

CHARTER BOARDS MAJOR FORGES

East Side Committee Favors Conference With Simon Organization.

FACTIONAL DANGER SEEN

Proposal of Two Plans to Voters Places Commission at Mercy of Opponents, Says Speaker—Further Discussion Voted.

Unofficially representing the charter committee appointed by ex-Mayor Simon, William F. Woodward last night appeared before the people's charter committee (East Side) and proposed the appointment by that body of a sub-committee to meet with a similar committee from the Simon commission in the hope that both organizations might reach an agreement and frame one commission charter.

With the exception of H. G. Parsons, the members of the East Side committee favored a conference with the members of the Simon committee. Final decision, however, was deferred until the next meeting of the committee Thursday night.

Mr. Woodward explained that he was a member of a sub-committee of three, representing the Simon committee, that was appointed to study a tentative commission charter for submission back to the full committee for approval before being submitted to the voters. He strongly advocated a consolidation of the efforts of the two committees to the end that only one commission charter be submitted to the voters.

Ground Work is Afoot.

Mr. Woodward pointed out that all questions of a charter relating to a commission plan of government would be incorporated in the commission charter and that the independent amendments to the charter submitted separately would not impair the pure commission government proposed if they should be approved or rejected by the people.

Consolidation is Attacked.

Dr. Harry Lane suggested an interchange by the two committees of the text of the charter amendments being prepared and with this understanding, Mr. Woodward withdrew. He had hardly left the meeting, however, until Mr. Parsons, the only dissenting member of the committee, delivered himself of the following tirade against the committee of which Mr. Woodward is a member.

"It will be one big, grand mistake for us to have any dealings with the other committee. Oil and water will not mix. The proposed consolidation will result in the submission of a mass of confusion out of which the voters will be able to get nothing. We are bound to differ on many important matters and never will be able to get together. The average property owner has no confidence in the other committee, but he does have confidence in our organization. Any amalgamation of the two committees will invite distrust of the people by the commission government. We had better let these other fellows entirely alone."

Conference Advantage Shown.

Isaac Swett held to the opinion that the East Side committee should proceed with its work, but insisted that it should have no objections to conferring with the other committee to the end that each might profit, if possible, from the deliberations of the other. The same view was expressed by Dr. Lane, Dr. C. H. Chapman and A. D. Cridge.

Proposal Meets Support.

"We should confer with the other committee and, if it is possible to agree on the essential details of a commission charter, we should proceed and submit only one charter. Submission of the separate amendments that is suggested will be in no greater danger of defeat than will the entire commission plan if two charters are submitted. It will not be necessary for this committee to pick a single point of contention in its deliberations. Certainly no harm can come of the step that is proposed. If the other committee can assist us in framing a better charter, well and good. We may be able to give them a great deal of help."

FRANCHISE POWER EXTENDED

Time Restriction Favored by East Side Board in Draft.

Enlarged powers in granting, regulating and controlling franchises are conferred on the city in the proposed commission charter that is being drafted by the people's charter committee (East Side) at a meeting last night, the members of the committee considered in part the special report of the committee on franchises and tentatively agreed upon many of the main provisions of the report which will be incorporated in the proposed charter.

Time Restriction Favored by East Side Board in Draft.

The committee adopted one section of the report which declares that the title of the city is inalienable in all waterfront, wharf property, land under water, public landings, wharves, docks, ferries, highways, bridges, avenues, streets, alleys, lanes, parks and all other public places. Provision is made, however, for the sale by unanimous vote of the proposed commission subject to referendum by the voters, of only such city property as is not needed for municipal purposes. Leases of such property for public purposes, when needed, is authorized by the Mayor and the Commissioners for a period of five years, but exclusively franchises are expressly prohibited.

The power and right reasonably to regulate in the public interest the exercise of all franchises granted by the Commission under any and all circumstances is reserved to the Commission.

Every street railway franchise that shall hereafter be granted to connect with any existing street railway franchise is to expire on the same date as the original franchise and all renewals of franchises to such corporations shall be so limited as to expire on a date not later than the longest unexpired franchise held by the same corporation. A system of interchangeable franchises shall also be required. It is further provided that franchises to railway companies shall not be granted unless the city receives therefor a fair consideration by way of direct payment for the improvement of service and reduction in fares. Under no circumstances is any franchise to be granted for a longer period than 25 years and the city reserves the right to take over any and all such property at the expiration of the franchise or franchises under which it is being operated upon the terms and conditions of the original acquisition has been ratified by the voters of the city under the referendum.

The proposed charter also gives to the Commission large powers in regulating the service and charges for the same by all corporations. These rights and powers are defined as follows:

To hear and determine what are just, fair and reasonable rates, fares and charges for public service and to order that only reasonable charges shall be imposed and to make effective such orders by penalties and forfeitures.

The granting of a franchise shall not be deemed to confer any right to include in the charge for any service and return upon the franchise or grant. To require the elevation or depression of the tracks of railroads, street railways or the placing over and under of wires, whenever such action is necessary, in the interest of public safety and convenience.

To require reasonable extensions of any public service system. To make such rules and regulations as may be required to secure adequate and proper service and provide excellent accommodations for the public. Failure to comply with any of the foregoing requirements shall work a forfeiture of the franchise.

Other recommendations of the committee on franchises will be considered at subsequent meeting of the committee.

HOTEL GRANT CHANGED

CARLTON'S BAR MUST OPEN ON BURNSIDE STREET.

Washington License Barred Because of Proximity to School—Taxwell's "Bad List" Sent Back.

That Theodore Kruse, who disappeared recently from Portland, was to have managed the Hotel Carlton at Nineteenth and Washington streets, attracted passing attention of the liquor licensing committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon, when among the long list of applications for licenses the members came upon a request for a license for the hotel. The location of the hotel since the disappearance of Kruse has been taken in hand by Alex Gevurtz, who applied yesterday for a transfer of the license of Henry Hecht to his name.

The street number named in the application called for a license to operate a saloon on the Washington-street front, which was objected to on the grounds that this is within less than 400 feet of the Lincoln High School, and it is considered inadvisable for the municipality to permit opening of a saloon within that distance of a school. The petitioner held that the ordinance did not apply to him, as the property on which the high school stands had been sold, but his suggestion was rejected by the committee because school is actually in session in buildings at present, and the classes will not be moved to the new building for several months.

It was decided to permit the transfer of the license to Alexander Gevurtz, who opened on the Burnside street front of the Washington-street side, which will place it beyond the 400-foot limit. A list from Judge Taxwell, giving the names of several persons who, he said, had violated the model liquor license law that went into effect last April will be presented to the committee, owing to lack of complete information on the cases. The list comprised only the names of the offenders, and the addresses, and failing to state whether the violation of the ordinance was made by the proprietors of the saloons or by bartenders.

Deputy City Auditor Hutchinson, clerk of the committee, said that unless full information were given in the list it would be difficult for the license department to attend to the cases promptly or effectively. The model license ordinance provides that two violations of its provisions shall revoke the license of the offender automatically.

Application of Nick Traumas for license to conduct a shooting gallery at 109 Third street North was granted with the provision that no women shall be employed in the establishment. The committee declared its intention to grant no more licenses to places of this kind in which women were to be employed.

Indian is Acquitted.

Virgil Wilson was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Bean's department of the Federal Court yesterday afternoon. The jury was out 18 minutes. Wilson, who is an Indian, was charged with having introduced whisky on the Klamath Reservation on July 6. He was found drunk by a Government inspector, who, upon searching him, found a flask of whisky. The Indians had attended a celebration across Wood River on July 4 and it was supposed Wilson secured the whisky at that time.
