NORDICA RISKS VOICE FOR WOMEN

Suffrage Cause in California Aided by Speech by Prima Donna.

NIGHT AIR RIGORS DEFIED

Famous Songstress Takes Great Interest in Campaign Which Will Close Today With Election. Madame Scores Heavily.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct &- (Special.) -Mme Lillian Nordica, the famous prima donna, spoke from an automobile tonight in behalf of suffrage.

The cantatrice apprised the college equal suffrage league that she was sorry her arrival in San Francisco was too late to admit of helping in the cause of suffrage, which she has for years enthusiastically upheld and preached.

The league members assured her it

The league members assured her it was not yet too late, as the campaign would continue until the very last moment tomorrow, and told the songhird that only her presence in an automobile would ald the cause.

Mms. Nordica not only acquiesced to this arrangement, but instance upon apeaking. She wrote a cordial letter to the college suffrage league, in which she expressed her hope that the suffrage cause would triumph tomorrow.

Mms. Nordica's special train pulled out of Lincoln, Neh. en route here just ahead of President Taft's train, and the great songstress, in a playful mood, asked for a white bed sheet. When it was brought to her she stopped from the train, took a heatblack's brush and painted a huge placard, "Votes for Women," which she suspended from the rear of the train. President Taft saw the banner and laughed with the ariist who painted it.

The suffragists here are not unmindful of what Mms. Nordica's contribution to their cause means. She is risking the beautiful voice, which is expected to charm thousands later in the week, to the rigors of the night air, and running the risk of becoming incapacitated for the great ground-breaking event next Saturday.

Mrs. Meta Fuller Sinclair Will Bitterly Contest Husband's Charges of Alleged Misconduct With Harry Kemp, "Tramp Poet."

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 .- (Special.)-De claring with considerable emphasis that she never has been guilty of misconduct with Harry Kemp, the "tramp poet," Meta Fuller Sinclair, wife of Upton Sinclair, author, freethinker and Socialist, announced today har in-tention to fight to the end her husband's suit for absolute divorce. In her answer filed in the Supreme Court, the woman, who left her hus-hand in quest of a perfect "soul mate," band in quest of a perfect "soul mate," tenies she has been guilty, as alleged the will fight the case bitterly.

It was late in August that Sinclair stirred the literary world by his public announcement that he intended to sue his wife for divorce because of her re-lations with Kemp, who, it was stated, WASHINGTON. Oct. E.—Unless the present mood of Secretary Wilson undergoes a decided change, the prayers of those who are seeking to turn him from his purpose of acting as honorary president of the International Brewers' Congress in Chicago, October 12, will appear on the sings. Sinclair said his wife had sent him a letter in which she clearly indicated her affection for the poet, and that at the time of the pany in this city.

Friendly Regard Confessed. Mrs. Sinclair admitted she had a friendly regard for Kemp, but bore no ill will toward her husband. She spoke of her action in leaving her home at Arden, Del., thus: "Mr. Sinclair is an essential monogomist, without having any of the qualitics which an essential monogomist ought to possess. One of these qualities is that a monogomist ought to be able to act the part of a husband; in other words, he ought to have some time to devote to his wife. In other words, a husband who is a monogomist by nature ought to be able to occupy the attention of his wife so there should be none of this attention of hers left for other men.

"Harry Kemp and I are very con-genial. Our tastes are similar and, tem genial. Our tastes are summer and peramentally, we are much more alike than are Mr. Sinclair and myself. My friendship with Harry Kemp I have pursued more conspicuously than my friendships with other men."

"I Was the Gont," Said Kemp. The publicity connected with the divorce proceedings caused Mrs. Sinclair to fee to Biloxi, Miss, and Kemp started West. In Kansas City he gave out an interview in which he said: "I realize now that I was the goat and was caught, and hers I am. I am just beginning to see how easy I was. But it is over now and I will have to make the best of it."

United States Secret Service Agents T. B. Foster and W. A. Giever, of Se-attle, came to Victoria 10 days ago and cent to Nootka with Constable McLeod, of the British Columbia provincial po-lice, on the steamer Tees, the two of-ficers posing as timber buyers. They floers posing as timber buyers. They went to Leon's cabin, which was found deserted. Search revealed a high-class camers, acids and etching pistes. No bills of any kind were found. McLeod was left to watch for Leon's return, as it was thought he would take passage from Victoria Thursday. Leon had received a tip and fied.

Leen had taken out pre-emption pa-pers from the British Columbia gov-ernment for a homestead of 160 acres and his cabin was built on his pre-emp-tion. It was in a place where he would not be likely to have visitors and he made periodical trips to Victoria by land, to confer with his confederates.

the Crooker National Bank note, which was secured in this city on Thursday and was the only one of its kind so far found. Because of the finding of the note here. Leon was supposed to have ome here after the arrest of his gang in Chicago, September 20, Leon, it hav-ing developed at this time, being in a building directly across the street from where his pais were caught.

The "plant" on Nootka Island, B. C., a place that is almost inaccessible, was raided practically the same day as the arrests were made in Chicago. Since then the place has been under constant surveillance, it being expected that Leon would sooner or later make his reappearance there.

The "plant" consisted of some splendid cameras and other paraphernalia and some notes in the process of pho-tographing. According to Portland of-ficials, the first counterfeiting said to be traceable to Leon's gang was dis covered in Los Angeles September 25, last year, and was a Pusadena National Bank note. The next was a note of the Pirst National Bank, of Williamsport, Pa., then one in the El Centro National Bank, of El Centro, Cal., followed by one on the Pirst National Bank, of this city. These four notes were picked up within a month. So kept under cover for almost a year, up to September 38, 1911, when one of their notes was picked up, the last so far, on Thursday.

The notes are almost a perfect coun terfeit. They are, however, blue-green instead of the proper color and the se-rial number is slightly darker. The Crooker note was defective in that the Treasury number was printed in black instead of blue. Chief secret officer of this district. Stephen Connell, who has had charge of the matter here, says that every off cer in the country had a photograph of Leon, so it was not hard to pick him out when once seen. He is 27 him out when once seen, He is a years of are, smooth shaven, sandy hair, 137 pounds, and 5 feet 4 inches in height. How many notes were placed in circulation there is no way of determining, but it is believed that only a few of each bank were issued, and this fact lessened the chances of discovery.

MILLIONS SUNK IN ROAD

Many Unexpected Claims Against Unfinished Railway Help to Cut Down Amount of Wealth. Florman Talks of Love.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 .- (Special.)-Following close on the announced breaking of the engagement of Miss Helen Stallo, supposed helress to $10,-Helen Stallo, supposed helress to $10,-000,000, with Nils Florman, of supposed Swedish royalty, came the declaration by those who apparently know whereof they speak, that the Stallo girls, Helen and Laura, will not receive the fortune, estimated at $50,000,000, left by their grandfather, but instead will get only about $500,000.

This announcement was given out following the revelation that Alexander McDonald years ago sank millions of his fortune in a rallroad "to help a relative," and it is believed his riches dwindled then from the supposed "$50,-000,000" to $4,000,000, the many unexpected claims against it helping to cut down the amount of his fortune.

pected claims against it helping to cut down the amount of his fortune. The revelation of the great shrinkage in the McDonald fortune did not surprise persons who had known well the Standard Oil man and his business. The railroad is the New Orleans, Mobile & Chicago, only about 410 miles of which had been built at the time of Mr. McDonald's death, and these had cost more than $12.060,000. More than $00 miles remained to be constructed. $12,000,000 Put Into Road.

Mr. McDonald had indorsed notes made by the Donaid had indorsed notes made by the two construction companies employed on the road and the net result was a tremendous shrinkage in his estate.

Mr. McDonaid's son-in-iaw, Edmund K. Stalio, became administrator of Mr. McDonaid's estate, but when he discovered the state of its affairs he had the Metropolitan Trust Company of this city appointed in his place. All the McDonaid holdings in the New Orleans, Mobile & Chicago Raliroad have been disposed of, it is understood, but so many unexpected claims have been presented against the estate that it is bemany unexpected claims have been pre-sented against the estate that it is be-lieved there will be little more than $500,000 to be divided between the Misses Stallo.

She was the one that had my record so thoroughly gone into and for some unaccountable reason she disapproved of me; for with all the investigations made by her through lawyers and others, there was nothing found out that I had not told both my finnce and her sister. I was not afraid of my birth, of my family or of my capability of carings for a wife and assuming the responsibility of a home. I am no fortune hunter: I am not penniless and I am not afraid to work."

The note, short and to the point, which Miss Stallo sent to Mr. Plorman has just come to light. It said:

"My Deer Nils: Certain things have come up that I think it best our engagement should be broken. I will always remember our acquaintance as one of pleasure. Very truly yours.

A Simple Way To Reduce Wrinkles (From The Home Maker)

Bear in mind that wrinkles, as well as bagginess of cheek or chin, are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple wash lotion you can easily make at home. Get an ounce of powdered saxolite at your druggist's, and a half pint witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This treatment at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissuewhich of course smoothes out the lines speaking country.
