LANDING TO BE DELAYED

Bombardment of Benghazi and Derna to Begin Today—Mines Removed to Insure Safety of Expeditionary Forces.

DIERBA, Tunis, Oct. 4.—Tripoli has been bombarded twice by the Italian fleet. The first shot was fired shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Shelling was resumed early today after a quiet night.

There was a steady, but slow, fire from the warships until dusk last night and shots also came from the forts in the town. The French steamer Lafana took a delegation from Dierba to the scene of hostilities. Among the party was the French Consul-General, M. Leon, who made several ineffectual attempts to land.

The Lafana was stopped about ten miles from Tripoli by a boat from the cruiser Varese, which ordered her to return, but she remained more than an hour, creeping in closer to the blockaded town.

Few Hours' Grace Given.
The white buildings of Tripoli could be seen plainly and the whole field of operations was unfolded before the watchers. Officers of the Varese explained that the bombardment had been delayed because Admiral Aubrey, commander of the Italian fleet, had received a request from the Tripoli garrison for another day of grace and gave the garrison an extra few hours.

The battleship Benedetto Brin and armored cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi and Francesco Ferruccio drew up in line opposite the harbor. There were no small craft in the battle line and the Varese stood off to keep back intruders. There was no sign of life in the city, which appeared deserted, but the Turkish flag flew from the castle and fort. The first shots were directed toward Charohattil fort and later Kerkerche fort was shelled.

Ports Reply Energetically.
As the shells burst over Tripoli the garrison seemed to awaken. It returned the fire with vigor and energy. A heavy cannonade was kept up on both sides for a few minutes and then the firing became desultory. So far as could be seen no warship was hit.

Vice-Admiral Paravelli at 4 o'clock ordered his ships to cease firing to permit the town to surrender, but no sign was given, and after a few minutes the ships began again. This time great havoc was wrought.

Fortifications were raised, the forts suffered severely and the lighthouse to the northwest was destroyed by shells from the Garibaldi. There was no means of knowing what the loss of life was in Tripoli, but ample opportunity was given the defenders to escape.

Nomads May Plunge Town.
When the Lafana left the scene no landing had been attempted by the Italians and it was feared that at night the town would be pillaged by nomad Arabs, who had been hovering in the vicinity for days.

The first division of the Italian fleet under Admiral Paoli resumed the bombardment early today. The Turkish garrison occupied a position behind the forts and responded with a few shells, which fell short. The Italian commander endeavored to avoid damaging private dwellings, but some of these were destroyed and the governor's palace and the three forts at the entrance of the port are in ruins. The consulates and churches have not been damaged.

The second division of the fleet, under Vice-Admiral Thaon di Revel, has approached close to Benghazi and Derna. A bombardment of these ports, it is understood, has been ordered to begin tomorrow.

Sailors Not to Land Soon.
It is denied that bluejackets will land soon. Such a landing may be decided upon after the arrival of the expeditionary corps.

Before beginning the bombardment of Tripoli, the Italian squadron removed all mines and made a careful revision of the hydrographic charts to insure safety to the sailing transports. This operation lasted several days and probably was the real reason for the delay in the bombardment.

Four Italian officers have come to Dierba, and are proceeding onward to Tripoli on a reconnaissance expedition, as the Arabs are expected to offer stubborn resistance to the occupation of the vilayet.

FEATHERED FREAK LIKE HUMAN BEING

SHERIDAN BIRD CURIOSITY CAPTURED BY BLACKSMITH.

Fowl Bears Face as That of Monkey and Assumes Facial Expressions as That of Man.

SHERIDAN, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Earl Moore, a blacksmith, captured a bird this week which is a puzzle as to its genus and specie, and natural scientists here assert that they never saw its like before.

Moore's captive is best likened to a huge yellow owl and was captured near the cemetery, where one of its wings was broken by a shot. The bird bears a face exactly like that of a monkey, while the tail is long and monkey-like in character. It assumes facial expressions exactly like those of a human being and it is the object of the daily gaze of all passers-by, who view with great interest this feathered freak.

Meat is the principal diet of the bird, which goes to substantiate the theory that the bird has a monkey ancestry.

Some declare the bird is a native of India and is known as the sacred owl, which the native Indians worship. Others assert the feathered curiosity is known as the monkey-faced owl, also a native bird of India. The theory is that the bird found its way to the Pacific Coast from a wrecked ship coming from the Orient, thence finding its abode inland, where it was shot.

Another and more probable theory is given out by old residents that the freak is the progeny of some like birds exhibited by a circus which showed in Sheridan about 16 years ago. It being said that the show broke up near here and that the birds were turned loose.

TRAINMEN DO NOT AGREE

Operating Craft's Not Unit as to Demands on Railroads.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—What demands, if any, shall be presented to the Association of General Managers of the Western Railroads and the time for such presentation are questions being considered by the Western Association of General Chairmen of the Allied Trades Crafts in session here.

Attending the meeting are the chairmen and secretaries of the railroads between the Missouri River and the Pacific Coast and representatives of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Among the questions before the association are higher wages, an eight-hour day and the abolition of the employment of colored brakemen. While the sessions are secret, it is admitted there is a disagreement over the demands.

PAST LIFE TO BE PROBED

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—A deal in which Dr. John Grant Lyman, master of high finance, cleaned up $750,000 in London eight years ago, with a vacuum bottle company, has just come to light here, and the widespread net that the Government has cast for evidence in his prosecution promises to reveal a career of rapid wealth, clandestine meetings, midnight escapes, lightning disguises, plots and counterplots such as might be told in a novel.

An intimate associate of Lyman who may be called to California as a witness, and who for the first time makes public the inside story of the life of the alleged swindler, has been found. Money Spent Freely.
"Dr. Lyman has always said that he lost more in the international Zino smash than all of its other stockholders," said this man today. "As a matter of fact, he went to Paris in 1901, carrying $250,000 in cash and glitzed securities. He spent his money like a prince. On learning that he might be arrested, he bought a high-powered automobile and toured Europe for four months. He changed his name in nearly every city in which he stayed.

"I am going back 11 years because all these things are to be exploited at the trial of Lyman by the Government."

WOMEN WOULD PUT UP PRYCE'S BAIL

SISTER AND FIANCEE OF "GENERAL" TRY TO RAISE $2500.

Dick Ferris, Acting for English Soldier of Fortune, Sends Appeal for Aid to Prisoner.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Two women from Vancouver, B. C., Mrs. T. K. Hodge, his sister, and Miss Alice Eliza, his fiancee, are striving to raise $2500 with which to bail "General" C. Rhys Pryce, the English soldier of fortune, out of the county jail in Los Angeles, where he is held on a charge of violating the neutrality laws of this country. Pryce was recently cleared by this Government of extradition proceedings brought against him by the Mexican Government.

At Pryce's wish, Dick Ferris, actor-promoter, sent the following telegram to Mrs. Hodge today:

"Twenty-five thousand dollars is needed to get Caryl out of jail here. There is little doubt that the charge will ultimately be dismissed. In the meantime, however, he must remain a prisoner unless this money can be raised. You can assure any person putting up this amount that there will be no risk attached, as it will merely assure this Government that the General will appear for trial.

IRISH STRIKE IS SETTLED

Railroad Men Abandon Grievances; Will Get Jobs in Time.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The strike declared on the Irish railroads by the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants September 21, was settled today. The strikers abandoned their original grievance, which was their original objection to handling lumber shipped by a firm which was having trouble with its employees.

The companies agree to reinstate 90 per cent of the strikers at once and the remaining 10 per cent when vacancies occur. They will not dismiss the new men taken on during the strike.

GOOD IN DIVORCE SEEN BY GRAHAM

JUDGE GLAD UNHAPPY TIES CAN BE SEVERED.

Real Cure Declared to Be in Elevating Marriage Plane and Educating Young.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The prevalence of divorce might not be so great an evil as many sociologists fear and divorce itself, if properly treated by the body politic, might operate to cure the evil of its own existence, was the view expressed by Judge Graham, of the Superior Court, in an address before the California Club. "All the statistics undoubtedly show," said the Judge, "that the proportionate number of divorces is increasing in all civilized countries. But this does not mean that the number of happy homes is less than it was 20 or 30 years ago. It merely means that with the growth of individual freedom the unhappy homes have found a way to put an end to their unhappiness, and what was endured in silence 20 or 30 years ago in the fear of ostracism by society is now speedily terminated in the divorce courts, and I am glad this is true.

"Our divorce laws may be changed to mitigate the evil, but the real cure can only be made by going to the root of the matter.

"When marriages are made with more deliberation and forethought; when girls are trained to expect and take pleasure in the duties of wifehood and motherhood and are taught what those responsibilities are, and when boys are trained to respect the opposite sex as a whole, the proportion of divorces will decline, but not until then.

SCHLEY FUNERAL DELAYED

Sailors and Marines to Act as Escort for Admiral's Body.

Four companies of marines and two companies of bluejackets from Philadelphia, Annapolis and Washington and a naval band will form a military escort from the Schley to the church and thence to the grave. The funeral was deferred until tomorrow to await the arrival of Captain Thomas F. Schley from Fort Logan, Colo., where he has been on duty as recruiting officer. Former Associate Judge Hagner of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, lieutenant General Miles, U. S. A.; Rear-Admirals Romey, McLean, Barkey, Cromwell, Nicholson and Green will be the pall bearers.

STROUSS WILL NOT TELL

Other Man in Patterson Case Would Protect Woman Facing Trial.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Emil W. Strauss, who was at one time charged with having alienated the affections of Mrs. Charles Patterson, before she shot her husband in Denver last week, authorized this statement today: "Any statement at this time would not help Mrs. Patterson. The woman is on trial for murder. Her counsel is trying to shape up a defense. It is not an easy case and to have anyone at this time make relations or admissions would in no way assist the defendant. So the best thing is silence.

CLOTHES DON'T HIDE SEX

Woman Dressed in Man's Clothing Is Ejected From Train.

PROVO, Utah, Oct. 4.—The disguise of Mary Brown, who left Denver last Monday for Salt Lake City in quest of her husband, according to her own story, failed to deceive the conductor of the immigrant train on which the woman was riding and she was ejected from the train at Springfield, Utah, last night, carrying under her arm a bundle of woman's clothing.

Mrs. Brown reached here this afternoon, having made the journey from Springfield afoot. The woman told the officers here that she believed the adoption of male attire would serve her as a disguise in ventures in the mining camps of the state, where she hopes to discover her husband.

Judge Sitting for Lawlor Acts Over Own Protest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—An order dismissing the 11 indictments against A. R. Detweiler, of the Home Telephone Company, which grew out of the bribery-graft investigation in this city in 1906, was entered today by Superior Judge Dooling, of San Benito, sitting for Judge Lawlor. Judge Dooling acted in compliance with an order of the District Court of Appeal handed down last Monday and said that he did so over his own protest, as he believed the matter should have waited the return of Judge Lawlor.

BEAVERS FIRST UP PENNANT HEIGHTS

12,000 Supporters of Hogan See Happiness Fade.

FOUR PITCHERS APPEAR

Portland Furnishes Superior Playing in Field and Proves Ability to Hit in Taking First Heat of Coast Flag Race.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Before 12,000 excited fans, all of them rooting madly for Happy Hogan and his Villagers, Walter McCredie's Portland Beavers this afternoon defeated Vernon in the first game of the deciding series of the Pacific Coast League pennant race, and resumed the leadership of the league. The final score was 9 to 7, and it required 11 hard-fought innings to decide the contest.

Heavy hitting marked the engagement from the start and both teams used two pitchers. Portland got to Roy Castleton, Vernon's best bet, in the opening inning and tallied two runs on four hits. The Villagers came back in their half and put one run across by hitting Seaton, who started for the Beavers, for a brace of lusty swipes which netted one run. A speedy double play pulled Seaton out of the hole in that inning.

Seaton Not Up to Form.
Seaton was not up to his usual form, however, and when Vernon tied up the game in the fourth McCredie took Tommy out of the box and substituted Elmer Koestner, who finished the game. Both Koestner and Castleton were found frequently for hits, though several of the long drives credited to the Vernon club welders were really due to the overflow crowd, which prevented Chadbourne, Ryan and Krueger from getting within reach of fly balls. Under ordinary circumstances these flies would have been easy catches for the Portland Beavers.

Fans Create Din.
Every conceivable noise-producer, with the exception of 12-inch guns and nitro-glycerine, was brought into play by the "bugs" and "bugeness" of this baseball-crazy town. In a number of the boxes automobile horns were worked automatically by electric connection and these maintained deafening noise. At times it was impossible for a fan to make his voice penetrate to the person occupying the next seat.

The Beavers really had to win the game three different times. Vernon proved dangerous every minute, though Koestner would have stopped the run-getting had it not been for the overflow crowd which prevented his outfield support from coming to his relief on comparatively easy flies.

Chadbourne proved the heaviest hitter of the Beaver band in the earlier innings, while Buddy Ryan starred in the closing chapter which brought first blood of the series to the Portland team.

In the first and second innings, it was Chadbourne's batting which brought three runs to the Beaver banner. In the seventh—with the score 4 to 3 in favor of Vernon—the Beavers rapped Castleton for three runs, and this time Ryan's willow counted. Buddy dented the Vernon southpaw for a pretty hit, which tallied two of the three runs.

Vernon was favored by Dame Fortune in the last of the seventh, for Patterson's high fly to left would have been a out had it not been for the jam in the field and the two runs resulting tied the game into another bow-knot.

Beavers Retake Lead.
A single by Koestner and Chadbourne's sacrifice, followed by a timely bingle by Bill Rodgers, gave Portland a momentary lead in the eighth.

Rapps doubled and Ryan singled in the ninth, but both were left on the sacks, as Castleton's curves were too difficult for Krueger to solve in that inning.

Johnny Kane was sent in to bat for Castleton in Vernon's half of the ninth and he made good with a single to center. Carlisle hit to Rapps, who tossed Kane out at second, but Peckinpough, in an effort to complete a double play, threw badly to Rapps and Carlisle reached second. Ross went out, Rodgers to Rapps and Carlisle reached third.

Koestner then perpetrated a wild pitch, allowing the Vernon lead-off man to score. This also put "Red" Kuhn out of the game again, as the gritty little catcher tried to flag the wild pitch with his ungloved hand, a zealousness that reopened the wound on his finger, which was recently injured. The accident may keep the "Red"
