TAFT GAILY SKIPS THROUGH KANSAS

President Explains His Tariff Vetoes at 11 Towns of Insurgent State.

DAY IS "HURRY-UP" AFFAIR

Welcomed by Larges Crowds of His Entire Trip, Crosses Into Missouri, Tired Out but Delighted.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25 .- Pres-Ment Taft passed a hurry-up day in southeastern Kansas, making ad-iresses at I little towns. The Presi-tent was tired but happy over the warmth of the reception the Kansans had given him when he reached Kan-

The crowds were the largest the President has faced on his trip.
Mr. Taft spoke principally on the senses of the wool, free list and cotton lariff bills. He gave his hearers to understand that he was more than willing to sign any bills reducing the tariff board. This board, the President said, would be ready to report on the woolen schedule December 1. His statement on this point set at rest the report that there would be delay.
"I believe that the present wool "I believe that the present woo duffes are too high," he exclaimes amid applause, "and just as soon as got adequate information, I shall recommend their reduction."

Functon's Town Greeted. Mr. Taft began the day at Coffey-ille and spoke also at Independence herryvale, Thayer, Chanute, Hum-oldt, Iola, Garnett, Ottawa, Edgerton and Olathe.

The President appeared on the back platform and waved to the station throngs at Carlisle, the home of General Frederick Function; Colony and several small towns. He was "on the go" from 7:30 until the arrival here at 6:30 tonight.

Aside from his tariff speeches the President spoke briefly on marriage and divorce, on the prosperity of the people of Kansas, and on the trusts. In coming to a discussion of the necessity for laws governing marriage and divorce, the President first spoke of the necessity of uniform laws on the subject of child labor and workmen's compensation.

Harder Divorces Sought.

As to marriage and diverce, he said: "It is very awkward, to say the least, that a man who is married on one side of a state line may not be married on the other. The increase of divorces in this country is a reflection upon the laws and their loose administration. We ought not to permit the marriage tie to be dissolved at will.

At Coffeyville the President was met by an escent of 200 horsemen, uni-formed slike in blue cambric shirts, khaki trousers and peaked buts. They were the representative business and professional men of the city. The Fresident spoke at the plaza in Coffey-ville, on the site or the bank that was held up by the notorious Dalton brothers many years ago. In the Presi-dent's escort was Jack Klochr, a de-termined-looking man, with curiy black hair and a drooping black moustache. He killed two of the Dalton boys in the round-up that followed their isst escapade.

Following his conservation address here tonight, the President left again for Kansas and will pass Tuesday and Wednesday in that state.

UCHIDA REGRETS TO GO

Japanese ex-Ambassador Has Kindly Feeling Toward America.

SEATTLE, Wash, Sept. 25.—Viscount Yassaya Uchida, the retiring Japanese Ambassador to the United States, and who is on his way home to become Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Salesii Cabinet, arrived here today, accompanied by his wife and suite. This afterneon he was the guest of the Japanese Consul at a luncheon attended by 40 Japanese and American citizens. Later he was shown about the city in an automobile. During his stay here the Ambassador is the guest of the Chamber of Commerce. SHATTLE, Wash, Sept. 25 .- Viscount the Chamber of Commerce In his address at the luncheon Vis-count Uchida expressed his regret at leaving the United States on account leaving the United States on account of the pleasant relations at Washington between the governments of Japan and America. "However," he added, I find consolation in the fact that in my new post as Minister for Foreign Affairs I shall be able to further strongthen the aiready cordial relations between the two governments, toward which end I assure you I shall do my best.

This arch-conspirator sent a gentle shower and 200 delegates from the Southern Oregon district, led by John F. Treat, imperial potentate in an automobile, flied through a line of 1500 people protected by umbrellas and raincoats, and after a hanquet and a theater party sent 20 candidates over the "hot sanda."

In the middle of the procession the candidates, in grotosque costumes, bedrangled and forlorn, sat astride a giant telegraph pole, which was drawn by a traction engine, propelled by a man in a red fex. Bringing up the rear was a wheeled waghn, in which languished the city officials, Mayor Canon, Chief of Police Hitsoh, the City Council, City Attorney Neft and all the police force but one, while a lurid hannar on the side announced that they all should be recalled.

Sweetheart of Her Girlhood Days Comes Back After Forty-Five Years.

SHE WILL BE WIFE NO. 4

Parted by Stern Parents Long Time Ago, Couple Will Now Be Married-Interrupted Romance of Old Brooklyn Renewed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 .- (Special)-For 45 years Miss Emma Smith, a sweet-faced, gray-haired spinister who lives at 177 Sheffield street, Brooklyn, has waited for George Meyer, the sweetheart of her girlhood, to return and marry her. The other day he called upon her. He is 72 years old, well preserved and a retired fron dealer. And they are to be married, although they decline to say when. When Miss Smith was 18 and Meyer was 27 years, back in the old days in Brooklyn, Meyer wooed her and they were engaged to be married. Her parents objected, Meyer left Brooklyn, and the couple drifted apart.

Meyer married. In fact, he married three times. His third wife died about two years ago. Meyer, comfortably has waited for George Meyer, the Betting remains two to one on Reigh to win at the primaries.

Statements made by the two leading Mayorsity candidates follow:

By James Reigh, Jr.—The campaign is closed. I did my best to make this campaign successful and I will have the satisfaction of knowing that I have reached the high office by fair means—not by villifying my adversaries, but by giving every voter a chance to see me, to know my views, and then to decide for himself whether I am the man San Francisco needs for her next Mayor. The matter is now in the people's hands. I believe that my fellow-citizens will decide tomorrow by an overwhelming vote that I am to serve the city as Mayor during the four momentous years now lying three times. His third wife died about two years ago. Meyer, comfortably fixed from the profits of his business, was lonely after a period as widower and his thoughts went back to Emma Smith. He went to an old address in Brooklyn in search of her. She had moved, but he kept up the search and finally found her.

Return Is Awaited.

In the meantime Miss Smith's affec-tions had been preserved for him. She has apurned the courtship of other men. "I knew you would come," she said to Meyer. Miss Smith talked freely of her romances.

"We are both very happy," she said,
"because the love we had for each other so many years ago has been rekindled. Love will revive our youthful days so that we can live our lives over again. It has been a long wait, but now that we are to be married it is the future I believe in looking to and not the past.

Affairs I shall be able to further strongthen the already cordial relations between the two governments, toward which end I assure you I shall do my best.

"I leave this country with every difference between the nations settled and I feel that no question can arise, which may not be settled amicably and diplomatically. The traditional policy of frienship I shall support with all my heart."

State I believe in looking to and not the past.

"Neither of us is young, but age has nothing to do with love, and our union will not suffer from the long delay. I can forget all the years now because I am so happy. I feel as if it was the original engagement, with this difference—that there is no one to object to our marriage now, for we have outlived all who did."

Man Not So Talkative.

Man Not so Talkative.

Mr. Meyer, while apparently just as happy as Miss Smith, was not so willing to talk. He could not see why the public should be interested in his approaching wedding.

"I am still young," he asserted—and he looked it—"and if I want to take a fourth marriage trip there's no reason why I shouldn't CHICAGO, Sept. 25 .- (Special.) -Be fore the end of the week, it is expect ed, President Lovett, of the Harriman system of railroads, will announce changes in the duties and titles of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific system officials which will involve practically all of the more important officers. Mr. Lovett declined today in New

Mr. Lovett declined today in New York to discuss the various rumors that he intends to retire from the presidency of the Harriman systems in favor of Julius Kruttschnitt.

It is known that Judge Lovett's dutles are very onerous and this, together with the fact that he is not an experienced railroad man, has given rise to a belief that he may relinquish the presidency of that system. In that event his logical successor would be Kruttschnitt. Such a change prohably would involve the transfer of operating headquarters from Chicago to New York.

A meeting of the board is to be held

New York.

A meeting of the board is to be held in New York Wednesday and something is expected as a result of it. Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, now is in New York and J. C. Stubbs, vice-president and director of traffic, will leave Chicago in time for attendance.

Whatever change may be made in the title of President Lovett, it is expected there will be no lessening of his authority if he remains with the Harriman lines.

onices, of which 174 are seeking to be nominated for supervisor in the finals. There will be but 36 supervisors nominees so it is believed certain that no supervisorial candidate can be elected at the primary. The office is for a four-year term and pays $200 a month. The board elected will be the world's fair board, a great honor in itself.

To Properly Treat Obstinate Wrinkles
