

KANSAS FOLK BID FAREWELL TO TAFT

President Leaves State for Iowa After Satisfactory Three-Day Visit.

22 ADDRESSES ARE MADE

At Topeka, Where He Is Greeted by Enthusiastic Crowd of 40,000, Executive Again Discusses Tariff and His Veto.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Sept. 27.—President Taft ended his four days' visit to Kansas here tonight and departed for Iowa, where he will pass two days before again heading for the Far West. Today Mr. Taft visited Topeka, Atchison and Leavenworth, making brief rear platform speeches en route.

Mr. Taft traveled 845 miles in Kansas and made 22 formal speeches. He wound up here with a discussion of the tariff in which he again explained his vetoes and again asserted his willingness to sign any tariff bill based on the forthcoming report of the tariff board.

Mr. Taft expressed himself today as delighted with his reception in Kansas. The crowds that turned out to greet him again took rank as the largest he has met on any of his various trips through the country. The climax was reached at Topeka, where this morning Mr. Taft faced a throng in the capital plaza estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000 persons.

In order that all might see him, the President mounted a table. "I am sincerely grateful to the people of Kansas," said the President, "not only for the warm welcome they extended to me as President of the United States, but for the kindly attention they gave to what I said. I found the intelligent men and women of Kansas looking prosperous, happy and contented, and I congratulate them."

The President was surrounded today by Kansas politicians of both Republican factions. Governor Stubbs, said to be out for the Iowa now worn by Senator Charles Curtis, was in earnest conversation with the latter. Senator Bristow, who at Hutchinson yesterday served notice on Mr. Taft that the party war was far from over, continued as the President's guest today.

At Topeka the President laid the cornerstone of the memorial building to the Grand Army of the Republic, and the presence of so many old soldiers in his audience later at the capital plaza led Mr. Taft into a discussion of peace and another appeal for popular support of the arbitration treaties recently negotiated with Great Britain and France.

Following the President's speech, Senator Curtis came out in a statement favoring the ratification of the compact. He is the third Senator publicly to pledge support to the President on the treaties since Mr. Taft's trip began.

Mr. Taft made his tariff address in the open air and then motored to Fort Leavenworth, where he briefly addressed officers attending the Army service school and then visited the Soldiers' Home. In his address to the army officers, Mr. Taft advocated the idea of a skeleton army, made up largely of skilled officers who would devote themselves to the training of the militia.

The President said he believed that under this system a competent army could be called into the field almost at a moment's notice and that on a peace footing the establishment would be most economical.

At Atchison, the President went picnicking as the guest of Ballo Waggoner, general counsel for the Missouri Pacific Railway in Kansas and Missouri, who each year gives an outing for the children of Eastern Kansas.

LAD PLEADS TO SEE MAMMA

Parent in Jail; Youngster May Become Blind Before Realization.

Wearing a pair of dark glasses over his sore eyes, Frank More, aged 7 years, appealed to Patrolman Welch last night, requesting the officer to let him see his mother.

"Please, mister, won't you let me see my mother?" said the youngster, giving her name as Leona Waltzer, and saying that she was confined in the City Jail.

On investigation Patrolman Welch found that the little chap's mother had been charged with larceny September 14 and booked at the police station as Leona Todd. With Nellie Smith, proprietress of a shooting gallery at Third and Gilliam streets, Leona Todd is said to have worked a "knockout" system by which men, enticed into the shooting gallery, were given drugged liquor and turned over to Leona Todd to rob. Leona Todd was arrested at 44 Everett street "about" five days on the municipal rockpile for selling liquor without a license. His eyes have been undergoing care for some time and it is feared that before he gains permission to see his mother he may become blind.

SETTLERS FIGHT FOR LAND

Lumber Company Imports Gunmen to Keep Rich Timber.

URIAH, Cal., Sept. 27.—Struggles between settlers and the L. E. E. Crane Lumber Company for possession of rich timber lands along Alder Creek reached a crisis today, when H. S. Warren, a settler, was driven off a claim. Warren's cabin was rased and he was warned not to come back.

The settlers, who already have petitioned Secretary of the Interior Fish, admit that they await with fear the next move of gun men imported into the territory. Efforts to persuade women to leave the clearings and let their husbands fight it out alone have proved futile.

Officials of the lumber company maintain that the disputed land belongs to them, and that they have paid for all of it from one to three times.

SEVERE ITCHING AND BURNING ALL OVER

Scalp, Body, Hands, Limbs Covered with Scales, Could Not Stand Torture, Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

"About three years ago I was attacked with a very severe itching and burning all over my body and finally my skin broke until my body looked like a piece of raw meat. I did believe that I could not stand the torture any longer, while all the time I was using the salve and the wash ordered by my physician without relief. Then I was advised to go to a doctor and he told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment with no better results. My body was covered with large white scales, with scales on my hands, arms and lower limbs. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my scalp was covered with scales which looked like dandruff but became worse each day until at the end of another week the scales were as large as on a fish. The itch in my head was unbearable. My hair was coming out in clumps until it looked so bad I was ashamed to go on the street."

"I used Cuticura Soap for a shampoo but it took no effect. At the end of three weeks the back of my head was completely bald. I was so miserable I decided to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment on my body. After taking six baths in hot water with plenty of Cuticura Soap, and using three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Pills, I was cured. My hair has grown more than an inch in length."

"Before using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment I lost all of my finger nails and my hands were so sore I could not put them in water. If I had tried them sooner I would have saved a few hundred dollars." (Signed) Mrs. R. L. Edlefsen, 621 Rockerbeck Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 24, 1911.

'FAKE' NAMES ARE USED

MEN LONG DEAD ARE LISTED ON THE DALLES PETITION.

98 Signatures on Anti-University Document Picked as False. Streets Mentioned Not in City.

THE DALLES, Or., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Evidence that fraud has been resorted to in the attempt to defeat the appropriations made by the last Legislature for the University of Oregon, has been discovered here. A representative of the state educational institution was in the city today. He had a photographic copy of one of the referendum petitions, supposed to contain the names of 100 citizens of the Dalles, who want the appropriation bill passed by the Legislature, referred to a vote of the people. He submitted the list of names to several prominent business men, and a careful investigation, with the aid of city directories, developed the fact that only two men whose names appear on the petition ever lived in this city, and both are now dead.

The names of J. W. French and Hugh Gourlay are on the paper. Mr. French, a prominent banker, died four years ago. Mr. Gourlay died in 1902. None of the business men to whom the petition was submitted ever heard of any of the other 98 alleged residents of the Dalles whose names the paper contains. Further evidence of fraud is shown by the names of streets which are set opposite the signatures. Several addresses are given as "Thirty-fourth" and "Forty-fifth" streets. The numerically named streets here do not run higher than Seventeenth.
