GROCERS HAWKERS' FOE

Fight Over Proposed Increase of License Due Soon.

An effort being made to increase the license of fruit peddlers will be contested at the next meeting of the license committee of the City Council by the hawkers, and will be favored by members of the Grocers' Association. The grocers have engaged counsel to represent them and it is probable that the hawkers will take the same action. Grocers declare that the hawkers often go into residence districts with inferior fruit, which he sells for less than the price of fruit offered for sale by the stores. This injures the grocery trade. It is said, because grocery store patrons then feel that the grocer is maintaining hold-up prices. The grocers say they keep better fruit and have to charge more for it than for the alleged inferior grades sold by the hawkers.
