FAMOUS DANCER TO GIVE ARTISTIC ENTERTAINMENT AT HELGIE THEATER, BEGINNING TONIGHT.

Miss Gertrude Hoffman. No more artistic or beautiful entertainment has been seen in Portland in a long time than the dances which are to be given by Gertrude Hoffman and her company at the Helgie, beginning tonight. It is, indeed, due to Miss Hoffman that American theatricality in advance of European centers in this branch of the art. The Russian dance has a sensation abroad, but it has never been exhibited in Europe upon the scale equaling the Hoffman production, either in the dances or the accessories. Miss Hoffman's own share in this spectacle consists in the impersonation of Marc Antony's queen in "Cleopatra," the first ballet, and of "Zobaida," the first ballet, a beautiful presentation of a portion of the Arabian Nights called "Shahrazade." Others assisting in this part of the entertainment are: Mlle. Maria Balдина, ballerina, Imperial Theatre, Moscow, and Theodore Kosloff, premier danseur, Imperial Theatre, St. Petersburg. As an added attraction, Miss Hoffman will present her famous impersonations of well-known theatrical celebrities; each impersonation complete as to scenery and costumes. Miss Hoffman's "La Saison des Ballets Russes" will be seen for the first time tonight at the Helgie Theater.

"I have no hesitancy in saying that the modern system of handling real estate transactions on a certificate of title and by placing the papers and money in escrow with the title companies is far superior to the old plan of abstracts and attorney's opinions in every respect. It is cheaper, safer, quicker and more convenient." O. B. Carter, Attorney-at-Law, Los Angeles, Cal.

BEN C. EASTWICK SUED FOR DIVORCE AND ALIMONY. In a suit for divorce filed in Circuit Court the wife of Ben C. Eastwick, whom he married on March 24, 1910, makes sensational charges against him, involving Eastwick's personal character. Eastwick's habits were such, she declares, that she was forced to desert him within a few months of their marriage. Her husband, the woman asserts, has been in debt for him 5 per cent of his late father's estate and she asserts that he is worth at least $200,000. His annual income she declares to be at least $5000. Mrs. Eastwick asks for an order restraining her husband from alienating his property in any way during the pendency of the suit and also requests the court to make her a liberal allowance commensurate with Eastwick's wealth. On one occasion, she declares, her husband brought a woman, whom he proclaimed as his affinity, to their home and introduced the two women.
