MOVE FOR PUBLIC MARKET INDORSED

Grange, Consumers' League and Other Bodies Favor One for Portland.

BENEFITS ARE POINTED OUT

Meeting of Those Interested Held and Action Taken Toward Effecting End Sought-Committees Are Appointed.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the representatives of the Grange, Consumers' League, producers and others, in session yesterday in the rooms of the East Side Business Men's Club. Grand avenue and East Alder street, that one or more public markets should be established in Portland as soon as the car be done. All present pledged themselves to work to this end.

The meeting had been called to consider ways and means, and Dan Kellaher, chairman, said that it was deaired to get a full expression of all classes on the subject, and for that reason the invitations to the meetings had been general. He said that there had been agitation for market places, had been agricult for the but without getting results. For the use of the meeting, statistics had been gathered from the leading cities of the Union as evidence of the usefulness of public markets.

Movement Is Approved.

Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, representa-League, gave the movement her strong-est indorsement, and declared that it merited the support and sympathy of the progressive citizens of Portland and elsewhere.

"I want to say that the Consumers' League is most heartily in sympathy with this movement to establish one or more public markets in Portland," said Mrs. Waldo. "It is in the interest of consumer and producer, and certainly will contribute toward the promotion of the health of the city."

Mrs. A. E. Rockey, a prominent member of the Consumers' League of Portland, indorsed the movement and offered it support.

member of the Consumers' League of Portland, indoresed the movement and offered it support.

Ray Gill, master of Pomona Grange and president of the Gresham Fair Association, said that public markets will encourage better production and better articles. He asserted that the wholesalors and commission men of the city will not be injured by the establishment of public markets, but that, on the contrary, market places would benefit them as much as any others. C. H. Welch, of Evening Star Grange, made a strong ples for establishment of public market places, and pointed to the fact that Buffalo had it markets operated by the city with a profit of $55,000 annually.

J. J. Johnson, master of Evening Star Grange, spoke for the market movement and said that it was the record of nearly all the markets that they reduced the cost to the consumer and gave the producer better prices for his product.

J. E. Stansbury, fruit inspector, said that as far as he had ascertained, he did not think that there would be much, if any, opposition from the commission men of the city.

Censumer and Freducer Interested.

in Portland today when they could got them for 14 cents if they would go direct to the producer.

Mr. Davis spoke of the Portland milk laws and declared they were ridiculous and were being violated. He closed with a plea that the consumer and producer should get together.

L. W. Myors declared that Portland is behind the times in not having a roblic market.

to behind the times in not having a public market.

It was voted unanimously that the establishment of one or more public markets should be undertaken in Portland and that a representative committee of 15 be appointed to handle the proposition. This committee will be made of representatives of the Granges of Multinomah and Clackamas Counties, the Consumers' League of Portland and other civic bedies interested.

It was also voted that the committee be appointed by the president after consultation with their organizations. The committee will co-operate with the City Council and with all bodies seeking to establish a public market. The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the chairman.

meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the chairman. Grange representatives agreed that the matter would be taken up at the meetings of the Granges of the county, and lectures given on public markets. All the Clackamas County Granges will also be asked to participate in the

DANCE HELD ON CRUISER

Naval Militiamen Are Hosts to More Than 1000 Aboard Boston.

More than 1000 persons were guests Tuesday night of the Portland division of the Oregon Naval Militia at a ball given on board the cruiser Boaton in the harbor. The affair was the first of the kind given by the Naval Militia. The ship was decorated with Japanese lanterns and a profusion of American flags and streamers. Danning was enjoyed on the quarter deck and refreahmshis were served. Music was furnished by the Naval Militia band recently organized and which appeared in new red uniforms.

The affair was the first of a series which have been proposed, the next to be held about Christmas time. The committee in charge of last night's function was as follows: A W. Anderson, first-class beatswain's mate; chairman: H. Snyder, chief master at arms; Roy H. Wilchart, electrician; Bamuel Goodman, quartermaster; J. H. Wildman, ship fitter and S. D. Young, seaman. The patronesses were Mrs. A. W. Anderson and Mrs. Duffield.

DIVE INQUIRY DEFERRED

Baker and Maguire Wrangle Over Subject-Decision Due Thursday.

"All I want is to root out the dives," said Councilman Maguire, addressing the City Council resterday morning. Consumer and Producer Interested.

J. E. Davia, who operates a big farm and creamery near Gresham, spoke with vigor for a public market.

"I am surprised that the producer and consumer cannot get together," said Mr. Davis, "to their mutual benefit. The consumer uses the telephones and delivery wagons in calling for 15 cents' worth of stuff. Families are paying two cents a pound for potatoes a Portland today when they could get hem for 1% cents if they would got irect to the producer.

"I am surprised that the producer around the Council chamber and had taken a stand right beside Maguire.

"I doubt it," was Maguire's quick retort, as he proceeded to denounce "certain members," whom he charged with being in league with a move to keep alleged bad resorts and their proprietors in business.

It was finally decided by the cell to the producer.

It was finally decided by the Council to waive all action in regard to North End saloons and the Quella, and to meet in committee of the whole next Thursday morning at $130 o'clock to consider these cases. Councilman Baker, in making this motion, explained that he intended to force Maguire to "make good the talk he has been making about Councilmen upholding vice."

ing vice."
"This thing of grand-standing around here, preaching from pulpits and mak-ing gallery plays is unfair to the members of this Council," declared members of this Council," declared Baker, "and I intend to give Mr. Maguire a chance to come before the Council now and make good his charges against these 'notorious' places he has been talking about."
