Recognizing the worth to Portland and its commercial interests of a steamahip line, popularly owned and free from railread influence and competitive traffic hetween the Atlantic and the Pacific occans by way of the Panama Canal, business men of this city yesterday authorized the creation of a committee of five members to investigate details of the pian of Bernard N. Baker, president of the Atlantic & Pacific Transport Company, who proposes to establish such a service.

This action was unanimously voted following a luncheon in honor of Mr. Baker at the Commercial Club. It was authorized by a gathering of 30 of the

If the details of the proposed organ-hation and the plan of operation are found satisfactory, the committee will sective for Portland the recognition to which it is entitled and the advantages that will follow in the material expan-sion of the trade activities of Oregon. If the scheme is indorsed, Portland will demand one of the ten directors pro-vided for the general management of the Coast-in-Coast line of situmers

The company also expects to engage in the freight and passenger business on an extensive scale between points on the two American seacoasts, via the Panama Canal.

contracts, which are to be received not later than November 25, this year, but before we can do so it will be necessary to raise $3,000,000," said Mr. Baker. "We are receiving subscriptions at $100 a share. No demand will be made for any part of these subscriptions until the subscriptions reach $3,000,000, and then only in event the company re-ceives the contract from the Govern-ment for one or more of the ocean mail service routes—of this stock $1.000,000 had been subscribed before I left the

It would be possible to do this only by acquiring nearly all the stock. The incorporation articles provide that all meetings of the company each stockholder shall be entitled to one wote for each share of capital stock held or owned by him up to 5000 shares, and to one vote for each additional two shares he may hold or own."

Four Prisoners Now in Jail at Dallas, Being Record Mark.

DALLAS, Or., Sept. 15 .- (Special.) Unless would-be criminals cease to ply their trade in this county Polk bids fair to lose its enviable reputation of JUDGE TAZWELL IS CALLED having no criminals. For the first time in many years the Polk County Jail is filled to its capacity with prisoners awalting action by the grand jury which sits here in December. With the exception of 30 days about a year ago, when five bootleggers were doing time for seiling liquor contrary to the local option law, the jail has not housed over three prisoners at a time before. At present there are four prisoners, the fourth being brought in last night from Independence, charged with drawing a check on the Dallas City Bank without funds there to meet it with.

The prisoners and the crimes upon which they are being held to answer to the grand jury are as follows: Ed Magers, the Salem negro, charged with attacking Mrs. Jorgeson in West Salem with intent to committ rape; J. Into "Tip" That Gave Parasites Warning.

Someone in Mayor's Administration Said to Have Let Out News of Swoop in Preparation With Result Only Six Are Caught.

Charges that men close to the city administration "tipped off" a carefully planned raid on North End parasites, are believed to have been made to the grand jury yesterday, and that body, it is said, is hot on the trath. Application made by the jurors to Mayor Rushlight for the services of Detectives Moloney and Coleman to assist in the work, told by the executive to members of his administration, and filtering thence to persons close to the hunted ones, is given as the reason why only six men were captured where preparations had been made for rounding up 100 or more, out of the 250 that are said to operate in the city.

Many witnesses whose individuality points to their being called in relation to the parasite campaign, were before the jury yesterday. Among them were Municipal Judge Taxwell, who is sup-Municipal Judge Taxwell, who is sup-posed to have been asked for the co-operation of his court, Detectives Cole-man, Motoney and Maher, assigned to arrest the parasites, and Frank L. Perkins, a newspaper man.

Parasites Get Warning.

That an exodus of parasites took place on the eve of the round-up, is certain, just as there has been a simicertain, just as there has been a similar hegira on every occasion where the authorities have shown activity along this line. Resorts on the outskirts of the city were loaded up with North End habitues, while their haunts in the tenderioin were deserted. One

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or. Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Dr. E. C. Wilcox, director of the experiment stations in the Hawaiian Islands, passed several days recently at Corvallis, visiting the experiment station at the Oregon Agricultural College. Dr. Wilcox has lived on the Islands for saveral years.

"A volcano which affords one of the many interesting sights of the Islands, in one cruption sent a river of lava 200 feet high and almost a mile wide down toward one of the villages," said Mr. Wilcox. "The natives made petition to their Gods to stop the flow and prevent the destruction. Pinally one of the natives whose home was in peril was sent with a live pig and a bottle of whisky to cast upon the advancing flood.

"The lava cooled, the destruction was averted, and the natives gave thanks. Sometime after the man who made the sacrifice confessed that he had drank the whisky and sacrificed only the empty bottle with the pig."

Mr. Sinnott, while not discussing the plane of his employers, said that they were interested in cleaning up the dives and dens that bring disrepute on the impty bottle with the pig."

Mr. Sinnott, while not discussing the plans of his employers, said that they were interested in cleaning up the dives and dens that bring disrepute on the trade and would co-operate heartily with the police to that end.

William Bohlander, the proprieter, and a waiter were arrested by Fatroimen Gill and Wiley for serving liquor to them. It was shown that the waites had brought the liquor from an adjoining saloon, but had charged a higher price for it. The waiter asserted that he simply kept the change as a "lip." The jury disagreed last night and was discharged.

Rushlight Is Paying Political Debts by Soft Positions in Public Service.

'PULL,' NOT MERIT, COUNTS

Unsavory Joe Morak Is Rewarded by Rockpile Appointment-"Acting" Captain Kellar Is Thought Slated for Good Plum.

Payment of political debts out of the public funds continues unabated by Mayor Rushlight at the City Hall. With the confirmation of the ap-pointees as guards at the Linnton rockpile by the Executive Board yesterday afternoon, one more such obligation was canceled. Joe Morak, wno gation was canceled. Joe Morak, who worked hard in the Italian colony and otherwise during the late campaign, was among those rewarded, although he has a reputation so unsavory that the police committee in recommending him, did not so much as ask Chief of Police Slover's approval.

It was but two weeks ago that Joe Singer, credited with having delivered a ceruain vote in South Portland to Singer, credited with having delivered a certain vote in South Portland to the Rushlight forces, was provided with an easy berth at $190 a month as "additional market inspector." This position did not exist, but was created by the City Council for Singer's express benefit at the request of Mayor Rushlight, who has organized the members through his lieutenants so that he can secure any legislation he wishes.

Room Made for Singer. Room Made for Singer.

In the case of Singer, it was a farfetched coup-more so than the appointment of Morak. Mrs. Sarah A.
Evans, who has served the city as market inspector for seven years through several administrations, did not ask for any assistance; Dr. C. H.
Wheeler, health officer, had asked for none; members of the Board of Health had asked for none, but they did want had asked for none, but they did want an expert meat inspector.

The Mayor, well knowing that Singer had no qualifications for the position even of market inspector, did not have the temerity to try to place him as meat inspector. No previous intimation was given the members of the Board except the Mayor's statement that the Council had created the position of additional market inspector and he had Singer's application. Taking the tip, they at once elected him to the place and he is now drawing $100 a month.

The Mayor is just now having the the Mayer is just now having the time of his life making a place for another of his political heachmen—Joe Keller, at present a sergeant of police, but acting captain in charge of a rehef. He is drawing the full pay of a captain, Mayor Rushlight having seen to it that legislation was passed by the Counfeil authorizing the full pay of the rank to all "acting" officials. It was the plan of the administration to land Keller in a captaincy, and an examination was asked for, and granted; Keller failed, failing below others.

$200 Month Plum for Keller.

$200 Month Plum for Keller. Mayor Rushlight then tried to have the Civil Service Commission call off the Civil Service Commission call off the results and ask for a new exam-lation, but this was too raw for the Commissioners, who declined. While it had been supposed that the police de-partment needed a captain, else the administration would not have asked for an examination, not one of the successful candidates has been ap-pointed; Keller is still in command. Now, the Chief has asked for an assistant and it is believed by many that this is but the beginning of the end of a game to furnish Keller a good job at $190 a month because he "de-livered the goods" in the late livered the goods" in the late campaign.

In the recent shake-up in the police department, politics cut no small figure. While some of the changes were made by Chief Slover for the good of the service, many were reduced in rank or otherwise humiliated because they were too active against Rushlight in his campaign. Sergeant Cole, a member of the force for 20 years and never so much as under fire years and never so much as under fire before, was an anti-Rushiight man and was the first to be "discharged" by the Mayor himself for incompe-

Strong Rushlight men were in every instance given places of higher rank made vacant by the reduction of politi-cal enemies. John T. Moore, sentor cal enemies. John T. Moore, senior captain, several times acting Chief under the Simon regime and made detective captain by the Simon administration, was deposed and put back into uniform. It had never been intimated before that he was unable to "make good" in any capacity in the department.

Wheeler's Tenure Uncertain.

Mayor Rushlight has been in office only two and one-half months, but he has been making the best of his opportunities to repay those who worked for him during his campaign. Where no places existed, he has had them results for the occasion.

no places existed, he has had them created for the occasion.

That the end is not yet, is rumored in official circles, for it is believed that, with the acceptance of the new garbage crematory at Guild's Lake, the Mayor will discharge Euperintendent Napier and appoint another and more ardent supporter in his stead

It is likewise the belief that Dr. C. It is likewise the belief that Dr. C. H. Wheeler, who is serving a hold-over term as health officer, will be displaced as soon as the crematory is out of the way, and the place filled by another. There has been considerable gossip about this, as it was presumed the Mayor would hand this $250-amonth plum to some friend without so much delay. It is believed, however, that it is only the unusual condition existing with regard to the incinerater that is holding it up. It is thought the Mayor wishes to have this muddle adjusted by the men who awarded the contract, after which he will take action to install some of his political supporters.
