

GAME GUARD SHOT TO DEATH IN HUT

Charles H. Weist Is Killed by Bullet Through Brain Near St. Helens.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL

Pistol or Gun Not Found in Cabin Sheriff Is Positive Man Is Murderer Victim—Body Fully Dressed.

ST. HELENS, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Killed by a bullet through his brain, Charles H. Weist was found dead in his lonely cabin on the slope two miles south of this city at 7 o'clock this morning.

Immediately upon discovery of the crime the sheriff telegraphed to William Conyer at Clatskanie to rush with his bloodhounds to the scene of the murder and the officials then hurried to the cabin, where they kept watch all day to prevent the curious from entering the hut, in fear that gathering about it would hamper the hounds in trailing the murderer.

Conyer arrived here with his dogs on the 3:30 o'clock train tonight and left immediately to Clatskanie to work on No. word having been received from investigators of the crime tonight, it is presumed the dogs have taken a scent leading the pursuers over the hills.

Weist was employed as game-tender by House & Peterson, whose game reserve and dairy ranch is situated near St. Helens, on which Weist was employed early this morning and not receiving any response went to the cabin, where he found the game guard lifeless. The cabin door was unlocked and Weist was lying on the bed fully dressed. The discovery was reported to Sheriff Thompson immediately and he and Coroner Sherwood were at the scene within half an hour.

Weist was employed by House & Peterson about a year ago, but it was only recently that he assumed the duties of a game guard over the game preserve. He was 24 years old. His brother is said to live in Portland.

PORTLAND MAN IS EMPLOYER

E. House Says Weist Was Sober and Industrious—Brother Here.

Little could be learned here last night about Charles H. Weist, victim of murder near St. Helens. E. House, of the House Restaurant, on Third street, near Morrison, who, with O. A. Peterson, owns the 700-acre ranch near St. Helens, on which Weist was employed as a keeper, says he had known him about a year.

Before entering the employ of House & Peterson, Weist worked at a sawmill at Stella, Wash. His parents are known to live in Pennsylvania. The only relative of Weist in the West is a brother, who resides in Portland, but who could not be found by the authorities last night.

NEW RATE BASIS IS SET

FRUITGROWERS WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO INCREASE INCOME.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—With the taking effect of Washington's new distributive rates, the necessity of a manufacturing establishment being located in a big city will have passed, so far as the ability to secure low rates is concerned. The new rates will make each industry a jobbing center by itself.

This is the announcement made by the Public Service Commission in connection with the permission given the railroads and express companies to put in a low rate sufficient to cover the cost of transportation, on second-grade fruit for canning purposes, shipped from Olympia, Sherock, Tenino, Hooda and Kelso to the cannery at Puyallup. This will apply in particular to apples, pears, plums and prunes. A great amount of fruit goes to the cannery because the grower cannot market it to advantage, the present rate of 32 cents for freight and 15 cents for express to Puyallup making it almost prohibitive.

Oscar Erickson, 18 years old, who was Nolte's companion in the burglary, was ordered sent to the reformatory.

OBJECTORS TO BOND LOSE

Hood River Will Now Make Sale of $90,000 Bond Issue.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—At an adjourned meeting of the City Council held here tonight a resolution was adopted authorizing the Mayor and Recorder to draw up bonds to the extent of $90,000, to be used for the purpose of constructing a municipal water system and turn them over for immediate delivery to the city Treasurer. This action was deemed necessary because Morris Brothers, Portland attorneys, who have a contract for the purchase of the bond issue, have signified an intention to the Council of refusing to comply with their agreement, having given as one of the reasons the recent litigation against the city by J. F. Hatchler, who was granted a temporary injunction by County Judge G. D. Culbertson to prevent the delivery of the bonds.

CASTLE ROCK LIGHTS OUT

City in Darkness When Contract for Street Lamps Expires.

CASTLE ROCK, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Castle Rock is now in darkness, at least at night, as the lights were turned off for good by the electric company shortly after midnight this morning, because the franchise and contract with the city had expired.

In fact, the two expired last Spring, and a new franchise, carrying with it a contract, was awarded to another company, which had until October 1st to make good. After spending many thousands of dollars in attempting to dam the Toulon River in order to get its power with which to operate a plant, the project was abandoned for this year at least, and the franchise was therefore declared forfeited when the time was up.

Grave possibilities are foreseen by Clyde Atchison, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, should the United States Supreme Court uphold the Sanborn decision in the Minnesota, Oregon, et al. case, which is before that tribunal, coupled with the decision given yesterday in the Southern Railway case, when the court decided that the Interstate Commerce Commission has control of safety appliances on purely intrastate roads as well as interstate roads.

"What may be contained in the discussion of the opinion read yesterday I do not care to comment upon until I have had an opportunity to see the opinion," stated Chairman Atchison today. "It is certain that the opinion will invalidate many of the inspection laws in various states, although Oregon has no such laws. Washington has several such laws, however.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—

"How far the opinion will extend and as to whether it touches on rate-making powers, of course, I cannot say until I see the opinion. But I do know that if the United States Supreme Court upholds the Sanborn opinion and gives the interstate Commerce Commission power to control and regulate intrastate rates which touch on interstate business, grave possibilities are opened up and there will be a revolution in the mode of doing things worse than the revolution of the Civil War.

"It will be necessary to secure proper regulation for an amendment to the Constitution extending the powers of the Congress, and the result will be eventually to extend Federal regulation to all classes of interstate business, even to insurance or to the shipping of a box of prunes from Oregon to Washington.

"The decision yesterday does not materially affect Oregon, although it does prove beyond a doubt that such roads as the Sumpter Valley, the Salem, Falls City & Western and purely intrastate roads are under the control of the Federal Commission and must abide by the Federal safety appliance acts.

"The rate-making question, however, is one of vital importance, and the decision of the Supreme Court in the cases referred to may result in the establishment of a new order of things which will be revolutionary.

"Centralization of power may be correct in theory, but an objection may be found in its possible inefficiency. Such a move as I have discussed would result in a centralization of power which would be vast. Of course, it might be possible for Congress to designate the states as agents of the Federal Government in such regulation as a solution of the problem should arise, but difficulties would be many, and the result problematical."

Woods Electric

It's Time to Order a WOODS ELECTRIC

for your wife's Christmas Present. Last Christmas we weren't able to fill all the orders we got, because they were received too late. If you order now, "your wife can look out of the window Christmas morning and see her present standing there."

How many wives will look and see?

A Rich Present Like the WOODS ELECTRIC

puts your family on the social map. It makes calling a pleasure instead of a duty and a burden. It keeps the women folks in good spirits and good health, because it conserves their pride and takes them constantly into the fresh air. Besides—it squares a multitude of derelictions.

The WOODS Shaft Driven ELECTRIC Is the only electric that rides like a cradle on solid rubber tires. It's the only one that can ride over streetcar tracks and bad streets without painful jolts and bumpy bumps. Its non-reversible steering gear holds the lever firm. It's an awfully swell car—the correct society car—the best quality car. If you doubt it, see the car in demonstration.
