Bend Will Celebrate Railway Advent October 5.

EMPIRE BUILDER INVITED

James J. Hill Asked to Officiate in Ceremonies of Completion of Line-Track Laying to Be Ended This Week.

Bend is preparing to celebrate the impletion of the Oregon Trunk and Deschutes railroads into that Thursday, October 5, with a golden spike-driving ceremony in spike-driving ceremony in which James J. Hill is to officiate and to which the people of Oregon and the entire Northwest will be invited.

Traklaying south of the Crooked River now is proceeding at the rate of two miles a day. The rail gangs will be in Redmond tonight and expect to reach Bend, 20 miles south, by the end of next week.

Celebration is Arranged.

Bend people have set the date of their celebration far enough in advance to allow for possible delays in completing the line to that point. By October 5—two weeks from today—they are sure that the special trains from Portland will be able to run into that city. These likely will be the first through trains to run between Portland and Central Oregon and among the first to enter Bend.

Mr. Gray gave assurance that the road likely will be completed to Bend on the day set and premised to attend the celebration in person. An effort will be made to secure the acceptance of the invitation already telegraphed to James J. Hill and Louis W. Hill. As soon as a response is received the programme will be worked ceived the programme will be worked out and the celebration will be exten-sively advertised. If Mr. Hill will consent he will offi-If Mr. Hill will consent he will officiate at the golden spike-driving ceremony. The only possible ground that he will have for declining the invitation is that driving a golden spike may lead to the assumption that the spike marks the end of the road. It is Mr. Hill's well known ambition to extend the Oregon Trunk beyond Bend and his friends here declare that he will not be eager to appear in a capacity that may be interpreted contrary to that idea.

However, the Bend people say that they can explain this situation in a way satisfactory to Mr. Hill and they are willing to interpret the spike-driving incident as the beginning of the extension that ultimately is to reach Medford.

Medford.

As the O.-W. R. & N. line will be joined to the Oregon Trunk at Metolius for the purpose of allowing both roads to use the same tracks between Metolius and Bend, a special train likely will be operated over each road out of Portland.
