

SCOTT, PASSENGER HEAD OF LINE HERE

Announcement of New Southern Pacific Officers Pleases Local Men.

PORTLAND TERRITORY BIG

Lines From Red Bluff to Be Under Jurisdiction of D. W. Campbell.

Portland was made the headquarters yesterday of the Northern district of the Southern Pacific Railroad, with lines extending from Red Bluff, Cal. to this city in its jurisdiction.

John M. Scott, assistant general passenger agent of the Harriman lines in Oregon, was appointed general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific lines, Portland district, and will come here.

Other officers are: D. W. Campbell, assistant general manager of the O-W-R & N, with headquarters at Seattle, appointed general superintendent of the Southern Pacific, Portland district, and will come here.

H. E. Lounsbury, assistant general freight agent, of Portland, is made general freight agent.

T. W. Younger will take office as superintendent of motive power.

S. L. Burkhalter is district engineer and A. B. Hutchinson, purchasing agent, and A. R. Hutchinson, purchasing agent, are also named.

The definite announcement of the change came as an entire surprise to the Portland men affected. Mr. Scott receiving the first intimation in a telegram from Mr. McCormick, in which his appointment and that of Mr. Lounsbury was announced.

Under the old system, local Harriman officials had jurisdiction over the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, or from Portland to Ashland. This division, known as the Portland division, continues under the Portland sphere of influence, while the old Shasta division, from Ashland to Red Bluff, Cal., is added to this district.

While details of the change are not known here, it is the impression locally that an entire floor in the Wells-Fargo building will be taken by the new executive offices of the Portland district.

A complete scheme of reorganization has been under way in the Southern Pacific and the various divisions elsewhere have been amalgamated into districts. The Western Coast, Stockton, Sacramento and Salt Lake divisions will be known in future as the Central District, with headquarters at San Francisco.

The territory over which the new executive officers at Portland will have control was that formerly under the jurisdiction of H. E. Calvin, general manager of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco, and J. P. O'Brien, vice-president and general manager at Portland.

The appointment of John M. Scott as general passenger agent is one that will be received with immense favor locally, where he has been a resident for the past five years. Mr. Scott has been assistant general passenger agent of the Harriman lines, and it was believed that with the reorganization he would continue as assistant general passenger agent under William McCormick, who continues as general passenger agent of the O-W-R & N.

Scott Rate Expert. Before coming to Portland Mr. Scott was chief clerk in the office of J. C. Stubbs, director of traffic of the Harriman system. Mr. Stubbs first made himself known as rate clerk in the Union Pacific office at Omaha. At present he is considered, perhaps, the best-informed man on passenger rates in the Northwest.

His early experience in railroad work was in the office of the Burlington, Missouri Pacific and Grand Trunk lines. Among local railroad men he is exceedingly popular.

Mr. Scott is of Scotch birth and came to this country as a young man. Mr. Lounsbury has his entire experience as a railroad man in this city. He was born in Portland and began his career when C. H. Markham, at present president of the Illinois Central, was in the local Harriman office. He has held the offices of traveling freight agent, general agent of the freight department and district freight agent of the Southern Pacific. For the past 18 months Mr. Lounsbury has been assistant general freight agent of the Harriman lines in Oregon, succeeding F. W. Robinson, who was appointed general freight agent.

New General Superintendent Leaves for Portland Headquarters.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—D. W. Campbell, assistant general manager of the O-W-R & N, was today appointed general superintendent of the northern district of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters at Portland, effective today.

Mr. Campbell began his railroad career as office boy with the Canadian Pacific at Stratford, Ontario, in 1889, where he served three years. His first job was train dispatcher of the same line at Winnipeg. He was appointed dispatcher on the Northern Pacific in 1890, serving in that position as chief dispatcher of the old O-W-R & N at Portland in 1900 and was appointed superintendent of the Seattle division in 1904.

Mr. Campbell's promotion follows the reorganization of the Harriman lines in New York in October and the transfer of J. D. Farrell to the post of president of the O-W-R & N system. Closely associated with Mr. Farrell in actual charge of operation of all lines of his territory, Mr. Campbell's promotion was expected by all officials of all local lines. The territory of which he will now take charge was formerly under the jurisdiction of J. P. O'Brien, vice-president and general manager at Portland, and E. E. Calvin, general manager of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco.

Italians Blame Arabs. PREMIER SAYS DESERT MEN ARE CRUEL; NOT LATIN.

More Details of Massacre of Prisoners of War by Romans Are Made at Capital.

ROME, Nov. 1.—The reports that have been spread in foreign countries that the Italian troops at Tripoli have practiced extreme cruelty in the war against the Turks and Arabs, killing women and children aged and infirm and non-combatants, have caused intense indignation throughout Italy.

These reports already have been officially denied, but Premier Giolitti took occasion tonight to emphasize the denial and to make a statement in behalf of the Government and Nation.

"If any reproach is admissible," he said, "it can only be on account of excess of humanitarianism. We have, perhaps, through exaggerated scruples, spared the lives and property of the enemy, and in so doing have exposed ourselves to grave risks. This, however, we have been pleased to do, in proof that we are civilized and humane. Perhaps what is the country of the strong may be judged as weakness."

"Our soldiers trained in the school of loyalty and accustomed to the uprightest of the Abyssinians, who were their enemies, or steadfast friends, did not expect that the Arabs, after they had shown fealty and received grain and flour and other necessities, would treacherously break their oath and turn their arms against the wounded. Among those heroic dead many were barbarously killed by the enemy after they had fallen gravely wounded."

"He that asserts that the Italian would offend women and children through ignorance of our country and race."

The acts of treachery were due partly to the efforts of Bedouins, about 15,000 of whom migrate at this season of the year from the interior to the coast for the date crop. They formed a kind of conspiracy with the Turks and succeeded in persuading the Arabs who had already declared themselves our friends to rebel."

"But, indeed, the Arabs were ready to take up arms against us when they considered weak at any moment. This is shown by the fact that many of the habitations, when set on fire, exploded like powder magazines, so great were the quantities of arms and ammunition hidden in them."

"After the betrayal, when the Arabs had hidden behind trees, walls and houses in the oasis, shot in the back the troops courageously fighting the Turks, our soldiers defeated and captured them. They attacked the oasis and routed the traitors, killing those caught in the act of firing and taking the prisoners. For safety we transported the prisoners to Tremiti and Ustica Islands, where by their own admission, outside of the curtailment of their liberty, they are better treated than in their own country."

"The oasis within our lines, where the population has moved out of harm's way, was used as cover by the enemy. The trees and walls, and in fact everything that might afford a shelter for the Arabs to repeat their treachery, were destroyed. In no report has General Canova made any allusion to women and children killed. There is irrefragable proof of unnumbered deaths of our wounded. Many were barbarously killed, being killed while lying wounded and unable to defend themselves. Besides the creative and artistic talent proved by the fact that while the normal proportion of dead and wounded in battle is one to two, the Turks having about 100 to 100,000, our dead numbered 374 and wounded only 158."

"In open attacks and in ambush our troops have been killed, and exposed to generous and chivalrous civilization."

BOUQUETS FILL LOBBY

Pictures of World's Baseball Series Applauded Vehemently

Photoplay House Crowded for Four Bills—Music Is Treat.

Quite like a miniature metropolitan premier night was the opening last night of the People's Theater, on West Park and Alder streets. According to schedule, the doors of the artistic new building were thrown open at 6:30 o'clock and the programme began at 7 o'clock. The lobby was banked with beautiful floral pieces and on all sides of the theater proper great baskets of blossoms were placed—all tributes from friends and well-wishers of the managers of the new home of amusement.

Members of the executive staff were stationed about the commodious foyer, receiving their guests and adding to the general hospitality of the housewarming. Melvin G. Winstock, the manager, was showered with verbal and telegraphic congratulations.

Four performances were given, each lasting one hour, and each performance was attended by throngs limited by the absolute seating and standing capacity of the theater.

World's Series Shows. The first film shown brought forth great applause. The reel flashed the world's baseball series of 1911, showing the great struggle between the American and National leagues. Each photograph was remarkably faithful in detail.

A thrilling film story, "Lost in the Jungle," followed, during which was depicted a sensational fight between a woman and a ferocious tiger, and her rescue by an elephant to which she had shown kindness.

A baritone solo by Arthur Ellwell gave delight. "For the People" was sung with such enthusiasm that it was encored so enthusiastically that he responded with "A Bowl of Roses."

A photoplay, "The Long Road," a story replete with sentiment and fine acting ability, was next shown, followed by an artistic treat in a song production by a quartet of excellent voices. The "Sixties from Lucia" was the selection chosen, the vocalists being: Soprano, Miss Elinor Hatch; soprano coloratura, comes Alida; tenor, Charles E. Reimer; baritone, Kenneth Metcalfe; basso, Douglas Melvor; Clifford Carney, director.

A decorative and artistic exhibition in the costumes of the singers, which carried out in artistic values the time and location of the song's history.

A comedy film whose enforced stay at home disturbed the household arrangements considerably.

Lawyers Will Scan People's Charter to Be Revised by Committee.

Full Text Is Expected to Be Ready for Filing Within Two Weeks, Announces Chairman.

Closing its meeting last night after consideration of the initiative, referendum and recall provisions, the West Side (People's) Charter Commission adjourned to meet again tonight, when its members hope to complete the preliminary work and place the charter in the hands of a revision committee composed of lawyers.

The greater part of last night's session was devoted to finishing second readings on the sections dealing with taxes. The committee decided to provide for an annual estimate from each of the departments. The purpose of this provision is to avoid the segregation of city funds as provided in the present charter, and secure more elasticity in administering them.

At suggestion of Dr. Harry Lane it was made mandatory that each year the city's tax not to exceed one-half mill to establish a sinking fund to retire outstanding bonds, and, up to the limit thus fixed, to make levies sufficient to provide for the redemption of bonds that may fall due in the future.

H. G. Parsons proposed a section, which should pay for water at meter rates, where practicable, or where a meter basis could not be secured, should be according to the estimated amount of water used. The section provides for an annual tax, to be levied independent of the tax for the general fund, to pay for the water used by the municipality.

Milk Company to Answer Charge.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—A complaint sworn to by John Larson, a deputy warden in the state fisheries department, was filed in the Justice Court today, charging the Clatsop Mill Company with "suffering and permitting sawdust and shavings and other lumber waste to be thrown and discharged into the Columbia River." The alleged violation of the law is said to have occurred on October 27.
