

"BOEN" HIS DEAR OF SOUTH AMERICA

Provision Merchant Conducts Personal Investigation in "Manana Land."

OPPORTUNITIES ARE THERE

A. H. Devers Tours Continent, Smokes Cigars in Bahia, Drinks Coffee in Rio, Gets Fever in Peru and Admires Scenery.

After a four months' trip through South Africa on a general inspection of the coffee districts, A. H. Devers of Portland, returned Sunday telling interesting experiences and reporting business conditions good in South America. The trip included visits to various parts of Brazil, Chile, Peru and other countries where scenic attractions and business enterprises are found of interest to American merchants. Mr. Devers reported the trip to have been a most wonderful one to him.

He left New York May 20 on the steamer Yasari and sailed direct to Bahia, Brazil. He went through the large tobacco factories and sampled cigars and other manufactured tobacco for which the district is noted.

"Progress has not touched the docks of Bahia," said Mr. Devers yesterday. "The city is quiet and ancient in appearance and the docks are still crude. Rio's scenery magnificent.

"At Rio de Janeiro I found magnificent scenery. The city is well supplied with beautiful avenues and is, undoubtedly, one of the cleanest and most sanitary cities in the world. If there were any dirt or unsanitary conditions a ride or walk through the streets did not reveal it. I took a trip to the Corcovada and Tijuca Mountains and saw some magnificent tropical scenery.

"From Rio I went to Santos, the great coffee center of Brazil. From Santos is shipped 40 per cent of the coffee of Brazil and Brazil furnishes 30 per cent of the coffee of the world. The docks there are fine and are up-to-date in every particular. They are of steel and concrete. The warehouses along the docks are of steel. I went back into the coffee-growing districts and studied the system of picking, curing and salting the berries and was very greatly pleased with all I saw. I believe one of the best railroads in the world is the Sao Paulo line which runs along the rivers and through the mountains. Vast sums are expended in perfecting road bed and in other improvements.

"B. A. Great City. "From Santos I went to Buenos Aires which is the largest city in South America. There I found the first really good hotel I struck on the trip. The streets of the city are copied from Paris and the general appearance is imposing. Beautiful public buildings are found in large numbers. A very nice city in Buenos Aires is its horse racing. Two tracks are run by the municipality and everybody attends, even on Sunday. The profits of the betting go to the government.

"From Buenos Aires I went across the mountains on the Trans-Andean railroad to Valparaiso and nearly froze to death en route. The cars are narrow and cold. Valparaiso is a rather unattractive city, but a very nice residential place. The result of the earthquake can still be seen on the streets.

"The next stop was at Callao, the port of Lima. The city is very attractive, but, unfortunately, we got there at a bad time. It was during the Peruvian national holidays and the most heart-rendering music in the world made the stop rather uncomfortable. It was made more so by mountain fever which was contracted on a trip into the mountains. In a few hours' travel we reached an elevation of 14,000 feet. Bananas were growing as high as 5000 feet and good pasturage could be found up to 12,000 feet.

"Business Writing, He Says. "After considerable time in that district I went to Panama and after looking over the big canal returned to New Orleans and thence to Philadelphia, where I remained a short time before coming on to Portland.

"In a business way South America is prospering. The only fault I have to find is the American merchants are not taking advantage of the opportunities. The South Americans are extremely friendly with Americans and it would be an easy matter for American merchants to get busy in the South. In Brazil and other countries there is a noticeable lack of competition and the business can be had by America. If the business men will go after it.

NORTH END CASES FAIL

So Far Women Hailed Escape Conviction in Police Court.

Flat failure of the police to obtain convictions in the score of cases now pending, growing out of raids made in the underworld in the last ten days, is indicated by the trend of events in the Municipal Court up to the present. No convictions have yet been obtained, while several dismissals have been granted, and the bulk of the cases are held under advisement.

Several causes contribute to the condition which exists. One is the fact that the defendants of underworld have been lying low, either at their own initiative or on a tip. Overt acts reported by the policemen who made the raids were very few and the city attempted to obtain convictions simply on the fame of the houses and the appearance of the women themselves. Frank admission of the defending attorneys of the character of their clients was made in many cases, but back of it was a demand for the showing of overt acts, and in most instances the city was not able to comply.

Trials will be held this afternoon and perhaps tonight, and by then the court hopes to have all the cases under advisement, and to give a decision on all of them.

Y. W. C. A. HOST FOR WEEK

Series of Teas to Be Given to Introduce New Instructors.

To introduce the new general secretary, Miss Lina Ballis James, and the new instructors in the various departments, a series of teas will be given at the Young Women's Christian Association this week. As the space is limited for the first introduction, the Oregon Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the Junior League, as well as the P. E. O. sisterhood, have

Miss James, being a member of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, the board of directors grouped the colleges for the first day, but announces that anyone interested is welcome.

A reception every day will be followed by formal addresses and refreshments will be served in the dining-room, where Mrs. H. W. Corbett and Mrs. F. M. Warren will serve Tuesday. Wednesday, with Mrs. Robert Livingstone and Mrs. Robert Lewis in the dining-room.

Thursday afternoon, older students of the public and private schools here will be greeted. In the dining-room will be Mrs. Charles Bacey and Mrs. John A. Bell.

All the business girls have been bidden Friday evening, when Mrs. James F. Felling and Mrs. A. H. Tanner will preside at the table. Mrs. F. M. Deering will be in charge in the dining-room every day.

The new teachers to be greeted are Miss Faxon LaMont, the domestic general secretary, Miss Marjorie Lewis, of the domestic arts department.

Miss Ethel Elder, the extension secretary, Billings, Mont., will not be here until early in October, and the elocution and art teachers have not been announced yet, so these departments will be introduced until the next series of teas.

SALOON CASES WAIT

REVOCATION OF NORTH END PERMITS TOPIC LATER.

Plan to Oust Notorious Franchise Owners Deferred Awaiting Action by Maguire, Father of Move.

Postponement was the order yesterday afternoon, when Councilman Maguire's proposed ordinance to revoke a number of North End saloon licenses came up before the liquor license committee of the Council. Councilman Menefee criticized Mr. Maguire for being absent after having filed a motion yesterday afternoon against alleged notorious resorts, but the committee finally voted to await further action by Mr. Maguire before deciding the cases.

Mr. Maguire has filed ordinances to revoke the licenses of several establishments of unenviable reputation, nearly all of which figured prominently in the recent allegations of graft before the County Court. He says he has evidence that the proprietors are unfit to hold the right to operate saloons in the North End. One of the most notorious proprietors in the North End, wants to transfer his license to E. Hartzell, but the committee yesterday afternoon voted to postpone action on this for two weeks. Minto is under fire and the question is as to whether his license, if revoked, shall be transferred to another.

J. K. Ziegler made verbal objection to the establishment of a saloon in the old Holladay House, at Adams street and Holladay avenue. He was backed by a remonstrance, liberally signed. He said the residents of the neighborhood were afraid that the transfer of the license from the North End to the new place meant the beginning of a movement to move the trade of the notorious district to the East Side, and therefore entered strenuous objection.

The debate on the ordinance, the provisions of which will make it obligatory upon the licensee to reside in the neighborhood where it is proposed to transfer any saloon license, so that the residents will have an opportunity to be heard, is a feature of the day. As in the case where Mr. Ziegler and others were objecting, licenses are transferred without the knowledge or consent of the present licensee.

The protests of Mr. Ziegler and others were filed by the committee, as the saloon had already been established on the Holladay House.

GROCERS TO HOLD SOCIAL

Portland Dealers Will Have Jollification Tonight.

A general jollification will be held tonight by the grocers of the city at the Women of the World Hall, 115 Eleventh street. Preparations are being made to entertain at least 500 persons.

The social is being promoted by the Retail Grocers' Association, but that fact, the committee announces, does not exclude any and every grocer in the city from attending. In fact, special efforts will be made to bring to the gathering and to entertain non-association grocers. The social is in the hands of a committee consisting of J. N. Roberts, chairman; E. W. Melatorf; F. W. Funk; A. Keller, and L. R. Merrick. This social is to be the first annual entertainment of the grocers of the city.

LAFFERTY IS BACK HOME

Representative to Rest at Seaside and May Visit Central Oregon.

A. W. Lafferty, Representative from the Second Congressional District, returned last night from Washington, D. C., where he has been since the opening of his term, March 4. Returning from the National Capital he stopped off at St. Louis and made a side journey down to Donora, Ark., to discuss legislation affecting Oregon with Representative Robinson, chairman of the House committee on public lands.

Mr. Lafferty intends to spend a vacation of a few days at Seaside, and if he can spare the time will join the excursion through Central Oregon to Burns next week to acquaint himself with the needs of that section.

Mr. Lafferty is constructing a home for his father and mother in West morland. The house is about ready to move into and he will make his headquarters there until time to return to Washington for the regular session of Congress early in December.

BACK COVERED WITH MASS OF PIMPLES

Burned and Itched So He Could Hardly Stand It. Tried Medicines, Etc., Nearly 3 Years. In Eternal Misery. Started Using Cuticura Remedies. Now Has No Sign of Skin Disease.

"My troubles began along in the summer in the hottest weather and took the form of small eruptions and itching and a kind of smarting pain. It took me mostly all over my back and kept getting worse until finally my back was covered with a mass of pimples which would burn and itch at night so that I could hardly stand it. This condition kept getting worse and worse until my back was a solid mass of big sores which would break open and run. My underclothing would be a clot of blood.

"I tried various blood medicines and other remedies and salves for nearly three years and I was not getting any benefit. It seemed I was in eternal misery and could not sleep on my back or lean back on a chair. Finally given a set of the Cuticura Remedies by my brother who recommended them to me very highly. I started using the Cuticura Remedies and inside of two weeks I could see and feel a great relief. I kept on using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and also the Resolvent, and in about three or four months' time my back was nearly cured and I felt like a new being. Now I am in good health and no sign of any skin disease and I am fully satisfied that Cuticura Remedies are the best ever for skin diseases. I will always recommend them to anybody who will use according to directions. I would not be without them." (Signed) W. A. Armstrong, Corbin, Kan., May 26, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp of infants, children and adults. Although sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 25-p. book on the skin, will be sent free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 27A, Boston.

And you will find that there are several pliers of men to do all of the work, too."

TAG DAY IS ARRANGED

OCTOBER 7 IS SET ASIDE FOR LOUISE HOME.

Charitable Aim to Raise $10,000 for Institution for Girls to Build Larger Place.

With a new and more commodious Louise Home for their ultimate aim and $10,000 the immediate necessity, plans for the Louise Home Tag day, to be held October 7, are systematized. Prominent women, well known for their philanthropy, have lent their names to the work, circle presidents of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Multnomah County are appointing committees from their ranks to assist and many individual workers are daily pledging themselves to sell tags on the day appointed.

The old home at 378 Cable street has for some time been inadequate. At present 18 girls are cared for and several more are on the waiting list. An option has been obtained on a two-acre tract in a Portland suburb and it is proposed to erect a building to accommodate 25-room house with three wards, maternity, delinquent and infectious. In addition there will be a commodious nursery and chapel.

Several church societies have signified their desire to furnish a room in the new home and the church union at Tillamook has volunteered to do for a similar purpose. The work is state-wide, no girl being refused admittance so long as there is room for her and she is in need of care.

Work is obtained for them and a watchful interest maintained in any girl who has ever been a resident of the home. If a girl loses a position she is permitted to return to the home and remain until she obtains another. Just now there are five girls with babies who, thus handicapped, are trying to find work that will support them.

In speaking of the work Superintendent W. G. McLaren said, "We aim not only to be a home, but a mother, a big sister and a father to these unfortunate ones."

The work has the indorsement of the Young Women's Christian Association, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Ministerial Association, physicians, the Mayor and the Chief of Police.

The committee in charge of the funds for the new home is: Samuel Connell, Rev. W. H. Myers, J. D. Nelson, Roscoe P. Hurst and Councilman McGuire.

Ross Land Case Argued.

Arguments to a demurrer against the indictment charging J. Thorburn Ross with conspiracy to defraud the Government of desert land near Irrigon, were heard by Federal Judge Bean yesterday. The lands involved are in Umatilla and Morrow counties. About 4500 acres are included in the indictment.

Pennsylvania Officials Coming.

Passenger officials of the Pennsylvania lines will be in Portland October 19, according to advices received by F. N. Kolloch, agent in this city, yesterday. The party will travel in a private car and will include Samuel Moody, passenger traffic manager; C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent; and G. G. Belshover, special agent of the passenger department at Chicago. One of the objects of their visit is the inspection of the Portland situation to find a new location for their passenger and freight office in Portland. The business of the city has increased so that the present quarters in the Falling building are crowded.

WASCO COUNTY DEMOCRAT SAYS THAT RAILROAD MAN WOULD BE JUST PERSON FOR PLACE.

Although James J. Hill, the Empire Builder, probably is too busy directing his railroad interests seriously to consider becoming a candidate for President of the United States at this time, he has at least one admirer in Oregon who would like to see him installed in the White House in 1912. That man is Frank A. Seufert, the well known Columbia River salmon packer, of The Dalles. Incidentally, Mr. Seufert is the Wasco County member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Mr. Seufert was conversing with a group of friends in the Imperial Hotel lobby last night when the subject of politics was introduced. This suggested a discussion of the probable choice of the Democrats as their nominee for President.

"That reminds me," began Mr. Seufert, "that only recently I was requested by the chairman of our state committee to advise him of the apparent choice of the Wasco County Democrats for President."

"Suppose you named Wilson?" interrupted one of the group.

"No."

"Was it Harmon?" inquired another.

"No."

"Perhaps it was Gaynor," ventured another.

"No, again," replied the Wasco County member.

UPROAR AT OPERA

Rush for Seats Causes Yiddish Lady Trouble.

Manager George L. Baker and his corps of assistants underwent an experience last night, during which the Councilman-at-Large and director of theatrical enterprises learned something about the trials and tribulations of an immigrant inspector. The playhouse was rented for the production of a Yiddish opera given in the native tongue. Received nothing but a crowd into the big playhouse many made for the best seats in sight regardless of others.

While confusion was at its height, there arose from the balcony a sudden piercing scream. Mounting the stairs three at a time, Manager Baker saw a large woman, who appeared to be standing on a seat, waving her arms wildly and screaming at the top of her voice. The audience started a rush for her and for a moment a panic seemed inevitable. Tearing his way through the crowd, Mr. Baker discovered that, in climbing toward a vacant seat down in front (her check called for a seat in the extreme rear), the large woman had caught her foot between two chairs so tightly that she could not get it out.

"I don't know what she was shouting," said Manager Baker afterward, "but the crowd evidently got the impression that she was caught in a trap, and they were on the verge of tearing the house to pieces. I had to threaten several of the wilder ones before I could restore order. It took 15 minutes' work with the assistance of a stage mechanic to get the woman free. Two seats were taken apart."

Many persons not knowing the nature of the entertainment had bought tickets, and as they did not understand the show began to get out. Some of them came to the box office and wanted their money back, and in all such cases Manager Baker insisted upon the price of the tickets being refunded to the claimants and the management of the company who had rented the house for the occasion consented.

"It was very exciting," said Manager Baker, "but for the good of my regular patrons who do not understand Yiddish, I do not think I care to repeat the experience."

The regular season of road attractions will open at the Baker road Sunday, the first being Cohen & Harrie's New York Gaiety Theater success, "The House Next Door."

Eighteen Feet of Garden Loam

IN Northern California there are many large ranches, some twelve miles square, others for fertility of soil, others for climate.

The famous Bidwell ranch at Chico, Butte County, has all these things and many more.

It is proved by what it has produced and by what you can see growing there today.

It has 18 feet of garden loam, tillable every day in the year.

Water by underlying channels giving an inexhaustible supply of moisture.

There are orchards of trees in full bearing plums, apricots, almonds, olives and nectarines.

There are splendid vineyards of table grapes and wine grapes.

There are all kinds of berries and small fruits.
