PORTLAND SENDS INVITATION.—Mrs. Ads Wallace Unruh, president of the State Women's Christian Temperance Union, is on her way to Milwaukee, to attend the National convention and present an invitation from Oregon for the National body to come to Portland next year. The invitation was given last year to the National convention to come to Portland in 1912, but it was with the condition that Oregon W. C. T. U. would ratify the invitation, which has been done. Multnomah County unions have agreed to take care of the delegates and the sum of $2500 is to be raised for expenses. Preparations for entertaining the National convention will start as soon as it is settled it will come to Portland.

GLEAN EXTENSION OPPOSED.—A remonstrance has been filed against the extension of East Glisan street between East Twenty-eighth and East Twenty-sixth streets, and the proposal will come up for final hearing Friday, November 2, before the street com-mittee. East Glisan street has been opened from East Twenty-eighth street to the city limits by the city, and from the city limits to Rockwood by the county. Opening of the street to East Twenty-sixth West, it is urged, will provide an unobstructed street of many miles. Several houses have been built in the street, which will have, to be purchased and the ground con-demned for the extension.

THIRVES SECURE COIN.-By breaking a hole in a pane of glass and turning a latch, thieves broke into the store of Lafferty & DeLacey, Twenty-sixth and Clinton streets, after 11:30 o'clock Saturday night, and carried away $85 Saturday night, and carried away $85 from the cash register. A stranger entered the store just before it closed and bought a few apples. Hansford McCoy, 272 North Fourteenth street, reported to the police yesterday that he went to sleep Saturday night with his window open, a light burning and his trousers hanging on a chair by his head. When he awoke yesterday, the trousers were on the porch, his purse was in the yard and about $5 was gone.

HATS IN THEATER CHUTE

Orpheum Gallery Patrons Mistake Hole for Place for Derbies.

Thinking their gallery seats at the Orpheum had been supplied with a new form of hat receptacle, J. M. Brassett and a companion Saturday night stuffed their new derbies into an abandoned waste chute and calmly watched them disappear into the dark depths of the Marquam building.

Mr. Brassett and his friend arrived Mr. Brassett and his friend arrived yesterday from a lumber camp in Washington. Brassett took his companion to the theater, and in feeling around for a place under the gallery seat to deposit his new tile, Brassett's hand raised up the lid of the old waste carrier. He deliberately pushed his own hat into the receptacle, and reaching for the hat of his friend stuffed it into the same opening.

SNEAK THIEVES ARE BUSY

Physician Scares Prowlers, but Woman Loses Money and Jewels.

Two burglars who attempted to rob the home of Dr. Roy C. McDaniel, 230 Melinda avenue, were frightened away by the physician about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The attempt was reported to the police, who watched for prowlers in the district for the remainder of the night, but falled to enounter them.

Dr. McDaniel was awakened by slight fiolse and saw a man run out of the shadow of the house and into the adjacent brush. A second man, who had been watching from across the street, followed him. It was found that a basement window had been broken, but nothing was stolen, Mrs. W. A. Loveland, living in a tent-house on the Seventh-street terraces, reported yesterday that her residence was entered between 7 and 10 o'clock Saturday night. The thief took $190 in money, two revolvers and a quantity of old jewelry, of small value except to the owner.

'MOTHER HUBBARD' IS ROLE Thief Had Been to Cupboard and of Dinner There Is None.

Sunday disners were skimped some-what in the families of G. F. Emanuels and J. C. Vearie, 743 and 745 Overton street, yesterday, and instead of liberal street, yesterday, and instead of ineral refertions, the families dined on "delicatessen" and pick-ups.

The Emanuels were to have had a roast of beef, well supported by a roll of butter, a dozen eggs and two quarts of milk. The menu in order for the Venzies was a roast of lamb, with butter and ham on the side. All these ter and ham on the side. All these edibles had been deposited in refrig-erators on the respective back porches of the families. "Mother Hubbard" was were opened, disclosing that some thief had "been there first." All hope of tracking the miscreant to his lair is not lost, for the indiscreet thief left behind a pillow slip, evidently designed to contain the loot. On the pillow slip is a laundry mark, which bit of evidence, detectives say, is a thoroughly good clew to any crime.

Site to Be Purchased From Ladd Estate Will Be Deeded to Multnomah-Tax Will Be One and One-Half Mills.

People of Multnomah County, with funds derived from direct taxation, will build a central library at a cost approximating $450,000 that will be a credit to their enterprise and public It will be located on the block bounded by Tenth and Eleventh, Yam-hill and Taylor, recently purchased from the Ladd estate for $342,000.

from the Ladd estate for $342,000.

Just as soon as the property is formally conveyed by the Ladd estate to the Library Association, the directors of the latter corporation will deed the property to the county, in compliance with the provisions of a law enacted at the last session of the Legislature. The county is authorized to levy a special tax of not to exceed 1½ mills, which will yield about $450,000, for the new library building, which will be erocted by the county and leased to the Library Association. Library Association.

County Judge Cleeton said yesterday that the smaller portion of the authorlized 1½-mill library tax levy would probably be made by the County Court on next year's assessment, the remainder of the levy to be made in 1913. It is estimated that this levy will raise about $450,000 which will be available for the new library building.

Under the agreement reached between the directors of the Library Association and the County Court, the former will employ an architect to prepare plans and specifications for the library building. The selection of the architect must meet with the approval of the court, which is also to approve the allegs and apprications. approve the plans and specifications.

Another law, enacted by the Legisla-ture last Winter at the instance of the friends of the public library in this city, authorises the County Court annually to levy a special tax of not to exceed one-half mill as a maintenance fund for library purposes. Among other items of expense to be cared for with this fund is that of insurance. The building is to be insured for 80 per cent of its cost. In event of its destruction provision is made for the rebuilding of the structure with the funds arising from this taxation.

The Library Association, as it will be reorganized when the county takes over the library property, will include as members of its board of directors the County Judge and the two County

He returned to Seattle yesterday afternoon after a conference with M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, and John M. Gearin, who are leaders of the Harmon movement in Oregon.

Mr. Leonard will return to Portland in about ten days and at that time steps will be taken to open a cam-paign in favor of Governor Harmon as the Democratic Presidential candidate. Preparations for this campaign will be made by Mr. Miller and others, with whom Mr. Leonard was in conference "In Washington we have been leav

Woman Pianist Gives Two Notable Concerts.

Mrs. Bentrice Dierke Enthuses Large Audience and Duplientes Earlier

T WO notable piano recitals, given within two weeks' time by Mrs. Beatrice Dierke, have been valuable contributions in the making of new ideals at the opening of a music season marked by growth of enduring

After four years of practical seclusion so far as public recitals are concerned, but yet busy with an incessant piano practice that brought new power and artistry, Mrs. Dierke gave a piano recital October 8 at Christensen's Hall, and the concert was so satisfac-tory, consisting as it did of gems from Von Weber, Rubinstein, Gabrilowitsch, Arensky, Mark Hamburg, Rachmanin-off, Tschaikowsky and Wagner, that she became established in public favor with a stronger and more singers bond with a stronger and more sincere bond than ever.

Mrs. Dierke gave her second concert yesterday afternoon in the same hall, and duplicated her previous success. She played the long programme entirely from memory with a mastery of tone color and wealth of technique that won her much applause. Her first and most difficult number was the familiar loved Schumann, "Carneval," which took 20 minutes for rendition t has long been a spectacular piece It has long been a spectacular piece on a plano programme, and is grand and colossal, but not beautiful. Mrs. Dierke gave it a fine interpretation. The Chopin "Valse in C. Sharp Minor" received just the light, poetic touch required to shrine it in our best memories. It has been and is a fine ideal of the best artists. The Liszt "Etude in D Flat" and the d'Albert "Scherzo op. 29" were played so brilliantly that recalls were given.

Marked enthusiasm was noted over the presentations of Miss Marion Bauer's "Arabeske" and the prelude "Where Rolls the Oregon." These two "Where Rolls the Oregon." These two compositions are most creditable to this talented Portland composer and are sure to become popular. They are both remarkably beautiful, musically speaking, and possess varieties of color and expression that are notable. They were repeated. The "Pizzicato" They were repeated. The from "Silva," often an admired cello solo, was charmingly rendered and the closing Lizzt number was a valuable, sparkling offering. The last encore was a poetic Chopin waltz.
