

DEATH GOES TO CORNELIUS BLISS

Ex-Secretary of Interior and Republican Leader Stricken at Ripe Age of 78.

NOTED FIGURE IS GONE

Man in Foremost of National Party Is Removed—Many Honors Declined During Long Career as Prominent Politician.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Cornelius Newton Bliss, for years one of the leading figures in National Republican politics and otherwise well known as a merchant and member of the drygoods firm of Bliss, Fabian & Company, died last night from heart failure. Bliss had been ill for a year. He was 78 years old, having been born in Fall River, Mass., in 1833.

Mrs. Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bliss, Jr., and Miss L. P. Bliss, a daughter, were at the bedside. Funeral arrangements will be announced today. The death of Cornelius Bliss removes from the political arena of this country another of the coteries of Republican leaders, who have been in the forefront of the party's affairs for a generation or more. He was treasurer of the Republican National committee from 1892 to 1898 and prior to that had been chairman of the New York state Republican committee.

He twice refused to become a candidate for Governor of New York, but following the National campaign in 1896, in which William McKinley was elected President, he became Secretary of the Interior in the McKinley Cabinet. He twice refused to accept the nomination for Mayor of New York.

DOGWOOD SENT TO EUROPE

Oregon Trees Will Be Planted at Resort at Teplitz, Germany.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Frank Busch, an Oregon City merchant, today sent to Teplitz, the famous watering place in Germany, ten pounds of Oregon dogwood seed. He expects to ship several young trees in a few days. Mr. Busch received a letter from the management of the resort some time ago asking him to furnish the seed and the young trees. The writer said that he had heard a great deal about the Oregon dogwood and wanted to plant the trees on the lawn at the resort. Mr. Busch obtained the seed without much trouble, but he has had a difficult time getting the young trees. He found the dogwood in abundance, but most of the trees were too large. He will make another effort to get more trees in the near future.

FLYING TREE KILLS LOGGER

While Log Is Being Moved Through Woods Branches Tangle.

DALLAS, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Arenie M. Rice, a logger working for the Spalding Logging Company, was instantly killed near Black Rock tonight when a tree that had caught on a moving log was catapulted several feet, striking Rice in the head. Rice was first man under the hook tender in the R. J. Morrison camp and while a log was being hauled to the roadway a tree that had been uprooted became tangled between two stumps in such a way that it sprung back with terrific force. An inquest was held and death was pronounced accidental. Rice's brother-in-law, F. J. Stewart, resides at Black Rock. His home is in Gaston, Miss., and the body will be held by the coroner awaiting instructions from his family.

PRESBYTERY IN SESSION

Ministers in Portland and Columbia District at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Portland Presbytery, comprising churches in Portland and vicinity and along the Columbia River to Astoria, convened at the First Presbyterian Church in this city Monday. The presbytery will end its sessions tomorrow night. The meeting was called to order by the moderator, Rev. Henry Marcotte, formerly pastor of the church here, but now of the Westminster Church, of Portland. There are 23 ministers present. The afternoon session was taken up mainly by the reading of reports of standing committees and their adoption. Tonight there was a public session at which Rev. Mr. Marcotte preached the sermon.

MOTHER'S SEARCH FUTILE

Cook of Steamer Klamath Disappears in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Walter H. Martin, 23 years old, and formerly a cook on the steamer Klamath, has been missing since September 23, and his mother, aided by the local police, has been fruitlessly searching for him for the last 16 days. Martin came to San Francisco from Los Angeles on September 23 for treatment at the Marine Hospital after an operation at Los Angeles. He told the fact that he had not been at sea for 68 days, the hospital refused to take him in, and no trace of him since he left the hospital has been found. Mrs. C. A. Mahoney, of Portland, mother of the missing seaman, hurried here in search of her son.

CLERGY TO ATTEND SYNOD

Umatilla County Ministers Will Be at Portland Session.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Nine ministers and elders from Umatilla County left for Portland today to attend the annual synod of the Presbyterian Church which will convene in that city next Thursday. The synod met last year at Pendleton in the middle of the wet and dry campaign and the ministers had rather strenuous times trying to conduct street meetings, owing to the disturbances caused by the wet element, and on one occasion they were used in an effort to break up their meeting. Among those who will be in attendance from this county are: Moderator W. M. Bleskney, of Freewater; Rev. Frank J. Millard, of Pendleton; Rev. B. F. Harper, of Milton; Rev. E. W. Warrington, of Pilot Rock; J. N. Cornellison, of Tutuilla; Rev. J. G. Dickson, of Indian; pastor at Tutuilla; Elders J. W. Maloney, of Pendleton; Phillip Jones, of Tutuilla, and Scharpf, of Pilot Rock.

The synod will be held here for four days this week, beginning Thursday at the Mount Tabor Presbyterian Church. Seventy-five Presbyterians, ministers from different parts of the state will be present. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be devoted to business meetings during the day, and in the evenings public meetings will be held at which various phases of church work, such as home and foreign missions, will be discussed. The first work of the clergy and lay delegates upon coming together will be the election of a moderator to preside at the synod and to supervise the work of the church of the coming year. Various committees to take up the different departments of church work will also be appointed at the synod.

POWER OF HUMAN VISION

Simple Eye of Man and the Compound Eye of the Fly.

Baltimore Sun. A specialist has claimed that he can with the unaided eye distinguish lines ruled in glass that are only one fifty-thousandth of an inch apart, but Le Conte has limited the power of the eye to distinguish lines to one one-thousandth of an inch. To show how immensely superior is the sense of sight in defining single things one can try the sense of touch in comparison with it. Two points of different compasses placed three inches apart on the least sensitive parts of the body will be felt as a single prick. With the aid of the microscope the human eye can discern objects whose diameter is only about one one-hundred-and-eight-thousandth of an inch. It has been said that the eye of a fly can distinguish an object of five-millionths of an inch in diameter.

What we designate as the eye of a fly is really a compound eye, made up of numerous lenses. Of these the common house fly has something like 4000 in the two eyes. The structure of these lenses are well known, the optical part of each consisting of two lenses, which, combined, form a double convex lens. Each lens acts as a separate eye and can be easily proved by detaching the whole of the front of the compound eye, and by manipulation with a microscope it is not difficult to examine a photograph or other object through it. When this is done a distinct image is seen in each lens. Caspenter has shown that each lens reflects but a small portion of the image looked at, and that it requires the combined action of the 4000 lenses of the fly to produce the same effect as that seen by the one human eye. The human eye is, therefore, a more perfect optical instrument than the eye of the fly.

Scientists who have given considerable attention to the investigation of compound eyes have formed no opinion that would lead to the conclusion that their power of vision with respect to small objects exceeds that of the simple eyes of the higher animals. The images of objects formed in the separate lenses composing the compound eye are proportionally small, and the question whether insects can see smaller objects than animals furnished with single eyes is not a question of optics, but of the sensitiveness of the optic nerve, and consequently a matter of mere conjecture.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 10.—The Postoffice at Hillsboro, Or., will move October 1 into new quarters on the corner of Main and Third streets, which have been leased for 19 years from Montezuma Lodge No. 50, Independent Order of Oddfellows.

FLOOD VICTIMS ARE AIDED

Portland Lodge of Moose Sends $125 to Pennsylvania Sufferers.

The Portland lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose has contributed $125 to the relief of the sufferers in the recent food at Austin and Corralle, Pa. The money was raised in response to a call from the supreme officers of the lodge for a contribution of 5 cents from each member. The fund was sent to Secretary Brandon, who, they had been informed by telegram, had forwarded to Austin a check for $12,500 for the relief of the flood sufferers.

WARDEN'S FORCE GROWS

Deputy Game Guards Hired for Season, Which Opens Sunday.

A large number of deputy game wardens have been employed within the past few days for the purpose of patrolling the Willamette Valley and other sections when the shooting season opens next Sunday. All gamebags carried by hunters will be searched, as it is the intention of the Commission to see that the laws covering the protection of China pheasants and bobwhite quail are enforced rigidly. The activity of special game wardens resulted in the arrest of several persons in Portland for violation of the game laws. James J. Quinn, of 450 Seventh street, was arrested for shoot-

PAPER NOT BLOOD-SOAKED

Seven Witnesses in Coble Murder Case Called—Testimony of Depot Agent Refuted by Evidence Offered by the Defense.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The state scored heavily in the trial of George H. Wilson, the section foreman of Rainier, Wash., charged with the murder of Nettie Coble, when the court ruled that the testimony of Justice of Peace Morris bearing on the suspicions of the prisoner regarding the crime that finally led to the alleged confession could be admitted. The state was the first officer of the law to enter the Coble home after the murder. Morris occupied the stand all morning.

William Jolly, station agent at Rainier, testified that the prisoner spoke of the bloody piece of paper on the evening of the discovery of the murder. The defense moved this up later in the afternoon, however, by bringing out, when W. B. Waddell, the Rainier hotel man, was on the stand, that the paper found in Wilson's tent was a piece of red building paper and was not bloody. It was this piece of paper, believed to be saturated with blood, that first directed the suspicions of his wife against the prisoner. It was proven today, however, that the paper is naturally red and from contact with the blood it had turned to resemble blood. Seven witnesses were examined today, among them being H. N. Sticklin, undertaker; J. F. Ryan, a detective; J. C. Williams, pump station operator at MacKintosh, and J. M. Preston, of Rainier.

INSTITUTE DRAWS MANY

TRI-COUNTY TEACHERS FINISH SESSION AT THE DALLIES.

Pedagogues Thank Legislature for Law Governing Supervision of Rural Schools.

THE DALLIES, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Two hundred and two pedagogues were in attendance at the annual teachers' institute of Wasco, Sherman and Hood River counties here last week, the affair being the most successful event in the history of the institute, especially from a standpoint of attendance. County Superintendents C. D. Thompson, of Hood River; W. C. Bryan, of Sherman, and Justus T. Neff, of Wasco, were in charge of the sessions, being assisted by L. R. Alderman, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; J. H. Ackerman, president of the State Normal School at Monmouth; Montana Hastings, department of education, University of Oregon; Ruby E. Sherer, primary supervisor of the State Normal School; Helen T. Kennedy, of the Oregon Library Commission; E. D. Resaler, department of industrial pedagogy, Oregon Agricultural College, Dr. C. H. Jenkins, Hood River; J. O. McLaughlin, Hood River High School, and W. B. Young, principal of The Dalles High School. The following resolutions were adopted by the institute: "Be it resolved by the teachers of Wasco, Sherman and Hood River counties assembled in annual institute: "That we thank the recent Legislature for the enactment of the laws concerning the certification of teachers and the supervision of rural schools; also the voters of our state for the establishment of a State Normal School. "That the interest and co-operation of our teachers are heartily extended to the upbuilding of our Normal School. "That all persons applying for certificates to teach in the schools of this state in December, 1912, be required to show that they have completed at least two years' work above the eighth grade, and have taken six weeks of professional training, and those applying for certificates in December, 1914, and thereafter, be required to show that they have completed at least two years' work above the eighth grade, and have taken 12 weeks of professional training. "That the state eighth grade examinations have done much to raise the standard of our schools, but as the present conditions have outgrown and are subverting the intents of the system, it is therefore recommended that a new law requiring a minimum qualification of teachers be enacted and enforced that the eighth grade examination system be amended to meet the changed conditions or abolished. "That school boards be required by law to put schoolrooms, outbuildings and premises in good sanitary condition before the opening of school and see that these conditions are maintained during the term."

STRENGTH COMES

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

A Tablet Digests a Meal. Total Package Free.

Most people eat food without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the rotation. Dyspepsia. Heeds disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight aches to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very real and patent condition, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, scouring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected if the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to remove this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something in it that will assist the stomach in its work. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 48000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act today and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50-cent size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

William Hennell, of 321 Fulton Park, was arrested for hunting without a license and for shooting grouse out of season. L. A. Guthrie was arrested Sunday by Deputy Game Wardens Sperl and Knez, about three miles west of Dallas. Guthrie was shooting China pheasants. He was fined $25 and costs. Robert Place, of 814 First street, and Charles Hennell, of 321 Fulton Park, were found shooting rifles within the city limits. They were warned not to repeat the offense and their parents were notified. Game Warden Finley said yesterday that special wardens in the city had been advised to report every case of this kind. A. E. Resaler, special game warden, arrested A. E. Helms yesterday for hooking salmon in the Bull Run River. He was taken before Justice Kelso, at Milwaukie, and was fined $50.

OIL PROSPECTOR BACK

G. T. Kelley Held to Testify Against Alleged Swindlers.

While in the act of telegraphing his willingness to return to Portland and give his testimony in the criminal trial of C. C. Hammer and W. H. Whitaker, G. T. Kelley, a material witness, was arrested in Sacramento by Detective Epps and arrived here under guard yesterday morning. A felony charge that had been placed against him to furnish ground for extradition was immediately dismissed by the Circuit Court on motion of Deputy District Attorney Page, and Kelley will appear in the Circuit Court today to give his testimony. Kelley says he left Portland with the impression that his testimony in the preliminary hearing would suffice. The released prisoner in the oil fields of California for the defendants, who posted location notices, organized the Lake Oil, Gas & Pipe Line Company, with a capital stock of $500,000, and sold shares. The state relies upon Kelley to show that the company never had any material assets.
