

WOMAN PHYSICIAN STRANGELY DEAD

Though Head Is Almost Severed, Theory of Suicide Is Not Discarded.

ETHAL WEAPON MISSING

Author Arrested but Released by Police, Who Believe Murder Was Committed—Scientific Work Made Her Noteworthy.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—How Dr. Ethel Knabe, bacteriologist, turned in her head almost severed by the slash of a knife, and to her death remained tonight a mystery.

Jefferson Haynes, the negro janitor of the apartment-house where Dr. Knabe lived, was detained on suspicion that he knew something of the circumstances of her death, but the detectives let him go tonight after he had listened for hours their attempts to draw from him incriminating information.

The theory of suicide, put aside earlier in the day, was revived tonight, at the police declared the evidence to indicate murder. The knife with which Dr. Knabe was killed has not been found, and the coroner and the police were of the opinion that if she herself slashed her throat, she would not have had strength to hide the knife and then return to her bed.

Janitor Hears Scramble.—Haynes, the janitor, who had known Dr. Knabe for years, said the policeman had gone to bed in the basement of the house at 11:30 last night. Dr. Knabe's apartment was just above his, and he was awakened by three screams, apparently in Dr. Knabe's apartment, but he went to bed again without investigation.

At 5 o'clock in the morning he heard footsteps in the room above him. It was 8:15 o'clock this morning when Katherine McPherson, Dr. Knabe's assistant, found her dead. Physicians, after an examination, agreed that Dr. Knabe had been dead about six hours, the coroner said that he could find no evidence that she had been assaulted.

Woman of Studious Bent.—Dr. Knabe spent much time in study. Her resignation from the position of State Bacteriologist was caused by the pressure of her private practice and her desire to study hygiene, said Dr. J. N. Hurley, secretary of the Indiana Board of Health.

Dr. Knabe was 35 years old, and of strikingly attractive appearance. She had never been married. She was a member of the American Medical Association's committee on the education of women in hygiene and the pathology of childbirth and was devoted to physical culture progress among women.

She was born in Germany, the daughter of a civil engineer in the German army. Coming to this country as a girl, she paid by her own efforts the expense of her education.

LOQUACITY BARS IN JURY

(Continued from First Page.) and he thereupon replaces the disabled one.

None of the 14 seemed in slight to fight. Six jurors temporarily accepted by both sides were in the box, but all are subject, and liable, to peremptory challenge.

Anarchistic Element Disapproved.—Talesman Charles F. Binder, in developed, was not included on the last assessment roll and he was excused by mutual consent.

Talesman F. J. Mullen, an electrician, said he came from Indianapolis six years ago.

"Are you friendly or adverse to unions?" asked Attorney Darrow.

"I have no reason to complain about unions, so far as I am personally concerned. I have a feeling against an anarchistic element that I hardly approve of."

"Would you be prejudiced against union men in this case?"

"I do not think I would be prejudiced. I wouldn't allow myself to be influenced by anything against the unions that I could not set aside."

"Do you know General Otis, proprietor of the Times?"

"No."

"Have you ever expressed an opinion about his views?"

"I always thought he was a little radical."

"Did you ever say that General Otis deserved great credit for putting down the unions?"

"I don't recall ever saying that."

"Did you ever have that opinion?"

"Perhaps I have had."

SUFFRAGISTS SEE HOPE FOR BALLOT

Delegates, Tired Out but Enthusiastic, End Work of Convention.

BRITISH LEADERS CHEERED

Mrs. J. P. O'Connor and Mrs. Emma Insk Pankhurst Given Warm Greeting—Plans Are Laid for Campaign Train.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—Several hundred worn and weary women, each of them if possible, more militant and more enthusiastic for suffrage than when she came to Louisville last Friday for the 4th annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, completed the work of the convention tonight.

New York, as the seat of the National headquarters, was retained by a virtually unanimous vote; important resolutions pledging the association to certain progressive movements were approved and more than $12,000 was subscribed for the work of the association.

Reports of progress in many states were heard. Mrs. T. P. O'Connor and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, notable English suffragists, were warmly applauded when they addressed the delegates.

Socialistic Tenet Indorsed.—New York was selected for headquarters only after the withdrawal by the Illinois delegation of the invitation to establish headquarters in Chicago. After the election of a majority of the officers from east of Pittsburgh, however, opposition to New York grew less determined, although Western women gave notice of a renewal of the battle next year.

The association gave notice that the aid of political parties in the contest for suffrage would be welcomed.

Without embracing the tenets of Socialism, this convention endorsed the petition by which the woman's National committee of the Socialist party seeks enfranchisement for women through an amendment to the Federal Constitution and pledges of the association to co-operate in obtaining signatures.

Advertising Car Planned.—Other resolutions adopted were for ratification of President Taft's arbitration treaties; approval of universal suffrage in the elections in the United States; declaration of the same moral standard for men and women and equal penalties for transgressors; indorsement of proposals to build a statue of peace at the mouth of the Panama Canal; the pardon of Angelina Neapolitano by the Canadian government, and deprecation of efforts to prevent the enforcement of the pure food laws.

Emblazoned with banners, attired interlarded with every necessity for travel, supplied with suffrage literature and conveying suffrage speakers, an unusual advertising plan may be launched soon by some of the Western, Middle West and Southern members of the National Suffrage Association, starting a car in California, and sending it to every state where campaigns are in progress.

Talesman Holds Gas Theory.—"My son said it was a gas explosion and dynamite had nothing to do with it," said the talesman.

Clark said he at first believed the dynamite theory, but changed his mind after reading the newspaper account of the explosion in the Times-Mirror Company. This talk occurred, he said, as soon as he could get to Chandler after the explosion.

"And you changed your opinion upon his statement among those of others?"

"I don't think his statement had much weight," said the talesman. "I went to him to offer assistance in any way."

The talesman said he had talked to Chandler within two days and that Chandler said he hoped Clark would qualify.

This brought a laugh which was checked immediately by Judge Bordwell.

"I am surprised you would talk to Mr. Chandler or anyone else concerning this case," said the Judge to Clark.

"I did not," said Clark.

"You don't think that telling him you were a talesman was talking about the case?" demanded the court.

"We challenge this man," said Darrow.

"He is excused," said Judge Bordwell. "I don't think a man as careless as he ought to sit on a jury."

A previous opportunity given the defense to challenge was not taken.

A. C. Winter, a builder and contractor, said he had had bitter trouble with the unions seven years ago.

"They're about all alike," he said.

POOR WOMAN WINS LAND

CLAIM VALUED AT $10,000 GOES TO PARALYTIC'S WIFE

Government Lottery Brings Joy to Afflicted Home, Husband Being Blizzard Victim.

GREGORY, S. D., Oct. 24.—The first choice of homesteads in the Rosebud land lottery drawing conducted by the Government here today was won by Mrs. Mary J. Kendall, of Rapid City, S. D., whose husband is a paralytic. Mrs. Kendall has six years been employed at day labor to support herself and her husband.

The claim is estimated to be worth $10,000.

When she received the news that she had drawn No. 1, Mrs. Kendall rushed to the lottery office with the telegram in her hand and, falling on her knees beside the cripple in his invalid chair, cried for joy.

Her husband, with tears streaming down his face, stretched out his hand and placing it on his wife's head, said: "There, Mary, I told you God would remember us some time and he has."

They sat in silence while friends crowded around to offer congratulations.

Six years ago a daughter lay dying at Sturgis, her father nursing her. Fatigued with long watching, he went to the hill for a breath of fresh air and fell from a precipice, sustaining severe injuries.

A blizzard was raging and Kendall lay 22 hours, covered with snow, before he was rescued. Since then he has been unable to work.

PERRY MEMORIAL PLANNED

Monument and Museum to Commemorate Lake Victory.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24.—Final details for the construction of a memorial at Put-In-Bay to commemorate Perry's victory and the selection of an architect to design the monument have been announced by the Perry Memorial Commission.

The memorial will consist of a lofty monument with a museum for historical relics at its base, standing in a park of 14 acres and to be erected at a cost of $400,000.

SUFFRAGISTS SEE HOPE FOR BALLOT

Delegates, Tired Out but Enthusiastic, End Work of Convention.

BRITISH LEADERS CHEERED

Mrs. J. P. O'Connor and Mrs. Emma Insk Pankhurst Given Warm Greeting—Plans Are Laid for Campaign Train.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—Several hundred worn and weary women, each of them if possible, more militant and more enthusiastic for suffrage than when she came to Louisville last Friday for the 4th annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, completed the work of the convention tonight.

New York, as the seat of the National headquarters, was retained by a virtually unanimous vote; important resolutions pledging the association to certain progressive movements were approved and more than $12,000 was subscribed for the work of the association.

Reports of progress in many states were heard. Mrs. T. P. O'Connor and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, notable English suffragists, were warmly applauded when they addressed the delegates.

Socialistic Tenet Indorsed.—New York was selected for headquarters only after the withdrawal by the Illinois delegation of the invitation to establish headquarters in Chicago. After the election of a majority of the officers from east of Pittsburgh, however, opposition to New York grew less determined, although Western women gave notice of a renewal of the battle next year.

The association gave notice that the aid of political parties in the contest for suffrage would be welcomed.

Without embracing the tenets of Socialism, this convention endorsed the petition by which the woman's National committee of the Socialist party seeks enfranchisement for women through an amendment to the Federal Constitution and pledges of the association to co-operate in obtaining signatures.

Advertising Car Planned.—Other resolutions adopted were for ratification of President Taft's arbitration treaties; approval of universal suffrage in the elections in the United States; declaration of the same moral standard for men and women and equal penalties for transgressors; indorsement of proposals to build a statue of peace at the mouth of the Panama Canal; the pardon of Angelina Neapolitano by the Canadian government, and deprecation of efforts to prevent the enforcement of the pure food laws.

Emblazoned with banners, attired interlarded with every necessity for travel, supplied with suffrage literature and conveying suffrage speakers, an unusual advertising plan may be launched soon by some of the Western, Middle West and Southern members of the National Suffrage Association, starting a car in California, and sending it to every state where campaigns are in progress.

Talesman Holds Gas Theory.—"My son said it was a gas explosion and dynamite had nothing to do with it," said the talesman.

Clark said he at first believed the dynamite theory, but changed his mind after reading the newspaper account of the explosion in the Times-Mirror Company. This talk occurred, he said, as soon as he could get to Chandler after the explosion.

"And you changed your opinion upon his statement among those of others?"

"I don't think his statement had much weight," said the talesman. "I went to him to offer assistance in any way."

The talesman said he had talked to Chandler within two days and that Chandler said he hoped Clark would qualify.

This brought a laugh which was checked immediately by Judge Bordwell.

"I am surprised you would talk to Mr. Chandler or anyone else concerning this case," said the Judge to Clark.

"I did not," said Clark.

"You don't think that telling him you were a talesman was talking about the case?" demanded the court.

"We challenge this man," said Darrow.

"He is excused," said Judge Bordwell. "I don't think a man as careless as he ought to sit on a jury."

A previous opportunity given the defense to challenge was not taken.

A. C. Winter, a builder and contractor, said he had had bitter trouble with the unions seven years ago.

"They're about all alike," he said.

POOR WOMAN WINS LAND

CLAIM VALUED AT $10,000 GOES TO PARALYTIC'S WIFE

Government Lottery Brings Joy to Afflicted Home, Husband Being Blizzard Victim.

GREGORY, S. D., Oct. 24.—The first choice of homesteads in the Rosebud land lottery drawing conducted by the Government here today was won by Mrs. Mary J. Kendall, of Rapid City, S. D., whose husband is a paralytic. Mrs. Kendall has six years been employed at day labor to support herself and her husband.

The claim is estimated to be worth $10,000.

DYSPEPSIA-PROOF.

How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed by Any Stomach.

Costs You Nothing to Try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Men, as a rule, are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will lie in being able to stand the flash.

There was only in this way that Mr. White ever knew that dyspepsia was one of Mr. Black's worst enemies. Sitting face to face at a two-by-four table, he handed his afflicted friend the bill of fare:

Oyster Cocktail. Stuffed Olives. Boston Clam Chowder. Straind Giblets. Sirloin Steak with Mushrooms. Roast Beef Hash. Baked Oxtongue with Sauerkraut. Lobster à la Newburg. Baked Pork and Beans. Combination Crab Salad. Hot Mince Pie.

Pineapple Fritters. Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Mr. Black ordered crackers and a glass of milk. "I had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. White could not be deceived: "I am afraid you can't stand the gleam, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll always have that hungry look anyhow as long as you have dyspepsia. Now, how is your stomach? Was it just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder, or sirloin steak, or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirit, do you? It's just as well to think quickly. I can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do," and thereat the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet. "There, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient, one grain of which digests 3000 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. It's nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juice. I can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package."

Yes, it is true, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets absolutely stop heartburn, nausea, indigestion, dyspepsia of the worst type, sour stomach, bloaty feeling and all eruptions and irritation, freshen and invigorate the stomach. They cheer you up, and make you get all the good there is in your food. You will forget you ever had a stomach to worry you.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address: P. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

residence here several days, but the fact of his serious illness did not become generally known until last night.

Mr. Mather entered the railway service in 1882 and for three years was in the treasurer's office of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. He was admitted to the bar in Chicago in 1886 and three years later he was appointed attorney for the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway at Chicago, becoming in 1902 its general counsel and in 1904 its president.

Mr. Mather had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

The Best Dressed Boys

MAN TAILORS design, make and finish our BOYS' clothes.

Unlike other garments no female operators are engaged in their production.

These man tailors are life devotees to the production of juvenile clothes of the highest order.

In the fine details of inner workmanship, shaping and finishing OUR apparel is as near perfection as human effort can make them.

Guaranteed Ingersoll Watch or Football FREE with every suit.

"QUALITY AND INTEGRITY"

Our standard is the foremost factor in SERVICE to our patrons.

BEN SELLING

LEADING CLOTHIER MORRISON AT FOURTH

MAN TAILORS design, make and finish our BOYS' clothes.

Unlike other garments no female operators are engaged in their production.

These man tailors are life devotees to the production of juvenile clothes of the highest order.

In the fine details of inner workmanship, shaping and finishing OUR apparel is as near perfection as human effort can make them.

Guaranteed Ingersoll Watch or Football FREE with every suit.

"QUALITY AND INTEGRITY"

Our standard is the foremost factor in SERVICE to our patrons.

BEN SELLING

LEADING CLOTHIER MORRISON AT FOURTH

church parlors to sew for the P. J. Mann Home and the Christmas bazaar today, beginning at 10 o'clock. They will bring their own luncheon. Hot coffee will be served by the Women's Alliance.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Company since 1909. He was a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, general manager of the Chicago & Alton, a director of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago; the Mercantile Trust Company of New York; the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Havana Electric Company and a member of many clubs in Chicago and New York.

He had been chairman of