

KELLER QUILTS TO AID PLOT, IS RUMOR

Rushlight to Transfer Pro- tege to Detective Force Seems Assured.

SCHEMING STIRS FACTIONS

Sergeant Riley, After Surpassing Keller in Captaincy Test, Re- fuses to Give Up Rights, Despite All Requests.

Temporarily blocked by civil service regulations, which could not be dodged, in his efforts to land his partisan friend, Acting Captain Keller as Captain of Police, rumor has it that Mayor Rushlight has accepted Keller's resignation from the temporary captaincy and has consented to Keller's request, effective tomorrow, for his transfer to the detective force.

Mayor Rushlight yesterday declined to admit knowledge of Keller's impending resignation as Acting Captain, although the reported action of Keller was decided at the conference between Keller and Rushlight in the Mayor's office at the City Hall Saturday. Acting Chief Slover and Police Commissioner Coffey also denied knowledge of Keller's resignation and proposed transfer.

Maneuvers Prove Puzzle.

Keller's resignation, accompanied by the request that he be attached to the detective branch of the service, has only added to the mystery which has surrounded the many maneuvers of the Rushlight administration in its attempts to provide for Keller a good berth. It is taken to mean that Keller will yet be cared for. Mayor Rushlight, it is said, would make Keller Chief of the next best position, that of Assistant Chief, a position Rushlight has requested be created. At any rate, it is expected, Keller will be given a captaincy eventually even if it becomes necessary to oust one of the captains now in the department to make a place for him.

It is incumbent on the administration immediately to take some action in Keller's case. Under the terms of an ordinance, the passage of which was requested by Mayor Rushlight, Keller, as Acting Captain, and other acting officers in the department for the last three months have been drawing the salary of the rank they hold. Keller has been drawing the salary of Acting Captain, and he is no longer entitled to the increased salary, an eligible list from which a Captain shall be chosen, having been provided. This means that Keller should remain in charge of the second relief he would have to do so in the capacity of patrol sergeant, which pays only $115 monthly, or $48 less than the salary he has been receiving. If transferred to a detective sergeantcy, Keller will receive a monthly salary of $125.

Keller Eighth in Test.

Ever since the examination of applicants for appointment to the captaincy was held, it is known that Mayor Rushlight and Keller's friends have been employing every imaginable means to sidetrack the examination. Patrolmen Keller and Inskip, who, in the test, received better grades than Keller, who stood eighth in the eligible list furnished by that examination. Three of the eligibles who stood ahead of Keller, stepped aside, but Riley, Circle and Inskip were not so obliging. However, with the assistance of Riley, those eligibles who stood in the way of Keller, it is understood, were finally induced to get out of the way.

It is understood Circle will be given the clerkship in the detective department while Inskip is slated for a sergeantcy on the day relief. These baiting were especially tempting, particularly in view of the fact that the eligibles had every reason to believe that they would never be appointed to the captaincy.

Riley Stands by Guns.

Sergeant Riley, first on the eligible list, is said to have remained obstinate. He apparently had the nerve to defy the administration and stand on his rights. Associated with Keller's resignation is the rumor that Riley will be made Captain to succeed Keller.

Although forced to back down in his first effort to give Keller a Captaincy, Mayor Rushlight, according to those who know something about the police department, will not abandon his determination to reward Keller. With Riley, Circle and Inskip cared for and three other eligibles, who stood ahead of Keller in the recent examination, out of the way, Keller is now included among the next three eligibles from whom the selection will be made to fill the next vacancy as Captain of Police. It is said that Mayor Rushlight sees to it that a vacancy is created in that rank.

For some time Mayor Rushlight and a faction within the police department headed by Keller, have been trying to get Captain Bailey's scalp. However, if the conspirators have accumulated any damaging evidence against him they have not seen fit to use it. Efforts, it is said, are now being made by the same forces to discredit Bailey and his work in the department.

That is holding up the real purpose behind the raid on a Chinese gambling den Saturday night, led by Keller and a detail of patrolmen from the second night relief. This detail was pulled off from detective headquarters under Keller's direction, and during the time Keller and the men of the first relief were on duty. What is more, the raid was organized and conducted independently of Bailey, who was not so much as consulted, although at the time he was the officer in charge of the station.

Police Commissioner Coffey said last night that the orders posted at police headquarters Saturday and very suddenly withdrawn would be posted in amended form, probably tomorrow.

These orders do not contemplate the reduction in rank of any of the men," said Mr. Coffey, last night. "They are merely the usual orders, which will be posted monthly during the present administration. They provide for changing the shifts of the men being to give every man in the department an opportunity to work on the different reliefs. Formerly, unless a patrolman had a 'pull' he was obliged to work either on the second night relief or early morning watch. It is now proposed to give every man an even chance, changing the shifts once every 15 days."

FILM PLAY TEACHES MORAL

Feature at Star Is Thrilling Tale of Girl's Mistake.

The leading feature at the Star Theater yesterday contained a high moral purpose. People gasped at the agony through which she passed in learning her awful lesson. This girl was ashamed of her mother and that shame cost a life. "Amid the Polar Seas" is the most perfect scenic film which has ever been shown at the Star Theater. The midnight sun in the Arctic is as beautiful and as artistically shaded as an exquisite oil painting. "The Old Bull-Header" showed clever acting and was put on with many interesting effects. "The Near-sighted Chaperon" proved an entertaining refined comedy. Two excellent singers added to the varied quality of the show.

Next Wednesday the Star will offer Dante's "Inferno" in five reels. This is the highest work ever yet produced, and the Star management announces it for an indefinite run.

The Arcade presented as its new headline "A Western Heroine" a full of daring deeds and remarkable riding, and in addition three more than ordinarily clever comedies. Mr. Vincent sang acceptably. For Wednesday of this week the Arcade announces its most ambitious offering in the shape of "The Two Orphans" in three reels. "The Blackfoot Halfbreed," a strong

BIG GINSENG ROOT GROWN IN POLK.

D. E. Parker's Ginseng.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 1.—(Special).—D. E. Parker, a prosperous ranchman of Polk County, who resides near West Salem, prides himself on having what he believes to be one of the largest ginseng roots ever grown in the Northwest. This root weighs just a pound in the tenth year of its growth. It is considered exceptionally well developed and its growth is uniform and delicate.

Mr. Parker has one-fifth of an acre of ginseng under cover, this being probably one of the largest patches in the valley. He estimates that his patch of ginseng is worth $3000.

"There has been much wild talk of ginseng, and many fabulous prices have been demanded as well as received for this valuable Chinese root. Ginseng culture, properly conducted, may be exceedingly profitable in Oregon, as I find it to be. But the demands, which have been made in the Northwest, are way out of sight. My roots will sell for $15 a hundred in thousand lots, which I believe to be an equitable value. Ordinarily ginseng in the State is valued at about $12,000 an acre, and there is a ready market for it."

INDIAN PICTURE WAS THE FEATURE AT THE JOY THEATER.

"The Strike at the Mines" was timely, and "Her Hero" was a laughable comedy.

The Yvonne and Crystal Theaters on the East Side had excellent programmes and were well attended throughout the day.

ROSARY FEAST OBSERVED

HIGH MASS CELEBRATED AND ROSES BLESSED.

Rev. G. L. Sturla Delivers Sermon on "The Rosary, Its Power and Significance," at Church.

The feast of the holy rosary was celebrated yesterday forenoon in the Dominican Church of the Dominican Fathers, on East Third and Clackamas streets, in the presence of a great audience which filled the auditorium to its utmost capacity. Before the high mass was celebrated the roses were blessed and distributed to the congregation as a symbol of the spiritual roses which the rosary represents. Following came the solemn high mass, with Rev. A. S. L'Amor, O. P. celebrant; Very Rev. C. V. Lamp, deacon, and Rev. J. D. O'Brien, subdeacon.

Rev. G. L. Sturla delivered the sermon on "The Rosary, Its Power and Significance," setting forth that the Dominican Fathers had emulated the example of St. Dominic and had carried the gospel to the uttermost corners and remote districts of the world.

The Dominican Choral Society gave the musical programme. After the mass the procession was formed. The children formed on the sidewalk south of the church, the women in the Blessed Virgin's aisle, and the men in the Holy Spirit's aisle. It was an imposing spectacle, as the various societies carried banners. The following was the general order of the procession:

First division—Fred Donnerberg, marshal; cross-bearer, Edw. McDonnell; acolytes, James Sheehy and Wynne Sheehy; coarsy banner, Thomas High, Michael and Harold O'Connor and Raymond O'Connor. Banners of the Holy Spirit—(1) The Annunciation, Marcel Larkin, children in white; (2) The Visitation, May Lavin, children in white; (3) The Nativity, Murray O'Connor, children in white; (4) The Presentation, Josephine Larkin, children in white; (5) The Finding of Our Lord, Grace Sweeney; Young Ladies' Rosaria Society. Banners of the Holy Spirit—(1) The Holy Spirit, Josephine Larkin; (2) The Holy Spirit, Young Ladies' Rosaria Society; (3) The Holy Spirit, Young Ladies' Rosaria Society; (4) The Holy Spirit, Young Ladies' Rosaria Society; (5) The Holy Spirit, Young Ladies' Rosaria Society.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 1.—(Special).—Rev. Father J. A. Van Nevel, who has served for several months as assistant pastor of the Albany parish of the Holy Spirit Church, has been transferred to Medford, where he will be chaplain of the new hospital there.

NORTHWEST CITED AS WORLD'S BEST

Representative of H. E. Leson Advertising Agency of New York Lauds Zone.

VISITOR EXTOLS CHANCES

J. R. Kathrens, Here for First Time in Decade, Sees Opportunities for All—Woman Comes to Exploit Country for Line.

"If the story of Portland and the Pacific Northwest could be presented to Eastern people in the way that would make them realize the wonders, the magnificence, the opportunities of this section, they would stampede in an effort to get here," declared J. R. Kathrens, representing the H. E. Leson advertising agency of New York, after concluding a two days' visit in the city last night.

Mr. Kathrens handles all the advertising for the New York Central Railway system, and is in the Northwest now on a mission for the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound line that will result in an extensive advertising campaign in the Eastern newspapers and magazines in which the advantages of Oregon and its neighboring states will be fully presented.

"There are more openings here for the man of every place and means than in any other place in the world," he said. "The campaign to attract people hither should be continued. What this country needs more than anything else is people—people with money and experience to go on to the farms. They should have enough money when they come here to carry them along for a year—the first year on their farms. The country is so new—so vast—that there is a fortune here for everybody."

He would tell everybody. "It is my aim, my desire, to find some way of telling the people back East of the beautiful climate, the beautiful country and the beautiful happy homes that you have here. No other place like it."

"The people of the West are the most broadminded, the most intelligent in the country. They know more about the country than do the people in the East. They know more about the East than the people of the East themselves know about it."

Mr. Kathrens had the provincialism of a certain class of Easterners well illustrated to him on his visit to Montana a few weeks ago. He stayed at the home of a prominent merchant and ranch owner, whose daughter had been attending one of the schools near Boston.

When she entered the school one of the instructors said to the young woman in a very patronizing manner: "You know that we always lower the standard of our school when we admit a Western girl."

They had only one other Western girl at the school. She was from Chicago. The Montana girl told her that she was that "there are other schools," and she'll not return to the institution.

All Northwest Advertised. The advertising campaign about to be inaugurated by the Milwaukee system through Mr. Kathrens' agency will be for the benefit of the entire Northwest.

"When you plant a man in Montana, in Idaho, in Washington or in Oregon," he said, "you help the entire Northwestern country. The trade that that man will develop naturally will flow to the cities on the Coast. The whole territory out here is benefited. "We want tourists to come here as well as settlers, for when a tourist goes back home he is bound to talk about this country. He can't help saying something good about it. If he talks mean about it he is not the kind of a man you want. No one else will want him, I assure you."

Mr. Kathrens declares that the only unfortunate circumstance that he has found on his present trip is the attitude of the people of Tacoma toward the name of Mount Rainier. Tacoma men insist that the hyphenated name—Rainier-Tacoma—shall be applied. The Government has named the mountain Rainier and has set out a park of 2,900,000 acres around it.

Railroads Are Hampered. The railroads are afraid to advertise this wonderful scenic asset, because they are afraid that if they call the mountain by its real and proper name they will give offense to facemans. They can't hyphenate the name, because it will be contrary to the appellation applied by the Government. Consequently the Northwest annually loses thousands of opportunities for effective advertising.

Mr. Kathrens had not been in Portland for ten years before his recent arrival. He marveled at the wonderful changes and improvements that have taken place, declaring that his observations confirmed the impressions of the generation held throughout the East that Portland is one of the most substantial cities in the country.

DEATH IS SUDDEN TO TWO

Duane Philis Passes as He Prays by His Bedside.

His body in the posture of prayer in his lonely cabin at 41 East Sixty-seventh street North, Duane Philis, 78 years old, was found dead yesterday morning by his son-in-law, Russell Diamond. Appearances indicated that the aged man had been about to retire when the stroke came. He lived all alone. As the cause of death was not apparent, the body was turned over to the coroner.

Death came in a similar way to Charles Schneider, a baker, who was taken ill suddenly at his home, 30 East Twenty-eighth street, and died in a few minutes. A physician was called but could give no assistance. He was 55 years old and was employed by R. Deutch. The coroner took charge of the body.

Star to Entertain Newspapermen.

Melvin G. Winstock has extended an invitation to the members of the Portland Press Club to meet at the Star Theater at 11 o'clock tonight to witness a private view of Dante's "Inferno," a photo play made from the Italian masterpiece. The five reels of film making the photo play were inspected at the Bijou Theater yesterday morning by the members of the press club. The committee of the People's Amusement Company.

KELLER IN CHARGE TO INJURE BAILEY, BELIEVE POLICE.

Man Said to Be Slated by Adminis- tration for Promotion Heads Arrest of Gamblers.

In what is regarded in police circles as an effort to detract from Captain Bailey, of the first night relief, who has been at odds with the administration, and to make a reputation for Acting Captain Keller, slated by the administration for promotion, Keller held throughout the East that Portland is one of the most substantial cities in the country.
