacker got both hands on, nearly pulled Shinn off his feet. It turned him half-way around. Ryan also got two more singles, in addition to his home run. Barry, Krueger and Beckinbaugh also tapped the ball at opportune times. Score:

SMOKE GAME GOES TO SEALS

Vernon Uses Two Pitchers but San Francisco Noses Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—San Francisco broke Vernon's winning streak today and took a slow game, 2 to 1. Castleton was pounded off the mound in the first inning, and was replaced by Stewart, who pitched good ball. Vernon scored one run in the first on two singles and an infield out, but San Francisco nosed into the lead in the last half of the same inning, when three hits, a steal and a sacrifice sent in two runs.

Vernon tallied three in the fifth on singles and a double, but the Seals, who had scored one run in the second, put the game on ice by batting in the sixth and seventh innings. Vernon was compelled to retire from the game in the third on account of illness. Score:

ANGELS DRIVE OUT CHRISTIAN

Batting Rally by Dillon's Team Results in Defeat of Oaks.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Los Angeles evened up the tie today with Oakland by taking the fourth game 3 to 2. With the score 2 to 1 against them in the eighth inning, the Angels started a batting rally which ended when Tyler Christian, who started for Oakland, had been driven from the mound. Flatter, who relieved him, stopped further scoring, but the damage already had been done, two runs having been scored. The Oaks were unable to send a man across the rubber in their final try, although they got men on the bases. Score:

WALTER NAGLE is to return to Los Angeles. The Santa Rosa lad has been turned over to Hen Berry by the Boston Americans, whether he went after a short stay with the Pittsburgh Nationals.

The fact that Walter has failed to deliver the merchandise demanded in the big brush has come as a surprise to his Pacific Coast admirers. Nagle was looked upon as one of the coolest and steadiest twirlers in the Coast League. When he was taken by Pittsburgh every one opined that he would make good. He had been with Los Angeles a number of years and was always considered one of the Southern club's stellar boxmen.

A good reason for Nagle's return to the Coast might be found in the climatic change he was forced to undergo. Walter was never the strongest man physically in baseball. In fact, he suddenly recovered his batting eye and a means of regaining his health. He feared before his departure for the East that the change would not help him any.

Nagle will rejoin the Angels immediately. One player who was graduated from the Pacific Coast League and who was not much of a star when he departed, but who has turned out great, is Sweeney, playing infield for Chicago. It is interesting to note that Chicago has Sweeney. Chicago in turn sold or traded him to Boston without a good trial. Sweeney played only one game for Boston, but he was so good he went up many had their doubts about him making good. But Sweeney is now rated among the fast infielders in the National League. The great surprise is that he is hitting like a house afire. In the Coast League he was down among the 250 wall-poppers; he is going 400 for Boston. He is being followed by other players like Sweeney, Donlin and Roscoe Miller that the Boston management hopes to build up a winning team next year. Donlin is a National League pitcher who is hitting like a house afire and is performing like the Mike of old. The other day he lined out three hits and stole three bases.

STEEL TRAP IS ROADSTERS' EAR

White Bees Buzz Around Coltrin, Mensor Sneaks Home With Winning Run.

FLINGING OF HIGH ORDER

Eastley Is in Rare Form, Mowing Down 11 Victorians During Afternoon—Thorsen Is Likewise Baffling to Batters.

While "Chubby" Coltrin was having a game of "button, button, who's got the button" with half the Victoria team before second and first yesterday afternoon, Eddie Mensor, tired of sticking on third waiting for someone to start something, made a dash for the plate, and before the swarming bees could tag the elusive slacker, Coltrin slipped across the plate with the only run of a featureless game.

It was a life-saver for the Roadsters. With "Babe" Thorsen seeming to improve as the seasons flew by, it looked like extra innings, for Frank Eastley was hurling in rare form, too. The lone hit that he allowed Coltrin to get to the atmosphere, Mensor singled to short. He went a step nearer home on Moore's sacrifice, and pulled up at third when Keller booted Coltrin's bony tap. Coltrin headed secondward and drew fire from Grindle. Grindle's throw was almost perfect, and had the shortfielder cut off by 20 feet.

Coltrin turned, Keller threw around and hit first. Keller threw to McMurdo, and by that time Mensor had a good start for home. He scored several seconds before the Victorians succeeded in finding Coltrin and tagging him for the third down.

Eastley Has Everything. Eastley did everything his own way. During the afternoon he enlightened the fair fans considerably on the art of strikeouts. His hook was good, and he had a good start for home. He scored several seconds before the Victorians succeeded in finding Coltrin and tagging him for the third down.

Another exhibition that brought eager attention, especially from the crowd, was the driving of four colts by Frank E. Alley. The aggregate age of the four horses is 20 months, the youngest being four months old and the oldest 16. The colts are all from the Bonaday Stock Farm, at Roseburg, and are from Frank Alley's string of blooded trotting and pacing stallions and mares.

Hunt Clubmen Compete. The running races followed the last heat of the day. The first of these was 44-furlong dash for 3-year-olds. This race was won by W. G. Smith's chestnut mare, Agnes, with a heavy rain in doubt. The race was won by W. G. Smith's chestnut mare, Agnes, with a heavy rain in doubt. The race was won by W. G. Drift Hints Running. In order to give Red Top III an opportunity to make good on his championship race, this event was postponed from 10 o'clock this morning until 1 o'clock this afternoon. The heavy rain was falling, the water was smooth as glass and aside from the great amount of drift in the river the conditions were ideal for fast racing. The Astor had broken her bedplate and was unable to come out.

A poor start was made, the Wigwam II heavy in first, but 48 seconds late; the Red Top was 1 minute and 25 1-5 seconds behind the starting gun, while the Oregon Wolf was 1 minute and 42 1-5 seconds behind the starting gun. The racing craft sped up the line at terrific pace and it looked like a fight to the finish.

In the first turn, however, the Wolf missed the buoy and was compelled to turn back to round the bend. She then began to open up and ran at a good clip, slowly cutting down the lead which the other craft had secured. In the meantime the Red Top had crawled up on the Wigwam until she was about 150 feet behind her and there she hung until just before the finish, when she was overtaken and dropped out.

Several Seconds Lost. On the first buoy the Red Top also missed the first buoy and she lost several seconds in making the turn to correct her error. The Wolf then sheared ahead and gained big lead, which she maintained to the finish. The balance of the race was a procession, as the Wolf was not crowded and ran steadily, making the great amount of drift in the river. The Potog Bug, gaining a lap on her, and also increased her lead on the Red Top, which did not appear to be running as smoothly as she should. The Oregon Wolf when she covered the five miles and 150 feet in 8 minutes and 38 seconds, but this did not equal her performance of yesterday. Her actual running time for the 30 miles being 55 minutes and 10 1-5 seconds. The Red Top finished 58 minutes and 10 1-5 seconds, with the Potog Bug finishing one lap behind. The Red Top was, however, disqualified for missing a buoy, and this gave the Potog Bug second place, with no third.

The points won by each of the contesting boats as a result of the first and second heats in this race are as follows: Oregon Wolf, 10; Wigwam II, 3; Potog Bug, 3; Astor, 1.

Ten-Mile Race Run in Morning. The only race run in the morning was the second heat for speed boats, a distance of 10 miles, for prizes of $250, $125 and $75. There were seven entries, the same as in the first heat of yesterday, but the handicaps were changed to some extent. The Nones Flyer was the scratch boat, and Wigwam I was the first to cross the starting line, but she was 10 minutes and 23 seconds behind the following order: Marjuelin, Zip, Indian, Chehalis and Sylph.

The latter craft broke her timer just as she started and dropped out. While fairly good time was made by some of the contestants the race was not interesting to the spectators. The Wigwam I kept the lead to the finish and won first place, while the Zip and Indian passed the Marjuelin and came in second and third respectively, none of the other boats finishing. The Wigwam's time was 45 minutes 40 1-5 seconds, and that of the Zip was 46 minutes 17 1-5 seconds. The final heat in this race will be run tomorrow. The points won by the respective contestants as the result of the first two heats are as follows:

Wigwam I, 10; Chehalis, 3; Zip, 3; Nones Flyer, 1; Indian, 1. In the special five-horse power motor fishboat race for prizes of a standard engine complete, $100 and $50, there were 20 entries. The Myrtle, with a Damon engine, was first; the Standard, with a Standard engine, was second, and the Eddie, with a Clifton engine, was third.

BERRY SECURES NEW PITCHER. Palmer, Right-Hander From Madison, to Join Angels Next Week. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Hen Berry is still buying players for his Angels team that he expects to win the 1912 Coast League pennant. He received today a message from the Madison club in Philadelphia, Wisconsin, of an offer for the purchase of Palmer, a right-handed pitcher under contract to the Athletics.

Palmer did not show any unusual last year, but he has been doing a bear-cat stunt on the bill this season, and was not considered enough to merit a mention. The Philadelphia manager, however, says that he has seen Palmer in action and that he is a "good doer." According to the terms of sale, Palmer is to report to Los Angeles, and will be with the team next week.

CRICKETERS IN CLOSE GAME. Philadelphia Club Leaves for California After Contest. The second match between the Portland cricket club and the Frankford cricket club started yesterday afternoon resulted in a much closer game than on the first day. The Portland men batted first and were all out for 75, while the Frankford men batted second and defeated the strong batting side the visitors have, but which eventually gave them all they could do to beat Philadelphia. HOOD DOO PUTS TWO POINT OF BOAT RACES

Wigwam II Is First Craft to Meet With Disaster in Yesterday's Astoria Meet.

OREGON WOLF'S LUCK ILL

Boat Puts Out From British Cruiser Shearwater to Give Aid to Disabled Motor-Boat When Two Cylinders Blow Out.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The speed boat Hood Doo was again in evidence today and as a result two of the fast craft were put out of commission for the balance of the regatta, while the discovery was made last evening that the Astor had broken her bedplate and could not enter any more of the races.

The first boat to meet with disaster today was the Wigwam II, the accident happening during the big championship race. The Wigwam was running in excellent shape and finished the first two laps in the lead, but about 500 feet after crossing the line for the start of the third lap, the Astor struck a sunken log, which knocked off her wheel, broke her crank shaft and two cylinders of her engine blew out.

She immediately signaled for assistance and was picked up by a small boat launched from the British cruiser Shearwater. A launch soon arrived, however, and the disabled craft was towed ashore. There is little chance of her being fitted up in time to enter the final heat tomorrow.

Oregon Wolf in Bad Luck. The Oregon Wolf also met with a streak of ill luck and was badly damaged, but this occurred just after the big race was over and she had crossed the line in the lead. The Wolf had slowed down and was running to her boat house, which is located near the motorboat headquarters, when she struck a log, which broke her propeller shaft. She cannot be repaired in time for tomorrow's race, but a new shaft has been requested and she will be ready to enter the races in Portland on Saturday of next week. This accident was peculiarly unfortunate for the people attending the regatta, as President of the company owning the Wigwam II and John Wolf had decided to speed her up to the limit tomorrow and show the spectators what the craft could do.

The Oregon Wolf wins the second heat in the Pacific Coast championship race, thus ensuring her first prize, and the other two craft, the Wigwam I and the Red Top, were also in the handicap race, securing the first prize in that contest, but the winners of the second and third prize had race line still in doubt. This is the result of the second heats in those events, which were run today.

SLEEK TROTTERS IN DASH

(Continued from First Page.) The wire, but always managed to have long enough to get to the finish line. Casey said he intended to go to Pendleton tomorrow night for the purpose of witnessing the "Round-Up." He said he has frequently desired to see the Round-Up at Pendleton or the Wild West exhibitions at Cheyenne, but these events have always found him tied up in the night by a baseball season in the past, and now that he is free, he is going to satisfy his desire. He announces that he will probably spend most of the winter in Portland.

The second race yesterday was a special trotting event, and was won by the three-year-old colt, the Victoria team, which proved the best bet in the field and won handily each heat. Woodcock's Falmost proved the best horse for the place, and after finishing third in the first, came back in the second and third trials, taking second honors easily. Alma Dean and Zo faced it for third and fourth places, while Mobe, after finishing fifth in the first two heats, was withdrawn when the horses started on the third heat.

Between heats of the first and second races, Zombrot, the speedy trotter, owned by Johnson, Fox, president of the Portland Fair Association, was sent around the course in an exhibition mile. The animal covered the mile unspaced by runner or trotter in 2:13 1-2.

TENNIS PLAY TODAY

Larned Meets Dixon in First International Match. Little and Bundy Will Be United States Couple Paired Against Britishers McLoughlin Meets Lowe in Singles.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Lawn tennis players of the British Isles and American international cup teams will meet tomorrow in the first of the international games for the right to challenge the Australian holders of the Davis cup, emblematic of the world's championship.

On the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club of this city, William A. Larned, seven times holder of the American singles honors, will meet C. P. Dixon, captain of the British team, while Maurice E. McLoughlin, of California, will meet A. H. Lowe, of the British challengers.

The cup for which the nations are competing was first offered in 1900 by D. F. Davis, of St. Louis. The English challenged for it that year, but did not win until 1902, when H. L. and R. Doherty captured it. In 1907 the United States challenged and won it. In 1908, Brooks, defeated B. C. Wright and Karl H. Behr, and scored for the cup. Since that time America has been the only nation to go to the antipodes for the trophy.

But Before Dawnfall Several Tennis Matches Are Palled Off. Though rain halted play in the Irvington Club's tennis tournament yesterday several matches were played off in the morning and early afternoon. It may not be possible to resume play on Monday. The summary follows: Jones beat Franny, 6-1, 6-2; Hutchings beat Stewart, 6-0, 6-2; Ogil beat Vreese, 6-2, 10-8; Ogil beat Wood, 6-1, 3-6; Lloyd beat Pined 6-3, 9-7; McPherson beat Cockingham by default.

Junior championship, girls singles—Lucy Auster beat Miss Adeline Jewell, who has passed the summer managing Cloud Cap Inn, the famous resort at the head of the Upper Hood River Valley, and at the very base of Mount Hood, passed through the city yesterday returning to her home in Portland. The Inn closed Sunday for the present season. Enthusiastic mountain-climbers from all parts of the United States have been visitors at the Inn this summer. Miss Jewell says that she will conduct the Inn again next season in the event that she does not make a tour of Europe, as she now plans.
