ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION SCUM.—One louse heard may cost the Portland Athletic Association, otherwise known as "The McCredies," $243, if Mrs. E. J.

Doane wins a suit filed by her in Justice Court yesterday. The sum is demanded for arrears, including loss of time, and doctor's bills alleged to have been sustained by the complainant stopping through a hole in the grandstand. The accident happened on July 28. Mrs. Doane says that while a "guest" of the club, and on her way to her seat in the grandstand, she stepped upon a decayed board, which broke under her weight, causing her to fall and suffer injuries which inspired her for work for two weeks. She asks for $200 for mental anguish and $24 for expenses.

HASBAM WANTED FOR UMATILLA AVENUE.

A movement has been started for the improvement of Umatilla avenue, between East Fifteenth street and Grand avenue, in Sellwood, with Hasbam pavement, except at the intersection of East Thirtieth street and Umatilla avenue, where are the double tracks of the street railway company, which are to be paved with stone blocks. The cost is estimated at $24-721. It is planned also to have surface pavements on East Thirtieth street and Spokane avenue. East Thirwood and Spokane avenue extends to the Sellwood ferry.

SELLWOOD BOND SCHEMERS.—Secretary

Commercial Club, said yesterday that the $4000 bonds authorized by the club, have been printed and are under investigation by an attorney. The bonds have been subscribed for and will be turned over next month. They were issued to cover all indebtedness and were taken by members of the club.
They run for ten years and bear 6 per cent interest.

ALASKA CLUB TO AID LIBRARY.—The North Alstina Improvement Association has taken up the subject of increasing the circulation of the North Alstina branch library, as an inducement to obtain a permanent library building, the same as provided for Central East Portland and Alstina each of which will cost $15,000. Canvass of the district will be made to encourage a more general circulation of the books kept at the branch.

of $40 for the best general agricultural and horticultural exhibit and Evening Star Grange took the second prize of $20. Evening Star also won an amount of a few days which it prepared its exhibit. Russellville won on account of the superior arrangement of its exhibit.

BRIDGE APPROACHES COUNTY'S CARE.

The question whether it is the duty of owners of property abutting the bridge approaches to maintain the sidewalks was argued by City Attorney Grant yesterday at the request of the County Commissioners. He said it is the duty of the county to keep up these approaches, as they are a part of the bridge.

ward G. and David B. Fuller. The

SOUTH AFRICAN CALABASH PIPES.—

It was erroneously stated in yesterday's paper that Sig Stichel & Co. were selling South American Calabash pipes at regular price $1.50 for $1, on opening day Thursday. It should have been, of course, South African Calabash pipes.

BULLOCK CHANGES MIND.—J. H.

Bulluck, under indictment on a charge of defrauding the Government on coal contracts in Alaska, yesterday waived examination before United States Court Commissioner Marsh and renewed his bond and said he would go to Tacoma for trial any time the Federal authorities in that city sent for him. The sudden turn taken by Bulluck was a surprise in the District Attorney's office, as he had announced that he would fight the case and that he would resist all efforts to send him to Tacoma for trial.

CATHOLICS BUT AT GEARHART.—The

Roman Catholic Diocese of Oregon, under the direction of Archbishop Christie, has purchased two lots at Gearhart Park, and will erect a church there to hold meetings next season.
Father Thompson, of Magdalena parish, who conducted Catholic Church affairs at Seaside last Summer, has the plans for the new church building at Gearhart, and is arranging for a Summer school there next year in connection with his parish work.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.—Circuit Judge

Morrow yesterday decided that a person in whose favor judgment is found by a jury has a right to remit excess judgments and on this ground refused a new trial in the case of I. W. Lane against the Sunset Lumber Company.
A jury which last week heard the case returned a verdict for Lane for over $12,000, whereas he was only asking for something over $8000, the error arising from ambiguity in the pleadings.

MASSACHUSETTS FIRM SCUM.—The United Engineering & Construction Company, which built the Helio Theater, has filed suit in Circuit Court to recover $2500 from the Massachusetts Bonding & Insurance Company, alleging that this amount was paid to the laborers and mechanics of the Archi-defaulted on a sub-contract. The sub-contracting company's bond was supplied by the Massachusetts company.

securities company were filed at the Court house yesterday. The incorpora-
