Annulment of Marriage Is Cause of Suit by Rich Miner Who, Spouse Says, Hasn't Contributed to Her Support for Two Years.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 11.—(Special)—Mrs. Minnie D. Taylor, who is being sued for an annulment of their marriage by Charles D. Taylor, millionaire miner, through her attorneys, Fie sire miner, through her attorneys, Fig-gel & Reynolds, today filed a motion for an order for $7000 to defend the suit and for $7500 monthly for mainte-nance during the pendency of the ac-tion. Judge Eakin, who recently set saide an order annuling the marriage upon complaint of the defendant that it was obtained through fraud, will pass upon the metion.

upon the motion.

The defendant alleges that she lives at Santa Ana, Cal, more than 1200 miles from Oregon City, and that she believes the suit was brought here to prevent her from making an adequate

She further avers that Mr. Taylor has contributed nothing toward her support since 1909. The following is a part of an affidavit filed by her in sup-port of the motion:

Plaintiff is Rich.

That plaintiff is a man of great wealth and has property aggregating more than $1,000,000. That since the marriage of plaintiff and defendant plaintiff sold certain mining property in Newada for $1,500,000. That the ar-dinary living expenses of plaintiff and defendant, while living together, were about $1500 per month, and defendant needs $2500 per month, and defendant needs $2500 per month to meet ordinary expenses so long as this suit is pending in this court or on appeal, to enable her to live in the manner and according to the standard of living to which she has been accustomed as the wife of the plaintiff and according to which she has been accustomed as the wife of the plaintiff and according to her station in life."

Mrs. Taylor declares that the has been compelled to spend $1500 in defending the suit, and she declares that to make a proper defense it will be necessary for her to bring six witnesses here from San Francisco at an expense of at least $100 each, and one witness from New York at an expense.

witness from New York at an expense of more than $200.

Ble says their testimony is necessary to refute charges of misconduct on her part made by the plaintiff. The affidavit continues: Character Penture in Pight, Character Peature in Pight.

That the defendant considers the tefense of her henor and character and reputation to be the dearest interest which she has or could have, and that the plaintiff, with his ample wealth is making and will make every possible effort to blacken the character of the infendant and to prevail in said suit.

A. F. Fiegel, one of the attorneys for the defendant, also filed an affidavit declaring that the money asked by her was necessary for her maintenance and the proper defense of the suit. In respening the case several weeks ago Judge Eakin said that the defendant should be given the right to make a defense.

The main issue is expected to be heard at the Fall term of court, and much sensational testimony will be introduced. That Mr. Talyor will make a vigorous fight against paying the meney asked was indicated some time ago, when his attorney, George C. Brownell, opposed allowing her a Morgan was permitted to go home but was taken before Justice Swan today and waived examination. He furnished bonds to keep the peace until an examination at the next term of Circuit Court.
