Freight Runaway Smashes Into Trolley at Seattle.

ONE MAN KILLED, 9 HURT

Car Loaded With Lumber Plunges Down Grade, Striking Early Morning Paper Car-Train Crew Escapes.

SEATTLE Wash, Oct 1—(Special)

Herman Schramer, 23 years old, employed in the pressroom of the Post Intelligencer, was killed and nine other injured when a carload of lumber broke loose from a Seattle Electric freight train at 4:30 o'clock this morning near the top of Fauntieroy Hill, ran four blocks down a steep grade and crashed into a streetcar bearing early-morning

The runaway car smashed headlong into the car at the turn of a sharp-curve. C. H. Jenks, motorman, 186 Roy street, of the passenger car, jumped in time to save his life.

jumped in time to save his life.

Every window in the streetcar was smashed and the bundles of papers and passengers were hurled in a heap. Driven by the tremendous impact of the runaway freight car, the two wrecked cars plunged together on down the track to the foot of the hill. There it hit another sharp curve, and the passenger car was derailed, stopping both over.

The accident was caused by the snapping of a drawhead on the second car of the freight train. This train conslated of the motor car, a carload of sewer pipe and the carload of lumber. Schramer, suffering from numerous cuts and bruises and internal injuries, died shortly after reaching the hospital.

The injured are Emil Eldrich, 4432 California avenue, right shoulder badly sprained, nose and face cut and contusions on the head and body; Louis tusions on the head and body; Louis Primble, 106 Ninth avenue, bruised hip and hand; H. P. Little, 206 First avenue North, cuts and bruised arm; B. Shaber, 5594 Brooklyn avenue, ankle and knee sprained; Walter Reeves, 2209 Alki avenue, head cut. Nine other passengers were slightly bruised. Conductor M. J. Roche, on this car, escaped with a severe shaking up. Behramer resided at 2170 Alki Beach. He was unmarried. His relatives live

DISPUTE SETTLED

Southern Idaho Farmers Join in Opposition to Promoters.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 1.—(Special)— The state land board has settled the question of the irrigation of 14,000 acres of high land on the benches in Lincoln County, over which there has been a bitter controversy, by voting to give the contract for the pumping and the trrigation of the propect to the Kuhn interests and the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Company, North Side Land & Water Company, fixing the price an acre at $80. Governor James H. Hawley and Stephen D. Taylor, State Auditor, stood cut against the letting of the contract detaring that specification should be made as to the time when the company would deliver the water.

This project and the land included within it is in the southern part of this state in Lincoln County. There is onposit state in Lincoln County. There is opposi-tion in that section against the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water Com-pany among the settlers who declare has the promise to deliver water by that enterprise has not been fulfilled and setlers have suffered a loss. They therefore objected to this company taking over the pumping plant proposi-tion, and attempted to organize another company to bid for it.

The settlers on Carey Act projects in this state are indignant over the at-titude of promoting companies and they have decided to protect themselves by organizing what is to be known as the Farmers Carey act association with W. ### CARLINE WORK IS HELP UP

South Bend Citizens Protest Against Injunction Delaying Project.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Oct. 1 -- (Special. The celerity with which the Twin City Power & Light Company has been prosecuting work on its South Bend-Raymond electric carrine has been delayed by a big slide in the deepest cut, which buried a steam shovel and delayed work for several days. A suit to enjoin the company from building the line across ten acres of land now owned by Wilson & Dickenson, of Raymond, coupled with a demand for $2500 damages for work already done on the damages for work already done on the land, has added to the delay. Judge Smith, of the Superior Court, has granted a temporary injunction and named October 10 as a date for hear-ing argument on making the order per-

UTAH-IDAHO SUGAR MEN PLAN OREGON CAMPAIGN.

David Eccles Declares Farmers of This State Can Reap Large Profits From Industry.

Extensive efforts are to be made by the Amalgamated Sugar Company, of Utah, Idaho, to encourage the growing of sugar beets on an extensive scale in Oregon. This was the statement yesterday of David Eccles, president of Head River, Or., Carter's Lake.... the sugar company, who is in the city on business connected with the open-ing of the sugar mill at La Grande for the Fall season.

the Fall season.
"Sugar beet raising in Oregon," said Mr. Eccles. "has not been carried on to any great extent, but I believe the farmers will go into the business when they are shown the extent of profits Our company has done some exploiting already, but has only just begun the campaign. Before we get through we hope to have Oregon a big beet-growhope to have Oregon a big best-grow-ing state and the La Grande mill one of the hig ones of the West. At present the supply of beets is small and the La Grande mill is none too successful. I believe, however, that the run for the present year will be longer and more satisfactory than usual." Mr. Eccles says there is but one ob-Mr. Eccles says there is but one ob-jection to the beet growing and that is the hot Summer weather which is found in some parts. Without irriga-tion the bests do not do well but there are all kinds of opportunities for irri-gation projects in the state, he de-clares. The farmers, he says, can get a good price for their beets and generally can grow beets easier and more satis-factorily than some of the other crops.

They not only did this, but they went about securing witchnes to prosecute anioonlesspers for selling to other indians. Many of these indians became my personal deputies. They secured indicatments and convictions against most of the selontkeepers of Santa Fe.

Then came the trouble. Indian Superintendent C. J. Crandall was the "president" of a corporation of politicians and sports who owned and ran the Capital Pharmacy, a spenk-easy drogstors in Santa Fe. The indian deputies secured evidence galore and iried to secure the indictment of their superintendents "store" for selling whisty tilegally. But they falled in the attempt. The foreman of the grand jury was a partner with Superintendent Crandall in the speak-easy.

Chara, but who had spoken irroverentity of the Indian Superintendent's speak-easy at Santa Fe.

Superintendent Crandall then notified the rough, drunken Indians that myself and my official force had no authority and that they should disregard anything that we said. The advice from the superintendent inspired four drunken Indians to make a deadly assault on one of my Indian deputies, Juan Cruz, at Chamita, on the night of February 4. Cruz, in order to save his life, fired at random into the darkness, the shot unfertunately killing his principal assailant, Jose Delores García. Cruz was arrested and held without bail, charged with murder in the first degree.

Assistant Commissioner Abbott theft telegraphed me positive orders to take no steps toward the defense of Juan Cruz. As anatter of humanity, I appealed to F. S. Wilson, attorney for the Fuello Indians, paid aslary by the Government for his services, but who is a member of Crandall's gang. He refused to aid unless he got an extrafee. The W. C. T. U. of Santa Fe them took the matter up and made a public appeal for funds with which to employ counsel to defend the Indian. This created such a soundai that Commissioner Valentine, six weeks later, revoked Abbott's influman order to let Cruz hang and telegraphed me to deall in my power to protect the boy. The next move was on the part of the Indian Fe, the shie attorney employed by the W. C. T. U., after a savage fight in court for a week, succeeded in securing the freedom of the boy and his discharge from custody.

And the precious outfit of political heelers who wanted to hang Cruz for his anti-fluor efforts employed apecial counsel to assist in the prosecution.

EX-FORESTER WITHHOLDS IM-PRESSIONS AT CORDOVA.

Ousted Official Says if Ever He Has Made Misstatements Magazines Will Correct.

CORDOVA, Alaska, Oct. 1 .- A mass eeting of citizens packed Eagle Hall last night to hear Gifford Pinchot, exchief of the Forestry Bureau, and United States Senator Poindexter, of Washington, discuss Alaska. Mr. Pinchot declined to make known his im-pressions of different Alaska situations, saying he would not give his views on the questions until after further deliberation and conference with others identified with the conservation movement

Mr. Pinchot declared that if he had any misstatements in his magazine articles, the publications would gladly make corrections. He said he had not changed his ideas He said he had not changed his ideas regarding the danger of industrial monopoly in Alaska, which he said was the fore-runner of political monopoly. He said many misstatements had been made regarding Alaska by some magasines, but said that on the other hand the Alaska papers have been too narrow-minded. He said that broadmindedness on the part of the Alaskans is needed to reach the big men in Congress.

Senator Poindexter talked for an hour. He said that he was not in Alaska to blame any corporation or in-terests for political conditions, but was free to admit the necessity of limiting the great powers of the big corpora-

In passing on the county tax amend-ment the Attorney-General held that ment the Attorney-General held that legislative functions are not vested in counties, as they are in cities and towns under the initiative and referendum amendments and laws, and as a result some definite general law would have some definite general law routs to be passed to provide for such a mode of procedure. Under such a general law it would be possible to make it comprehensive, so as to include all the amendments he believes, and yet give counties blanket privileges in voting on various questions as they arise. He is of the opinion such a law would be necessary before the bond election in Jackson County would be held valid or before the people could vote on the question of county option as far as taxation and exemptions are concerned. For this reason he takes the stand that in event the Supreme Court refuses to mandamus Secretary Olcott and falls to compel him to place the Ciackamas County single-tax bill on the ballot, it would raise a very serious doubt as to the validity of the Jackson County road bond election, as practically the same questions of law would be insame questions of law would be in-volved in each instance. On the other hand, if the court upholds U'Ren's petitions, it will also virtually place its stamp of approval on the Jackson Coun-ty bond issue.
