

JUSTICE HUGHES REFUSES $100,000

Supreme Court Justice Will Not Serve as Trustee of Pulitzer Fortune.

WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

No Announcement Made as to Whether Ralph, Oldest Son, Will Make Any Effort to Secure Ultimate Trusteeship.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The will of Joseph Pulitzer, the newspaper publisher who died recently, was filed for probate today. The terms of the will were made public yesterday.

One of the interesting provisions of the will was that bequeathing to Charles E. Hughes, now associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, the sum of $100,000 in lieu of commissions as trustee and executor.

Other trustees and executors were given $50,000 each in lieu of commissions.

It has not been made public yet whether Ralph Pulitzer, Joseph Pulitzer's oldest son, will take any legal steps to have himself named as one of the trustees of the capital stock of the Pulitzer newspapers, the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, when these properties pass into the hands of him and his brothers, Herbert and Joseph.

Ralph Pulitzer, in a statement issued last night, said that his name was omitted through error and that his father lived and died in the belief that he had designated his oldest son as one of the executors and trustees.

He said the omission had been called to the attention of William B. Hornblower, Joseph Pulitzer's lawyer, that a new draft of the will had been drawn and was in possession of the famous publisher when he died. But this new draft was never executed.

Ralph Pulitzer gets two-tenths of the newspaper property, Joseph one-tenth, and Herbert and Joseph each one-tenth. There are restrictions in the incomes of Herbert and Joseph as to receive until they become 25 years of age.

Miss DeRougemont, who is the divorced wife of W. H. DeRougemont, of New York, the court having permitted her to resume her maiden name, told the immigration officials that the parents of the infant were a French naval officer, the father, she said, was awaiting the arrival of the infant in France, and the immigration regulation which prohibits the entry of any alien under the age of 16, unless accompanied by his parents, was suspended.

Miss DeRougemont, who is known as "the Countess" in Tahiti, where she has lived for several years, is said to be on the way to Switzerland to claim an estate which has been left her.

NAVY-YARDS WILL REMAIN Policy of Specialization Saves Smaller Plants in South.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Although it has been the desire of the Navy Department to abolish several of the smaller Southern Navy-yards, it now seems possible that the adoption of a new policy of specialization will result in the continuance of all the plants in active service. The idea would be to have each station cover some particular station or base of supplies.

The department has decided that hereafter all torpedo-boats and destroyers shall be re-built at the Charleston, S. C. yard. This means that the Charleston plant virtually will be the "mother yard" of torpedo-boats.

An illustration of what the Charleston yard can do was furnished recently, when one of the torpedo-boats bound for New York to participate in the naval rendezvous smashed a cyclinder and put in there. The Charleston mechanics agreed to replace the cylinder in one-third of the time and at one-eighth of the cost demanded by the builders of the vessel.

The Washington yard was turned into an ordnance factory some time ago with satisfactory results.

NOTE TELLER SURRENDERS Old-Time Bank Employee Reported $3,445 Short in Accounts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Learning that a warrant had been issued for his arrest, Darrow A. Hare, a note teller of the Wells-Fargo Bank here, surrendered to the police today and shortly afterward was released on $1000 bail.

The Wells-Fargo Bank a week ago reported an alleged shortage of $3445 in Hare's accounts. The specific amount named in the warrant is $300. Hare had been with the bank for more than 25 years.

Chorus of 6000 Children Sings in Cathedral as Farley and Falconio Prepare for Their Departure for Rome.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Cardinals-designate Archbishop Farley, of New York, and Most Rev. Dionese Falconio, apostolic delegate to Washington, sailed on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilia today for Rome. Thousands shouted and chanted farewells and good wishes for a mile along their path to the river. Each cardinal-designate bared his head throughout the demonstration and bestowed his blessing.

"I have been some time among the American people," said Monsignor Falconio, "and I admire and love them for their intelligence, their warm hospitality and their loyalty. My heart goes out in thanks to them for this magnificent farewell; my blessing is upon them."

"Please thank for me the American people for their many kindnesses," said Archbishop Farley. "I leave my blessing with them."

The cardinals-designate were at their devotions before sunrise. At 9 o'clock they heard in St. Patrick's Cathedral a chorus of 6000 children's voices chanting hymns of farewell. At 9 o'clock an automobile was carrying them at the head of the long line from the cathedral to the Hudson River, through streets a-flutter with flags and bunting.

At the foot of 10th street the cardinals-designate boarded the steamer Rosedale amid cheers and to the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldier," by the band aboard.

The Kron Prinzessin Cecilia was escorted by followers of the cardinals-designate, who flocked aboard, and it was several minutes after scheduled time for sailing when she made her way into the river.

Archbishop Farley is taking with him to Rome one of the finest cardinal's rings in the world. It contains a sapphire with the largest surface of any sapphire in this country. The ring was presented to the archbishop before his departure by a lifelong friend. The blue sapphire is always used for the ring of a cardinal, although the robes of the prelate are red.

Zone Principle Established. The court, however, points out that the orders of the commission which are enjoined "do not establish absolute rates for either the long or short haul, but they do establish a relation between any long haul rate and the short haul rate, determining that from some one, the Western short haul rate shall not exceed the long haul rate, and from zones two, three and four, the short haul shall not exceed the long haul rate by more than 7 per cent, 15 per cent and 25 per cent, respectively.

"Insofar as the commission attempts thus to determine the relation of long and short haul rates irrespective of absolute rates," says the opinion, "it goes beyond any authority that has been vested in it, for it is not in the power of the commission to say that 100 per cent or 187 per cent or any given percentage of an unknown less than reasonable rate to the Coast is necessarily a maximum reasonable and non-discriminatory rate from the same point of origin to an interior point."

"The practical effect of the commission's order is either to compel a blanket rate from the entire East to the entire West or to prevent the carriers from getting all the business which they now secure without loss by making rates which enable merchants to meet market competition.

"In a word, unless some through business is given up, the effect of the order will be to put Spokane and other interior points on an equality with Seattle and other coast points, at Sensation Caused by Mention of Retired Naval Officer in Cross-Complaint Filed by John J. Moores of Redwood City.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Allegations involving Rear-Admiral Phelps, United States Navy, retired, were contained in the cross-complaint of John J. Moores, read in court here today in connection with the suit of Lillian L. Moore for divorce. The Moores are prominent socially here and in San Francisco, the husband being a millionaire.

Mrs. Moore filed suit for divorce October 17, alleging infidelity and cruelty. Five days later Moore filed a cross-complaint alleging cruelty. In the cross-complaint "a man named Phelps, of the United States Navy," was mentioned, but it was not until the case came up for trial before Superior Judge Buck today that a more direct reference to "a distinguished Admiral" was made.

After the court proceedings Rear-Admiral Phelps admitted that he was the "man named Phelps" referred to, but declined to discuss the case, other than to assert that there had been nothing in his friendship for Mrs. Moore that warranted linking his name with the divorce action.

The cross-complaint of Moore, read into the record today, contained the following: "That before their marriage plaintiff complained to defendant that a man named Phelps, connected with the United States Navy, was annoying her with his attentions. After marriage, in the year 1908, defendant's notice was again called to this man because of his attentions to plaintiff, and at their home in Fair Oaks in that year plaintiff admitted to defendant that she and Phelps, before her marriage to defendant, had been intimate."

As a result of the altercation which followed this confession and without any provocation from defendant, plaintiff secured a loaded revolver, and threatened with it to kill herself."

At the trial, Phelps was asked to explain the reference to him in the cross-complaint. He said that he was not the man mentioned in the cross-complaint, but that he was the man mentioned in the cross-complaint.

SEA COMPETITION RECOGNIZED

Traffic Manager Says Railway Competition Is Upheld. Further support of the position taken by Portland and other Coast cities that water competition is the basis of all transportation rates is given by the Commerce Court in its decision declaring the amended fourth section of the Interstate Commerce act constitutional, according to the opinion of R. R. Miller, traffic manager of the O. W. R. & N. Co.

"The Commerce Court gives a very clear expression of its views," said Mr. Miller last night. "It seems to recognize the rights of the carriers to meet competition as they find it."

"The carriers always have felt that they should be permitted to meet the competition of the sea routes. Indeed they have in the past undertaken to do so. It is much in the public interest that they should. Sea competition is so important to the Pacific Coast that it is today and has been in the past—will become more so with the completion and operation of the Panama Canal, creating a condition of equality which it is impossible to pass judgment at this time."

"Certainly, if the carriers are not permitted to engage in traffic to Pacific Coast terminals which necessarily means at rates which will enable them to compete with sea routes—without pulling down automatically all rates to all intermediate territory not subject to the same competition, it will present a situation worthy of most careful consideration by the carriers and by the commercial interests generally."

RELEASE OF ADNA, WASH., MAN BY COURT FOLLOWED BY RE-ARREST. CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Judge Rice today granted a motion for a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release of L. E. Young, the Adna blacksmith who is in jail suspected of murdering Mrs. D. E. Santhoff and burning her body in a hotel at that place early in October.

C. D. Cunningham, attorney for Young, alleged that County Attorney Buxton had failed to file an information against Young within the specified time limit. After hearing the argument of counsel, the court released Young, but he was immediately re-arrested on another complaint, the information being now on file.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure For It. COSTS NOTHING TO TRY. Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet composed of Digestase, Asenap, Peppin, Little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after moderate eating.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trademark it must be a hazardous, whereas, as a matter of truth, any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of catarrh of the stomach, indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally, than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.
