the office, DON'T CONSULT OR TREAT WITH AN UNKNOWN. When I began my campaign of personal advertising. I expected to live up to my announcements fairly and squarely, and I have carried out this plan to the letter. I have no connection with any "medical company" or "institute," and I assume the entire responsibility of treating and curing my patients, as well as all financial matters. I have more money invested in my establishment than all other Portland advertising doctors, "com-panies," etc., combined, and I will give $500 to any charity if this is not so. Watch for my next announcement exposing how the extra-charge-for-medicine "graft" is worked by the quack. I am in this war against medical humbug to the finish, and will not be through as long as there is a single quack left among the advertising doctors. I believe a physician has just as much right to advertise his specialty as a bank has to publish its financial standing, or a minister to announce the subject of his Sunday sermon; and I also believe that to get the confidence of the people he should be the first to fight against quackery and humbug in medical advertising.

WEARWISS. I have long been a close student of the condition known as weakness in men. Sufferers from this trouble are nearly always told by their fam-lity physician that there is no help; that if means wornout nature, and that some powerful stimulant for temporary effect is the only help. I go deeper into the cause of the trou-ble and usually find a deranged or damaged local condition responsible. As long as a man lives he should be as strong in every vital function as he is physically constituted. I have a scientific, powerful and permanent treatment for weakness, which is as natural and direct as it is efficient. Why treat with irresponeibles
