MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—That popular post-election puzzle, "How did it hapn?" has fascinated all Canada today. "Reciprocity was repudiated," says an vening paper, in three-inch type, with s enroon below showing an arch-angel "The Destroyer"-reciprocity with a chain of votes.

"Yesterday's victory was not a triumph for any political party," an edi-"It was won by a torial declares. patriotic conlition of Conservatives and Liberals, determined that the dream of a great imperishable Canada should not be despolled."

Annexation Fear Factor.

Another, displaying the severed heads from the eight defeated Laurier ministers, insists that the time had come for a change in government, lest the controlling party become on trenched in graft.

annexation, disagreement the government's naval and transportation policy and anxiety lest the principle of national principle be abandoned, were other causes assigned for the surprising change which gives the Borden followers a big lead in the new House.

The Borden regime will be inaugof power than is indicated by the mere statement of majority.

One Nationalist Named.

Of the 132 Conservative seats, but one is held by a Nationalist. Henri Bourassa's lurid appeal to the young hunting bear in the dense weeds and French vote of Quebec falled to secure more than typically enthusiastic applause from the people, who dearly love ponent in the district.

Stocks Are Stronger. The "parting of the ways," as synonymous with the "severance of the British ties," wrought much destruction to the Laurier forces. Canadian milling and industrial stocks were generally stronger, with ensiderable price gains in several instances. The tables showing the vote by provinces afforded interesting study for the politicians. It was noted that the Conservative gains in the maritime provinces were seven to the Governent's three. In the grain growing and the Western districts, the government increased its representation by but one, while the Opposition accured new seats. The two most populous province showed the most serious government disaffection. The Opposition won 22 to the Government's two in Ontario and 14 to four to Quebec.

Gains Are Expected.

Deferred elections in four districts are expected to result in four Conservatives gains, experience showing that under such conditions, a majority of the electorate prefer to have their Representative scated on the side of the party in power.

That Sir Wilfrid Laurier will allow no technicalities to delay the opening It is expected he will retire at the earliest moment consistent with the proper arrangement of the large affairs which have so long been under Salem Youth Then Has Hard Time to Get Clerk to Change Name After Two Hours' Search.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 21 .- (Special)-Discovering on his way to the home of the parents of his prospective bride that his marriage license contained the name of his father instead of his own Raleigh Coffey, a popular young man of this city, rushed madly through the streets last evening in hearch of the County Clerk to have the error corrected, while Miss Delma Voeski, whom he was to marry, and 40 friends, waited for two hours or more at her home.

Coffey obtained his license in the afernoon and his father, John Crittendon Coffey, acted as his witness. The clerk n making out the permit by mistake inserted the name of the father instead of that of the son. Young Coffey did not discover the error until on his way to the place where the ceremony was to be performed, when he happened to take the license from his pocket and examined it.

He rushed to the office of the County Clark, only to find it closed. A telelosed the fact that he was down town and appealing to Sheriff Minto to assist him the two set out on a search of the town. They did not find the clerk, but Miss Mabel Wellborn, deputy clerk, corrected the error and sent the young man late but happy on his way to join his bride.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 21 .- (Spe cial.)-Dr. E. C. Moore, ex-superin tendent of schools and now head of the department of education of Yale University, was accompanied by a strange traveling companion today when he departed for the East to resume his duties. His companion is a brother of Battling Nelson, the exchampion lightweight prizefighter. Under the direction of Nelson, Dr

Moore took a long course of physical exercise and boxing this flummer which resulted in greatly building him up physically. He is so enthusiastic over the experiment that he prevailed upon Nelson to accompany Yale, where the course will be continued and Dr. Moore will boost boxing as a means of getting fagged-out educators back into prime physical condition.

Dr. Moore's enthusiasm is expected to encourage physical training and help the fighting game outside of educational circles.

DAY EVENTFUL IN AIR.

Disaster lurked in skies for aviators yesterday, one being burned to death in mid-air, a second failing to his death when his biplane careened, and ontinental flight-falling 60 feet.

The third man was J. J. Ward, and the day's events so discouraged him that his withdrawal from the Const-to-Coast flight was announced. Redgers continues his flight, and Powler will resume his today.

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 22,-Forced into the air by the jeers of thousands who called him a coward, Frank Miller, 23 years old, a Toledo, Ohio, aviator, shot into the sky at twilight this evening and when 200 feet up burned to death at the Mlami County Fair at Troy, near here. Miller circled the fair grounds race track and was just starting on a spiral glide into a neighboring cornfield, when something went wrong. The craft dropped like a shot for 50 feet. A tiny blue flame was emitting from the engine and in an instant the gaso line tank exploded. The machine was wrecked, debris was hurled hundreds of feet in all directions. What remained of the aeroplane and its driver was burned almost to a crisp as they dropped rapidly to earth.

Miller had just completed a stirring light around the fairgrounds, about 200 feet from the ground, in his Curtiss biplane. As he made a final swoop toward his landing place, there was s flash and his gasoline tank exploded.

A twist of the steering wheel sent the plane up in the air and then Miller lost control and the flaming gasoline and machine dropped to the ground. Miller was dead, his machine consumed by flames.

Miller was in the employ of Charles J. Strobel, of Toledo, and had been hired especialy to make flights at the fairgrounds. He was scheduled to make three flights today as an attrac-(Concluded on Page 5.) DEMOCRATIC LEADER WHOSE ANNEXATION BUGABOO CONTRIBUTED HEAVILY TO RECIPROCITY'S

KALTAG, Alaska, Sopt. 22.-Masked men held up a car on the Iditarod Flat tramway one and a half miles from Flat City yesterday and stole a strong box containing $35,000 in gold dust, the property of three miners named Friend. Frank Lawson and Bennett James, Friend was in charge.

All the circumstances show that the robbery was carefully planned.
The robbery was committed at the head of Cottonwood Creek on the line of the Iditarod Tramway, the single transportation facility that connects iditared, the steamboat landing for this station, with Fiat City, which is seven miles distant. The tram service is supplied with small cars, the motive power of which is two mules, driven tandem, the American Bank of Alaska for shipment to the Seattle assay office. The car had been on its way from Flat City only a few minutes when two men jumped from the concealment of underbrush on Cottenwood Creek and ordered the occupants of the car to throw up their hands. The armed miners were caught completely off their guard and complied with the demand. Other voices were heard in the underbrush and the miners knew they were mpletely at the mercy of a band of highwaymen numbering they did not know how many.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 .- (Special-After striking down in a public thoroughfare a young woman whom his wife later characterized as a vam pire, who had brought ruin and desc lation upon her home, George H. Barrett, the portrait painter, prominent member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, and scion of a wealthy and aristocratic Virginia family, harvested a whirlwind of notoriety today by making a savage attack upon a photo grapher less than five minutes after he had been released on the first assault

The woman companion was described by Mrs. Barrett this afternoon in her handsome apartment at 310 West Seventy-ninth street, as Mrs. Ivon Du-mont, wife of Max Dumont, of New Orleans. Mrs. Dumont is tall, slender and beautiful. Sensational as was the first escapade in which young Barrett involved himself, he and his companion would have escaped revealing their identity had it not been for his furious attack upon the photographer, which led to his re-arrest and re-arraignment in the West Side Court.

He still fought to maintain the fic-titious identity of Edgar R. Smith, but the photograph taken of him while he was attacking the camera man led to the revelation of both his identity and the identity of the woman who allowed him to beat her in the street and still clung fondly to him. Harriman Lines Report Passenger Business Double That in 1910.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22 .- (Special.)-The first six days figures on the annual colonist business over the Harriman lines, announced by E. E. Wade, chief clerk of the passenger department of the Southern Pacific today, show an astonishing increase in this year's business.

By way of Portland the business jumped from 14 passengers last year to 198 this year; by Los Angeles, 43 to 109; by El Paso from 489 to 1341, while the Ogden route shows a total for the six days of 1911, as against 1275 last

The total business for the six days shows an increase of from 1821 for the week of the season of 1910 to 3592 for the same period this year. The business is heavily on the increase and at the present rate will surpass that of 1910 by more than two to one. The railroad officials also note an improvement in the nature of this immigration, inasmuch as colonists now come with more definite notions of what the Pacific Coast is like and how they will settle down to make a living and add to the productive industry of the state.

NEW YORK, Sept. 32 .- (Special.) Dainty little Emma Trentini, the prima donna, is to marry Enrico Caruso, it was reported today. When and where the ceremony is to take place was not stated, although it was hinted that it will take place near New York and be

Mme. Trentini will come to this country under her contract with Oscar Hammerstein and Caruso will shortly follow, being due to arrive here in the early part of November. It is said that the marriage will probably take place shortly after his arrival. Caruso, it is said, is already outlin-

Chief of Police Slover Appeals for 75 More Policemen and Autos. Street-Cleaning Require Big Sack-Other Cost Great.

The fire department heads the list with a plea for $725,000; the police come next, asking for $550,000; the City Engineer's department and repair fund is placed at $500,000; streetcleaning and sprinkling needs $300,000; the bonded interest fund is $280,000. and the park department asks $150,000. Numerous smaller departments bring the total up to the highest figures ever submitted While the larger departments are asking for big sums, as a rule, the smaller ones are asking but little, if any, more than allotted them last year for this year's use. The departments enumerated above require the major portion of the huge aggregate, all of which must be raised by a direct tax levy.

Trimming Is Necessary. Unless there is an unmerciful wieldng of the pruning knife, taxpayers will have reason to sit up and take notice. Mayor Rushlight and members of the Council will have a most difficult task to determine just how much partment. It is certain that, in some manner, the budget will have to be trimmed, unless the administration wishes to go on record as levying the highest city tax on record, on the ground that all of the expenditures contemplated are absolutely necessary to the efficient operation and care of the various branches of the municipality. List Closes September 30.

Estimates of the department heads are required this year by the Mayor to be filed with the City Auditor not later than September 30. They are not all officially complete at this time, but they are substantially so, and the indications are that they will furnish the administration the most difficult task it has yet faced. The action to be taken affects every property owner in the city and the progress of the ways and means committee, when it gets into action on the budget, will be watched with profound interest. The estimates of smaller departments are: City Hall, $20,000; garbage crematory, $31,000; pound, $7000; Civil Service Commission, $3000; City Attorney, $20,000; plumbing, $15,000; Mayor's office, $6200; Treasurer, $18 .-700; health office, $31,000; sealer of weights and measures, $5000; Auditor, $45,000; building inspector, $40,000,

Fire Fund Is Large. Acting Fire Chief Laudenklos' estimate covers the operation of the department as it stands; calls for seven new, modern angine-houses, equipment for these, including full companies, an angine each and auto combination hose and chemical carts; an automobile truck for Truck Company No. 1, at Fourth and Yambill streets, and two automobiles to complete the equipment for the battalion chiefs. Other items swell the total to $725,000 for the year. It is in this department that, heretofore, a good deal of pruning has been done, and it is probable it will not get through this year without it. Acting Chief of Police Slover recommends the addition of 75 more patrolmen, eight patrol sergeants and seven detective sergeants, aside from an automobile and miner improvements, all aside from the proposed new police administration building, for which a bond issue of $200,000 was voted at the last city election.

75 More Patrolmen Asked. "I think," said Chief Slover yester-day, "that the city stands in urgent need of 75 more patrolmen, eight patrol sergeants and seven detective sergeants. There is one thing which I very greatly wish to see made possible and that is the proper policing of the waterfront. I want to put on three shifts of six men each there and I want another engineer for the patrol
