Chester's New Wife Has Illustrated His Stories.

DECREE YET INCOMPLETE

Former Spouse's Proceeding for Divorce Has Reached Interlocutory Stage Only—Marriage in Paris Defended.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The arrival of the Kronprinz Wilhelm here today from Europe led to the discovery that George Randolph Chester, the author and playwright, was aboard with a young woman whom he said he had married recently in Paris.

When it was pointed out to Mr. Chester that the divorce proceedings brought by his former wife had reached only the stage of an interlocutory decree signed October 12 and that the final decree could not be granted until 90 days had elapsed, he rushed in agitation to the nearest telephone and called up his lawyer. Afterward he made a statement:

"I find," he said, "that I committed no crime in marrying abroad. I married Miss Derosme in Paris as soon as I got word that my wife had obtained a divorce."

The new Mrs. Chester is an artist who has illustrated many of Chester's stories. Mrs. Chester's suit named her.

OREGON PEAK IS RENAMED

Official Board Decides Mount Pitt Should Be McLoughlin.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 1.—Mount Pitt, in Southern Oregon, is no more. Henceforth it will be known as Mount McLoughlin.

This change was ordered today by the Board of Geographic Names, which, after careful investigation, decided that it would be appropriate to change the name of this peak to Mount McLoughlin. The board held that old maps issued in 1828 and 1841 designated this peak as Mount McLoughlin, but that Fremont had changed the name arbitrarily to Mount Pitt.

The Legislature of Oregon petitioned for this change of name several years ago, and numerous persons in Oregon and elsewhere urged the change, but not until today were these requests formally considered.

The board held that Dr. John McLoughlin had rendered such service in the early days of the settlement of the Oregon country that he should be fittingly remembered by the Government, and on this account and because the mountain had been named for him originally, directed the change.

Mount McLoughlin, which is in Eastern Jackson County, is shown by the Government records to have an altitude of 9140 feet.

BELLEVUE IS GRAVELY ILL

Physicians Fear Romantic Actor Will Not Recover.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 1.—Kyrle Bellevue, for many years a leading actor of romantic roles, is critically ill here with pneumonia. Mr. Bellevue was taken ill last Friday and a part of his Salt Lake engagement was canceled in the hope that he would soon regain his health.

He became rapidly worse today and physicians fear he will not recover. The remainder of Mr. Bellevue's tour through Western and Pacific Coast cities has been canceled and his company will return to New York.

GERMS ARE EVADED

Miss Sherman Signs License in Microbe-Proof Home.

LORD'S FIANCEE CAUTIOUS

Deputy Clerk Believes She Feigned Illness So She Would Not Have to Visit Municipal Bureau With Titled Briton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Interest in the forthcoming nuptials of Miss Mildred Sherman, daughter of William Watts Sherman, and Lord Camoy is as nothing compared to public concern over the report that illness finally invaded the Sherman's Fifth-avenue mansion—famous as the germ-proof dwelling and the home of the undisputed leader of the crusade against the disease-carrying microbe.

It has not been proved that illness really did invade the mansion. The deeply interested public has only the word of Lord Camoy for it. On his lordship's recent excursion to the City Hall for the marriage license, he protested to the license bureau clerk that Miss Sherman was ill and her father was ill, so that it was impossible for her to appear at the bureau, as prescribed by law.

License Clerk Shocked.

The license clerk, who knew that the Sherman had fought germs with unflinching courage and by the latest methods, was shocked to learn of the microbe victory. With sympathetic alacrity he promised to send a deputy to the Sherman home to secure Miss Sherman's signature to the contract.

It was related that when the deputy license clerk presented himself at the Sherman home he was sprayed with a germ-destroying cologne and divested of his coat and hat, which were placed in a sealed closet, before he was admitted. This was no reflection upon the deputy. All visitors at the Sherman are given the microbe tests before they are permitted to enter where germs fear to spread.

Deputy Gets Surprise.

The deputy was much astonished to learn that Miss Sherman had been out nearly all day. When she returned she appeared to be in excellent health. After the marriage papers had been bathed in a germ-destroying solution,

COLD STOPS PERSIAN WAR

Civil Conflict Must Await Return of Better Fighting Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The rigors of Winter in Persia are so severe that campaigning is impossible, according to a report from the American legation at Teheran.

Further hostilities between the government forces and the revolutionists in that country cannot be looked for until next Spring.

Quake Felt in Nicaragua

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Nov. 1.—A prolonged earthquake was felt here at 3:40 o'clock this morning. No damage has been reported.

they were presented to Miss Sherman with the silver tongue always employed by members of the household in handling questionable objects. Miss Sherman, her hands protected by gloves, wrote her name with a vigorous stroke denoting health and happiness.

Indeed, Miss Sherman's rare spirits made it occur to the deputy that Lord Camoy had—exaggerated a bit, to say the least, you know. The license bureau man inquired after Mr. Sherman's health. He was informed that the millionaire, although in indifferent health for several years, had suffered no change for the worse.

Then an idea dawned upon the deputy license clerk. Miss Sherman pretended to have the marriage papers, properly fumigated, presented to her at her germ-proof home rather than run the gauntlet of the deadly bacillus at the City Hall. Thus the danger was minimized. The license clerk caught Miss Sherman's view—at the City Hall so many romantic but untidy persons apply for licenses.

His hat and coat brought from the wardrobe where visitors' duds are cleaned while they wait, the clerk departed. He was relieved to know that Mrs. William Watts Sherman had not been beaten in battle by General Microbe. He has imparted the true facts in the case to others, that the world at large may rejoice also.

It is said that other so-called leaders of the anti-germ movements are but cheap imitations of Mrs. Sherman. She was the first person to introduce the electric bell mouse-trap system. When a mouse is caught by the vigilant electrical appliances, a bell rings the number of the room in which the hapless rodent has been snared. Another of Mrs. Sherman's death-to-germs stunts is to bake clothing. Such as will not stand this heroic treatment are washed in a special preparation.

It is expected that great preparations will be made to prevent germs from sneaking in with the wedding guests when Miss Sherman becomes the wife of Lord Camoy, December 2.
