

COUNT HASTENS TO RESCUE OF NEPHEW

Rejected Suitor Calls Noble Kinsman to Prove Blue Blood to Lady Love.

HER FATHER IS IMPRESSED

When Miss Helena Stallo, American Heiress, Breaks Engagement to Nils Florman, Intimate of Swedish King Takes Hand.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—His feelings as well as his heart long when Miss Helena Stallo rejected him. It is said because she was told that he was an adventurer, that his claims to titled ancestry were laughable and that his father was a poor Swedish massour, Count Carlo Bondo, chamberlain to and intimate friend of King Gustav V. of Sweden, to New York to take up the cudgels in his behalf.

HEIRESS, TO WIN WHOM REJECTED SUITOR ENLISTS AID OF TITLED UNCLE.

MISS HELENA STALLO.

Count Bondo is 39 years old, tall and handsome. He has taken up his abode at the Hotel Gotham, where Mr. Florman has been staying. The Count laughed when told of the stories in vogue that Miss Stallo is a private adventurer in search of an heiress and her millions, and pronounced himself perfectly ready to prove to the satisfaction of anyone that was a man come of one of the most noble families in Sweden. He refuses, however, to discuss his nephew's love affairs.

Father Calls on Count.
Already the appearance on the scene of a real blue-blooded Count appears to have had some effect in dispelling the coolness that unexpectedly sprang up between the Stalloes and young Florman after his engagement to Miss Helena had been announced. Soon after the Count had made himself comfortable at his hotel he received a formal call from Edmund K. Stallo, father of Miss Stallo, who is a grand-daughter of the late Alexander McDonald, of Cincinnati, who became a millionaire through his connection with the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. Florman himself is not a bit reticent about discussing his private affairs. He declares unqualifiedly that the charges against him are false. "It has been charged that I am an adventurer," said he, "but I have my uncle here to refute that charge. He is the head of the Bondo family, one of the most prominent in Sweden. He is the personal friend of the King and is the largest private landowner in Sweden. His great estates lie close to Stockholm."

Inheritance Is Mystery.
"It has also been rumored that I have no money and many have wondered how I am able to live without any visible means of support. That is untrue. For just a short time ago I was made vice-president of the Gardner Crusher Company. Mr. Stallo is a director in the company. He, Joseph Boero, the president, and I control the majority of the stock. I have about $200,000 invested in the company.

Mr. Florman said that he inherited this $200,000, but asked from whom, he replied: "Ah, that I will not say."

CRAWFORD IN WASHINGTON
Attorney-General to Argue Initiative Case Before Supreme Court.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 30.—Attorney-General Crawford of Oregon, arrived here today, expecting to argue the Oregon initiative and referendum case before the United States Supreme Court Wednesday or Thursday of this week. A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, who will also participate in the argument, has not yet arrived.

George Fred Williams, of Boston, who recently filed a brief in this case and who expects to appear as counsel, is here and had a conference with Mr. Crawford today. The party included Senator Chamberlain.

Frank S. Grant and William C. Benbow, of Portland, today were admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

Ultra-Violet Rays Make Pond Fluid Fit to Drink.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Ultra-violet rays for the purification of drinking water is the latest development in the Philippines.

The Army surgeons there have been making successful experiments with a plant containing of a kind of dynamite and gasoline engine, which is an ordinary motor with a pump which has shown itself capable of purifying pond water to several gallons of sweet drinking water to every man in a regiment of troops.

The ultra-violet rays not only kill the animal parasites in the water, but also destroy the bacterial causes of disease.

Champ Clark Says He Doesn't Want Private Quarters in Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Speaker Champ Clark has declined to let the new private dining-room in the House end of the Capitol be designated "the Speaker's dining-room." He has made it clear to the Capitol architects that he does not want a private room. The dining-room will be set aside for committee dinners and special occasions. In re-arranging the Senate restaurant, the builders have evicted Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, from the convenient suite of offices he has occupied as chairman of the committee on public lands. Senator Nelson's offices will become additional dining-rooms for Senators exclusively.

It was issued in order to provide Yuan Shi Kai, a powerful lever to use in his negotiations with the rebels.

People's Fear Subsides.
The fear of the people, which was great this morning when it became known that the capital was threatened with an attack, unless the government acceded immediately to demands of far-reaching importance, had somewhat subsided tonight, although 500,000 Chinese continue to fear a massacre, while 100,000 Manchus are in dread of a Chinese attack.

A Tientsin today, the foreign troops marched around the concession to impress the natives with their numbers, armament and general preparedness. The customs commissioner received a letter signed by Shuh Yen Fang in behalf of the Tientsin branch of the revolutionary committee announcing its intention soon to take possession of both Tientsin and Peking.

LOSSES OF REBELS ARE HEAVY
Imperial Troops Now Complete Masters of Hankow.

HANKOW, China, Oct. 29. via Wu-Hu, Oct. 29.—The imperial forces are preparing to follow up their victory over the rebels last week by an attack on Wu-Chang, which the revolutionists fortified, and Hsin Yang, which is regarded as of the utmost importance on account of the arsenals there.

The loyalists are now in undisputed possession of the entire city of Hankow, including the harbor and the railway. They also control the railway. Their position here is advantageous for a sudden attack against the arsenal at Han Yang.

A. H. Kieper, the American missionary who was wounded in Friday's fighting, is in a serious condition. His injuries are in the neck and arm. He was watching the fighting from the top of a building in the Japanese concession when he was hit by a stray bullet.

Friday's battle at Kilometer Ten was a splendid exhibition of gameness and pluck on the part of the rebel forces. Although they were outnumbered two to one by the trained force of imperialists in front of them, and were subjected to the most accurate and deadly sniping from Admiral Sah's warship, they held their ground until nearly 500 had been killed and 1500 wounded.

The advance of the royalists was a splendid justification of the training which these Northern troops have recently received under European instructors. Ten thousand strong, they crossed into the rebel territory during the night and attacked the entrenched revolutionary forces at daybreak Friday morning.

There were about 5000 of the rebel troops. These were behind well-planned fortifications, and had little to fear from the attacks of the troops. It was the guns of Admiral Sah's fleet which finally decided the day against them.

Sah's eight vessels approached the rebel positions soon after the advance of the imperial troops began, but did not fire. After a little while the eight ships sailed retired as if they had decided not to participate in the engagement. Later they returned, this time ready for business.

The range was short and the gunners mercilessly poured in their shells on the rear of the rebel positions. The rebel batteries replied ineffectually and were finally worn and the revolutionists were compelled to retire.

The loyalists, whose losses had been slight, advanced in their shells on the rear of the rebel positions. The rebel batteries replied ineffectually and were finally worn and the revolutionists were compelled to retire.

The lines around Peking are tightening. While there is no great panic among the higher classes and the foreign quarter, there has been a perceptible tension everywhere. The legation quarter is preparing for emergencies and in some cases temporary fortifications have been erected of bags of sand.

Pekin Not Entirely Safe.
Strong detachments of troops guard the palace and the gates of the city, but while the throne has made haste to comply with the demands of the 20,000 soldiers of the third and 26th divisions and the second mixed brigade, composing the second imperial army for the Yangtze campaign, which were presented by the National Assembly, it cannot be said that Peking is yet safe from attack.

The imperial edict has been widely discussed and it is believed generally

NO MORE DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP IF YOU DO THIS

Your Hair Looks Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Abundant After a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Immediate!—Yes, Certain!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and, carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits, particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Try as you will, you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use of Danderine, when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

A delightful surprise awaits, particularly those who have been careless,
