Catarrh Victims Fearfully Nauseating to Those Who Are Near Them.

The Positive Cure for Catarrh Is the Gauss Treatment—A Free Trial, to Prove It, Is Sent to All Who Write for It.

Whe Write for It.

There is nothing so nauseating as to have to sit next to a gagging catarrh victim or to talk to one of them and have whiffs of bad catarrh breath constantly blown into your face. No man or woman sufforing with catarrh can avoid these things, because it is a part of the catarrh itself, though the victim may not realize or know that his very presence carries with it a certain garbage atmosphere. You can't smell your own breath, and you can seldom smell your own smell.

The constant spitting, and hacking, and nose-jerking is enough to make even the members of one's own family breathe a sign of relief when the and Source of Disgust to Others, hawker closes the door behind him. Love itself wavers, and disgust forbids the kiss. And out of regard for the afflicted one, little mention of his poliution is ever made to his face, and he must rely on his own misery and such plain talk as is contained in this page to reach him and to cure him. There is a cure for this pestilence within the reach of every one. It was not always so. Catarrh has raged flercely through the years like a firebrand, and in the eagerness to quench it, many useless things were given out as cures, but it remains now after the slow process of remains now after the slow process of experimentation and discovery, to offer the positive, real cure, which has been born of ceaseles searching and common Thousands Praise Gausa.

This is Gauss' Combined Treatment for Catarrh. The story is told over and over again a thousand times of the lost birthright of health restored, of the happiness caused, of the release from a degrading pestilence and of hope and comfort and sleep returned by the use of this wonderful simple Gauss treatment. It must be true. There are heart-stories from all over the land that bubble up from gratitude. They tell as nothing else can the misery in which catarrh plunges, the danger it brings the deaths it causes, and then again there are other pictures painted in these letters'of happiness and health redeemed, lost energy restored, and ambition reclaimed.

Send the Coppon.

If you are a catarrh victim, don't allow yourself any longer to be avoided by your friends because of your catarrh atmosphere, to be an object of nauseous disgust among strangers, we have people you know turn their faces away from you when you talk to them, to have people move away from you and stick up their noses as you sit next to them, to have your own family hate to have you come around—all because of the catarrh odor that everywhere and always makes you an outcast.

Gauss' Combined Treatment for Caand always makes you an outcast.

Gauss' Combined Treatment for Catarrh stope had catarrh breath right off short and quick, and cures every catarrh germ in the body. Sniffler Chased Out of Meeting

Enraged Audience Roughly Handles Gauger Who Interrupts Speech.

Gasger Who Interrupts Speech.

San Antonio, Sept. 12,—During a public primary meeting here today, a middle-aged man in the audience who was fumbling a rolled-up handkerchief in his hand and persistently sniffling and pulling his nose during the delivery of a speech was forcibly ejected from the assembly hall. Cries of "Kick him out" and "Choke the lobster" interrupted the proceedings, and finally resulted in a grand rush for the nose-puller by some of the enraged hearers. He was grabbed by the coat collar and unceremoniously and swiftly moved toward the door.

When the man first sat down and began loudly tearing out a throat-hawk, the audience shifted nervously. After continuing the draw-rattle of his catarrh through one of the most stirring parts of the speech the audience gave vent to its feelings. He was roughly handled on the way out, and sustained several severe bruises. He was taken to the county hospital.

It is such occurrences as these which make the catarrh victim one of the desolised of his race. He can't help

Catarrh Kills

Thinking Power

Loss of Memory Inevitable Result of Catarrh.

Catarrh anywhere in the head or throat or ear is right next to the brain. The catarrh germ grows fast, does an enormous amount of damage in its burrowings into bone and flesh and is difficult to destroy. There are thousands of little nerves that run from all parts of the face and head to the brain. Some of these little nerves have to pass through probably a mass of catarrhal inflammations on the road to the brain. When they do they are weakened; and sometimes destroyed.

What affects the nerves is bound to what affects the nerves is bound to affect the brain, and when the nerves are deadened by constant catarrhal discharges there is bound to be a certain torpor or stupidity brought about in the brain of the victim. Thus follows sleeplessness, inability to think clearly or to connect ideas, loss of memory, lack of concentration, lack of presence of mind, and a wandering of thought.

If any man or woman imagines that lack of concentration, lack of presence of mind, and a wandering of thought.

If any man or woman imagines that these things do not affect their earning capacity, their cheerfulness, and the esteem which their friends have for their brightness, they have little realization of the necessity of keeping the mind always clear. That is all there is to life.

when it takes such a comparatively short time to cure this terrible disease by the Gauss common-sense treatment, and regain the flash and brilliancy of the normal brain, there is no good reason why one should not spend the two or three minutes it takes to cut out the coupon below and send it to C. E. Gauss and have him prove to you that he is right, and that he positively cures catarrh. The coupon below malled now will bring you back by return mall a package of the wonderful Gauss treatment. Seek Divorce: Can't Stand Catarrh

Wife Says It Is Either Separate or Die of Disgust.

Lincoln. Neb., Sept. 19.—Henry O. Rasmussen, it is reported, is to be sued for divorce because his wife can no longer endure a catarrhal affliction of which Rasmussen is said to have been a victim for the last two years. a victim for the last two years.

Mrs. Rasmussen states that no woman with any shadow of self-respect could consent to be in constant association even with a man she loved who was afflicted in the manner she states. She says she regrets the publicity attached to a suit for divorce, but that it is either that or "simply lie down and die of disgust."

Plain language is the only thing to use in trying to deal with such an affliction as catarrh. The facts are plain. There is a man, an able-bodied, robust, vigorous business man, blessed with a

What happens at the table when the catarrh-gag comes on (and a man can't eat and pull his nose at the same time) we will not mention. What happens after such a meal in the sitting-room, or dressing-room, or hallroom, or the stairs, anywhere and everywhere, with a hawk, hawk, hawk, can be imagined. What happens when the victim almost leans on top of the cuspidor in the presence of the family and hawks and jerks with twisted face is a subject merely to be mentioned. What happens during the snoring, sleepless hours of the night, with a foul-smelling odor waiting about in the closed room, we can easily picture.

And add to it all the misery of the

And add to it all the misery of the miserable man himself. Is it any wonder that divorce is selzed upon as a cure?

The Gauss treatment would at once remedy all these horrible phases. If left to C. E. Gauss, Mrs. Rasmussen would have no reason for getting a divorce. These are cases which, though they have their humorous angles, atter all make or unmake the happiness of us all. If you have catarrh in any form, cut out the coupon below and mail it to C. E. Gauss, $12 Main St., Marshall, Mich., and be cured.

Confessions of a Catarrh Victim

I get boiling mad when people tell me I've got catarrh. I've had dozens of mere acquaintances, and especially one young lady, who have come up and ventured to tell me something "for my own benefit." That expression begins to pall on me—"for my own benefit." It seems they all want to tell me the same thing, "you ought to take something for your catarrh; I'll tell you how my cousin got cured, and every doctor used to say he had the worst case he ever heard about."

Now, when a friend puts his hand on my shoulder, I gulp in preparation for catarrh advice. This gulp is not mere throat action, but the swallowing of mucus. Nothing would suit me better than to have the earth open and swallow me up.

I walk along the street close to the alene, to hawk and spit when and where I please. I wish that I was my mother's little fairy once more, with little towsled head that knew not disease lying on her warm shoulder.

Now I feel that I am an outcast, I know what they think of me, everyone. I know my friends shun me, for even Jack, my old college chum, doesn't come around and chat and smoke any more as he used to do. My acquaintances only say hello, and pass by, Mrs. Grundy next door and all the other neighbors are talking about how repulsive I am. I see it in the way they look and act.

People I sit next to get up and move look and act.

People I sit next to get up and move somewhere else. People who talk to me turn their heads at an angle. And I'm in pain. It is not alone physical pain. It's my mind, too, that is in agony. I can't remember things as I used to. Thoughts slip away from me. I say things I don't mean, and mean things I never eay.

My head is thick and my brain is in a for. mean things I never say.

My head is thick and my brain is in a fog.

I walk alone, my work palls on me, my nerves refuse me. That let-her-go feeling has got me. I reiish nothing I eat and my appetite is gone. And as I think of my misery I must hawk again. My cough is a rattle. The ruby has been plucked from my cheek, the flush of my young health is gone. My head is in a fever, but my hands are cold, and I seem to feel in them the approaching chill of the tomb—I have read of catarrh death, and my mother's brother died of the same disease. Come on, death, and relleve me.

No, my mother comes. Who, Gauss did you say, Mother? Do you think so? I'll try, mother. Yes, if you send for the treatment I'll use it faithfully. I won't let it go a single day without using it. They prove it in every case, do you say? All right, send on the coupon today. Perhaps, after all, there is a cure, and still one person in the world to live for, one who will love you in spite of the catarrh, your mother.

Eminent Doctor Says Blindness Due to Catarrh

(Associated Press Dispatch.) London, Aug. 6. - Dr. H. Manning Fish, of Jollet, Ill., declared at the medical congress that most of the blindness in the world is the result of blindness in the world is the result of catarrh in the upper nasal cavities or the bony cells composing the roof of the nostriis.

Dr. Fish described his experience in thirty-six cases, covering a peried of several years, claiming that in each of these immediate improvement of the vision followed the effective treatment of the diseased nasal cavities, and advised that in cases of loss of vision following grip, measies, scarlet fever and kindred allments, relief be sought through treatment of the noses of the patients.

Catarrh is caused by a germ which

Some Results of Catarrh Even Slight Cases of Catarrh Have Terrible Consequences. Every case of catarrh, of course, not fatal. Nor does every case result in consumption or bronchitis, but never-theless they are very frequent. No man or woman knows what his or her case of catarrh will lead to. Men of robust health have succumbed to resulting consumption and partial idiocy. Women of strong vitality have become nervous wrecks and victims of bronchitis. Your good health is not always a preventive against the catarrh germs.

The more you feel sure there is no danger of the catarrh resulting in a disease more serious, the more danger there is; simply because you will neg-lect yourself. This happens in hundreds of cases and we see it recorded almost daily in the letters we receive. "If I had only started the cure earlier," is a very frequent expression, ehhwing that our warning is not fanciful, but based on fearful reality. Even slight cases of catarrh may re-suit in nose cancer, than which there is hardly a more pitiful affliction in Catarrh Fatality Frequent.

Some of the frequent results of catarrh are bronchitis, pneumonia, death, and decay of bones, loss of thinking and reasoning power, death of ambition and energy, loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia, ulceration, bad breath, raw throat, raw sores in the nose, general deblity, and sometimes idlocy and insanity.

That is why in the death list you do not find a mention of fatal catarrh; the death is caused not directly by the catarrh liself, but by a disease which was caused by catarrh. Medical books and cyclopediae will tell you even more serious news than we tell you here; probably after reading them you will have a full realization of what it is to have catarrh—a common disease, it is true, but with a common result—misery for years if not death.

Catarrh Everywhere, Even on Pike's Peak at Meals No Man or Place Is Immune From the Deadly Catarrh Germ.

There is no part of the land which is free from catarrh. Altitudes had latitudes have little effect in destroying this omnipresent germ. Many imagine that the climate of the West, with its high altitudes and dry atmosphere, tends to prevent catarrh. There are just as many cases in proportion to the population west as east of the Mississippi, only the disease is not as severe because of the climatic effect upon the nerves.
