Frank Gotch Is Due in Portland About October 20.

TOUR TO BE HIS FAREWELL

Grappler Who Sent Hackenschmidt on His Way Will Give Exhibition in Army—Sheehan Put Up Great Game at Third.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT.

Portland is to be included on the itinerary of the farewell tour of the world recently announced by Frank Gotch, heavyweight champion wrestler, who fought George Hackenschmidt, the Russian, in Chicago on Labor day.

Gotch will be here along about October 20 and will visit Salt Lake City, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, Bellingham and Vancouver, B. C., according to a telegraph message received by the writer from Gotch's manager, Emil Klank, last night from Chicago, as follows:

Answering your letter, Gotch has made special request that Portland be included in his tour, as he has had friends there. We are to be included in the itinerary party. We make our last on October 17, where Gotch will wrest Demaree, the great Greek light heavyweight, who has been in the Salt Lake to Portland, making Tacoma, Seattle, Bellingham, Spokane and Vancouver his tour.

The announcement of Gotch's intended visit to Portland will be received with delight by local lovers of the grappling game. Gotch is so far superior to any other wrestler in the world that really he has a little monopoly of his own on the title. The exhibition here will probably be staged in the big Army, which will accommodate a crowd of several thousand.

Henry Ordman, the wonderful Minneapolis tussler, Fred Beal and Amereus, it is rumored, are to be three of the Gotch party, although no definite personnel has yet been announced.

Rumors of a "Doc" Holler world's tour are also being mentioned in the wings. Holler was in Portland the other day, according to several friends, and while here informed his acquaintances that he had grabbed up two bulky Hindu or Indian and expected to swing around the hemisphere with them.

Holler annexed a slice of $12,000 as his share of the Hackenschmidt imbroglio. At least this is the amount set opposite his name in the legal documents shown to her by the man who, Jack Curley in her plea for divorce, which was granted the other day, along with $15,000 of the $42,000 Curley copped off from the promoting end. Hack took the remaining $12,500. Curley's real name is Arnold Schuhl.

From time to time rumors have wasted valuable space in local papers chronicling the prediction that Manager McCredie would probably resign as manager of the Beavers. Portland third baseman, to the bench and place Rodgers at the difficult corner.

Captain Sheehan has been playing a particularly smart game at third in the past fortnight or so, and the appellation chatter sounds somewhat ill-timed. Tommy is hitting the ball and is not too bad in the field and in addition is one of the leading sacrifice slitters in the Coast circuit and stands third among Beaver run-getters, only Ryan and Ketchum ahead of him.

Granting that Rodgers is in shape and fit for battle, there still remains that insurmountable sentiment against breaking into a winning combination. The Beavers have now won seven straight games, Captain Sheehan is in good fettle, while it would take Rodgers several days at least to get into perfect trim were he to be shunted to an infield position, so the rumors have evidently not originated with McCredie.

"A big league scout," writing under that pseudonym in the Los Angeles Times, depreciates the work of "Flame" Schuhl and says that "Doc" Holler's holding of bunts will keep him from tangling with the Chicago Sox next season.

The solid fact, which the same alleged scout unburdened from the spleen chest, "Henrie Henderson is a 'groovy' pitcher and never in the big league unless he changes his style. He lays them right over and even though he holds the minor leagues to few he holds the big ones. The big ones for that is the one thing they are waiting for—a ball over the center of the plate where they can at least drive it with full power even if it does go safe."

McCredie, however, thinks he will keep Beas in the highest of terms, and Scout Jim McGuire of the Cleveland Naps (two knew so very little about pitchers that he picked up Nolan Ryan from Spokane two seasons ago) thinks three cerebral handshakes every time he recognizes in the neighborhood of a National Commission blacklist parchment.

Somebody has dalled near a cornucopia of prizes.

YESTERDAY Walter McCredie was notified that four players had been turned over to him by the Cleveland American League team. They are: Catcher Dan Howley, formerly of the Indianapolis American Association team; Walter Doane, outfielder and pitcher of New Orleans, Southern League team; Pitcher Hirsch, of the Grand Island, Nebraska League team, and Bobby Coltrin, the little shortstop of the Portland Northwestern League club. While McCredie is privileged to name any of those players this year, he announced that he would not use any of them, with the possible exception of Coltrin, until next Spring.

Dan Howley is a tall rangy catcher who has been with Indianapolis for two seasons and who belonged to the Cleveland club through purchase. Last year Chester Chadbourne was a member of the Hoosier team, and he speaks highly of Howley, "Dan Howley is a great catcher," said Chadbourne yesterday, "and if he is coming to Portland, McCredie will have a first-rate backstop. Howley is a fine receiver, a good thrower, and one of the best batting catchers in a minor league. I am surprised that Cleveland is not giving him a chance."

Agile Spraker and Roger Peckinpaugh speak in the highest of terms of Doane, the former Virginia League player, who is noted as a slugger. He was the player McCredie expected to land as a member of his pitching staff last Fall. The American League club held him up through refusing to waive so long that the Portland leader completed his pitching staff and could not use the big Virginian. Doane was then turned over to New Orleans by Cleveland, and he hit like a demon for the Southern League champions. He will be in the line of the Beaver squad at the California training grounds next Spring.

When Buddy Ryan laced the ball out of the lot yesterday afternoon he rounded out a total of 21 homers for the season in four baggers Buddy is leading the Pacific Coast League batting and likewise in the percentages. Last year "Tint" Bodie of the San Francisco club made 21 home runs in the season, but did not get out of them on the Portland lot, whereas Ryan has made seven home runs in this city this season. Buddy's binge yesterday still adds most to the way Ryan Day bene the game to be played next Monday afternoon, in which game all of his teammates will share in the proceeds.

Umpire Finney says that he does not believe a minor league club any where in the country could have beaten the Portland Beavers. He has played in Portland two weeks. Finney says that the games have been a pleasure to him because most of the plays have been clean and there has been no wrangling or unnecessary delays experienced on the diamond. The double umpire system has also been a factor in the clean games played. For the presence of two officials eliminates most of the disputes common where one official is compelled to work in closely contested games.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York 3-7, St. Louis 2-8. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—New York won the first game and St. Louis took the second of today's double-header in the farewell series between the teams.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR

TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of 75, while our mothers have white hair before they are 50. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wynn's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

Get a bottle from your druggist today. Use it and see for yourself how quickly dandruff goes and gray hairs vanish.

This preparation is offered to the public at 50 cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Owl Drug Company.

The doubles and fours have not been decided as yet, but the participants are shown in the list of entries," said Mr. Allen.

WASHINGTON ELEVEN TRAINS Forty Football Players Appear in University Tryouts. UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Wash., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The most distant end of the athletic field, Coach Dobie is putting the eleven members of the 1916 "W" football team, who returned to the college, through the physical exercise necessary to prepare them for hammering by the second team. Forty newbies turned out the other night and new names were planted, but what Dobie is looking for now more than any other one thing is a punt artist who can fill the kahki breeches of Max Eakins, the greatest punter of the University of Washington varsity, who has completed his four years of football.

Captain Wee Cole, of the varsity, is coaching for a severe illness and because of the rule of the faculty providing that all men must practice at least 30 days before entering a contest, will probably be barred from the mix with the University of Idaho early in October.

PORT CONFERENCE HELD

TILLAMOOK HARBOR INTERESTS MAY CO-OPERATE.

Bayocean Promoters Propose Scheme to Push Construction of Projected South Jetty.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—H. T. Botts, James Walton, Jr., and M. E. Leach, representing the Port of Tillamook, and Webster Holmes and George W. Willett, president and secretary of the Tillamook Commercial Club, and Fred C. Baker had a conference with Irving B. Potter and the Bayocean interests regarding bar and harbor improvements.

Mr. Potter made a proposition that as soon as the Port of Bayocean was organized it would bond the district for $100,000 and start work on the south jetty, provided that the Port of Tillamook would agree to take hold of the work after that amount was expended; also the Port of Bayocean would open the Sturgeon Channel and meet the Tillamook port at Dick's Point and to expedite the harbor improvement in the territory of the Port of Bayocean.

The proposition of the Government engineer to build a north jetty does not meet with much favor, especially as the consulting engineer has advised the Port of Tillamook not to put any money in the north jetty, which places the commissioners in an embarrassing position. The proposition of Mr. Potter to go ahead with the work, but until the suit pending against the Port of Tillamook is decided that port could not do anything, but it is thought that the three ports have a conference in the future and agree upon some line of action in getting the work started, as there is no assurance when Government aid can be obtained.

FISH LOTTERY OUTSIDE RIVER Salmon Await Weather Change Before Entering Columbia. ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—The catch of fish in the Columbia River is still exceptionally small and very little has been done since the opening week when big hauls were made. Large numbers of silverides and some Fall chinkos are reported as being about outside the mouth of the river, but they are not expected to come in until after the weather conditions change.

The success that some of the men who have been trolling outside have met with, has given rise to the belief that this class of fishing will be indulged in extensively in the future, especially during the closed seasons in the river, as the fish, which are caught three miles outside can be sold in markets, even when fishing is prohibited in state waters.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The Eugene schools have opened with a total registration for the first day of 1480. Registration is by no means complete, as many of the school children are still employed in the hopyards and prune orchards of the county. Both these crops are very much delayed this year. Total registration for the semester is expected to reach 2000.

Woods Electric Cars

Don't buy an electric car on looks alone. Looks won't keep the mechanism in condition or prevent big repair bills. Looks won't keep springs and axles from breaking and they won't prevent pneumatic tires from blowing out and causing all sorts of annoyance.

Some makers depend on looks to sell cars to women because they know women don't know anything about the machinery and construction. But the "come-back" at the end of the season proves the fallacy of "looks" and the beauty of quality.

If there is one Quality Electric in the world it is the new shaft-Driven Woods. The makers pay as much attention to looks as others do, but their first thought is quality and long life. Luxuriousness, comfort, beauty—these are matters-of-course. This is the reason why there are fifty Woods cars to every one of other makes, and why the percentage is constantly mounting higher.

The Woods is the accepted car for social uses, and whoever owns one is correct from every viewpoint.
