

PLOT LAYED OUT FOR ALISKY'S WIFE

Husband Conspired Her Fall, Declares Sister of May-belle Corey.

$50,000 ALIMONY IS ASKED

Papers Made Public in Divorce Filing by Woman—Degeneracy in Alleged Assertions Made—Co-Respondents Named.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Sensational charges are made by Mrs. Clara Pearl Alisky, sister of Mrs. Marjelle Gilman Corey, against Charles Walker Alisky, owner of several theaters and son of Charles A. Alisky, a wealthy retired Portland contractor, in her suit for divorce, which she made public today.

The complaint charges her husband is a degenerate and parts of the complaint do not make polite reading. She says they were married October 16, 1907, in San Diego, Cal. when she was 20 years of age and inexperienced. Her husband was twice her age.

Through her attorney, S. T. Jeffreys, an order was obtained from Judge Campbell, citing Alisky to appear here October 21, to show cause why the court should not grant a motion for $5000 suit money, $2500 month temporary alimony and $1000 attorney fee while the suit is pending. Mrs. Alisky asks for $50,000 permanent alimony and $4000 as an additional fee for her attorney after a final decree is obtained.

Mrs. Alisky blames her husband's parents for what she says is her misfortune. She alleges that they entertained a questionable woman at Sacramento in January, 1908, well knowing her relations with Alisky. She says that when she protested her husband's parents refused to speak to her and went south to cause a separation between the couple. Alisky is said to have told the wife that his father was worth $1,500,000 and that their marriage stood in the way of his obtaining the money.

Separation is in April. The couple separated in April, 1911, and the plaintiff alleges that when she went back to her husband's home he secretly had an attorney prepare papers for divorce proceedings at San Francisco, and when she found out her motive she refused to sanction the filing of the complaint. She filed a suit for divorce from him early this month and she asserts that he fled to Seattle to avoid service. Mrs. Alisky says Alisky obtained disreputable persons to manufacture false testimony against her and in the "Pooodle Dog," a well-known San Francisco resort, her husband conspired with Paul Murphy, a Dr. Parker and a Mrs. Schmidt, otherwise known as Theo Willis, to obtain evidence against her. Mrs. Schmidt and Lottie Foster, a waitress, are named as co-respondents.

Damage Suit for $100,000 Pending. Mrs. Alisky has a damage suit pending against her husband for $100,000 in Seattle. She asserts his father has employed counsel for him and has aided her husband in every way possible to obtain a separation. The plaintiff declares that $5000 will be necessary for her to bring witnesses from Los Angeles and San Francisco in order to prosecute satisfactorily her suit.

at a smoker given in his honor at the Arctic Club last night. He said that although there might not be any more placer gold camps of the richness of the Klondike, there is an immense area of gold-bearing gravel. "We have in addition to that," he said, "several districts where important and promising copper deposits have been found. These are not as widely distributed as the gold. We have iron deposits. It seems to me that the time will come when we will have a great iron industry on the Pacific Coast, and when that time comes the Alaska coke and iron will be an important element in steelmaking."
