VIRGIL NOLAND IS BURNED TO DEATH

Electric Bathrobe Causes Tragic Death of Oregon "U" Football Star.

FIRE ATTRACTS BROTHERS

Fraternity House at Eugene, Or., Is Scene of Untimely Demise of Popular Young Athlete Who Played in Game Saturday.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Virgil Noland, a freshman at the University of Oregon, and left guard on the varsity football team, which played Washington Saturday, was burned to death in an electric bathrobe in his room at the Sigma Nu Fraternity House today.

No one saw the fatal accident. He was suffering from a slight cold, and did not turn out to football practice in the afternoon. He went to his room shortly after 2 o'clock, saying that he was going to take a hot bath, and go to sleep. A little before 5 o'clock, Hal Bean, his roommate and Sid Henderson, were in the room, and he was then lying on the bed with the bathrobe around him, and apparently asleep. Shortly after 6:30 o'clock the odor of burning cloth was detected in the house, and when Noland's fraternity brothers entered the room, the bed was ablaze.

The flames were extinguished immediately and physicians arrived within a few minutes, but Noland was dead. His body was frightfully burned.

Noland May Have Fainted.

The bathrobe was an electrical contrivance for the generation of heat by resistance similar to electrical foot warmers and electrical pads which are used in hospital work, in place of hot water bottles. It was not equipped with a thermostat for shutting off the current at a certain temperature, and the supposition is that Noland either fainted, or was overcome by fumes generated by the rising heat or possibly the smoke, which threw him into a stupor from which the flames could not rouse him. The resistance coils of the contrivance were in a white heat when discovered.

The body was removed to the Gordon undertaking rooms, and a telephone message was sent to his father, Judge George Noland, at Klamath Falls, Or. Mrs. Noland has been visiting in Portland for some time, and arrived at her home in Klamath Falls tonight.

The fearful accident has cast a profound gloom over the student body of the university. Manager Jones immediately wired the University of Idaho, cancelling the Oregon-Idaho game, scheduled for Saturday, and it is probable that the Multnomah game on Thanksgiving day will be cancelled also, as many of his teammates were members of his fraternity, and their nerves are shattered by his tragic death.

All University May Honor Dead.

Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from his father, but it is probable that the university will suspend work tomorrow afternoon and Friday. Special memorial services will be held by the students and faculty at the time of the funeral. All of the fraternity houses on the campus are in mourning tonight.

Noland was an exceedingly promising student, standing high in his classes, and having made the varsity football team in his freshman year. He attended the Shattuck Military Academy at Faribault, Minn., for a year, and went from there to Portland Academy, where he graduated in 1910. He played fullback on the Portland Academy team. He intended to enter the Washington-Lee Law School after finishing at Oregon.

His father is Judge George Noland, of Klamath Falls. Judge Noland is a graduate of the University of Oregon, having finished in the class of 1889. He was a prominent athlete while in school.

COACH SAYS GAME DATE HOLDS

Oregon-Multnomah Contest Not Affected by Noland's Death, Report.

The Oregon-Multnomah game will be played as scheduled was the announcement made last night by Dow Walker, of the Multnomah Club, after consulting Head Coach Warner, of the University of Oregon, over the telephone. Warner told Walker that Noland's death necessitated the postponement of the game with Idaho, scheduled for Saturday at Eugene, but that it would not interfere with the Multnomah game for Thanksgiving day.

The game scheduled between Multnomah and the St. James Athletic Club of Vancouver, Wash., was cancelled last night by the latter club. Inability to get the team together was given as the cause. It is probable that the Columbus club will take the Washington team's place.

It was learned last night that the University of Washington team will not come here for a post-season game with Multnomah. Walker announced that an effort will be made to have the Seattle Athletic Club squad come here for the New Year's date.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The local lodge of Elks, No. 823, will attend the National convention of Elks in Portland in 1913, more than 200 strong. The members will spring a novelty in that they will all wear the same kind of suits.

At a meeting last night this suit was adopted: Blue Norfolk coat with two pleats down the back and belt, white duck trousers, socks and shoes and light fedora hats. The Elks will be headed by their own band and each member will carry colors and pennants of the lodge.

GROWERS SCENT SCHEME

Spokane Is After Central Selling Agency, Say Apple Men.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—In the call by Chairman W. H. Otis, of the central selling agency for Northwest fruitgrowers, which organization is to meet in Spokane during the Apple Show, apple-raisers of this end of the country see a plan to slide the central agency to Spokane over the heads of the rest of the Northwest. With the call comes the announcement by L. E. Meacham that the Spokane central selling agency is to be the headquarters, and it is believed that the call has been made so that action can be taken while delegates from Spokane preponderate.

The idea of this selling agency was first launched in Portland, and it was later talked over in this city last February, when the committee of which Otis is chairman was appointed. Whether or not this committee has gone into the matter is not known, but it is believed that the plan is merely one to secure the coveted plum for Spokane; and fruitgrowers here freely predict that the delegates at that meeting will indorse the matter and will name Spokane as the selling agency.

It is also believed, however, that there have been so many other agencies springing up in the meantime that any central selling agency on the co-operative plan will be of little effect.

INDIANS CALL CITY PASKA

Umatilla Name for Walla Walla Means Land of Sunflower.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The original Indian name for the City of Walla Walla was "Paska," according to a discovery made yesterday by Major Lee Moorhouse, the best posted man in the Northwest on Indian lore.

The Major was taking the deposition of Kash-Kash, the aged son of ex-Chief Yellow Hawk, of the Umatillas, in connection with the move to secure an adjustment of this tribe's claim against the Government for meat supplied the soldiers in the uprising of 1855-56. The questioner was mystified for some time by the frequent reference of the old Indian to "Paska," in speaking of the location of the troops at that time.

Kash-Kash finally explained that this was the Indian name for what is now the City of Walla Walla and said it meant "the land of the sunflower."

TRAMP IS SLAIN WITH AXE

Schoolchildren of North La Grande Make Ghastly Find.

LA GRANDE, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—His head cleaved asunder by an ax in the hands of some person at present unknown, Dave Fitzgerald, a tramp, recently suffering the loss of his nose in a row with other tramps here, was found dead today by school children in a fire-gutted house in North La Grande.

Two hours after the body was found, three suspects, one wearing blood-stained clothing, were rounded up by the police. Their names are "Scotty," Fred Bloomquist and Fred Limke, or John Shaling. The last named has various cognomens.

Fitzgerald's head was cut to pieces after a drunken carousal in the house where some 10 or 12 tramps participated, but it is thought the killing followed the fist fight a few hours before. No direct evidence is at hand.

ALLEGED THIEF GENEROUS

Man, Whom Doctors Call Sane, Gives Away Clothes to Friends.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Frederick Manthey, alleged shoplifter, who is said to have stolen goods worth more than $250 from local stores, a stove being among the articles, was pronounced sane today by Drs. Mount and Strickland at an examination before the grand jury. The physicians, however, said that he was weak-minded.

It was declared by several persons who had known Manthey two or three years that he had always acted queerly. At least ten suits of clothing, which he is charged with having stolen, he presented to friends. He also gave away other articles.

Hermann Neilson lives two miles south of Junction City, and owns 39 acres of fine farm and fruit land. Morton Neilson lives in Minnesota and has 179 acres of good land there. The two men traded even.

BANK TRIAL TODAY

Judge McKenney to Hear Vancouver Case at Kalama.

PHILIPS TO BE HEARD FIRST

State Bank Examiner Mahundro, Who Closed Commercial Bank, Is Sent For at New Orleans, as He Is Needed as Witness.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The trial of Hugh C. Phillips, formerly president of the Commercial Bank of Vancouver, and present register of the United States Land Office in this city, will begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at Kalama, before Judge H. E. McKenney of the Superior Court.

The state will be represented by Fred W. Tempes, County Attorney, and Martin L. Pipes, of Portland, who has been retained by the County Commissioners and depositors of the bank.

Gilbert W. Daniels will be tried after Phillips' trial is completed.

The Commercial Bank of Vancouver failed to open its doors December 19, 1910, owing approximately $400,000, and of this amount but 10 per cent has been paid in a dividend declared May 1.

Bank Examiner Keeps Word.

For several days before the bank closed J. L. Mohundro, State Bank Examiner, was at the bank and was present at the time that many thousands of dollars of deposits were accepted by Daniels, cashier. He told the officials that if they did not have the legal reserve in the bank on the following Monday morning he would close the bank, and this he did.

The legal reserve had dropped to about $13,000. The capital stock of the bank is $25,000, and an assessment for this amount has been levied and partially paid. Phillips gave as security for his 143½ shares his home on Twelfth street, which is held by the bank.

Most of the money of the bank was lent to less than half a dozen people, who have since gone bankrupt. Rector & Daly, bankrupt, owe the bank $54,000; Swank & Company, bankrupt, $17,000, partially secured by real estate; Moore & Hardin, bankrupt, about $70,000; Central Manufacturing Company, bankrupt, $13,000; F. Aldrich, of Goldendale, $85,000, partially secured, and several individuals from $1000 to $7000 each.

Mohundro's Presence Requested.

Fred W. Tempes has wired Governor Hay to have Mr. Mohundro recalled to the state at once, as he is a material witness in the case. Mohundro is attending a convention of the Bankers' Association at New Orleans, and Governor Hay replied by wire today that he had instructed Mohundro to return.

Not much was done in the matter of prosecuting the bankers until July, when warrants for their arrests were finally served, Phillips and Daniels being charged with accepting money for deposit when they knew that the bank was insolvent. Each was arrested on two counts, and each was released under $10,000 bond. Feeling has been bitter against Phillips, principally, and a petition was circulated and signed and forwarded to Washington, asking that he be asked to resign from the position in the Government Land Office, but this has had no effect.

A. S. Bennett and W. W. McCredie have been retained by the defendant.

SEATTLE SCHOOLS OUT

TEACHERS AND PUPILS DISMISSED FOR PRESENT.

Normal Conditions Will Not Prevail Till Friday and Citizens Are Warned to Boil All Water Now.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The public schools today dismissed teachers and pupils until Monday, and the County and Federal Courts excused jurors and adjourned until Monday.

The water famine is being relieved, but normal conditions will not prevail until Friday. Impure water is being pumped from Lakes Union and Washington and pure water from Swan Lake. Citizens are warned to boil all their water.

The city's workmen are making good progress with the temporary bridge to carry the pipeline across Cedar River, and the regular supply will be turned into the reservoirs Friday night.

Persons who have been accustomed to daily use of the bathtub have suffered greatly during the water famine. Buildings on the higher hills will be without running water until Friday night.

Trains on all railroads are moving as usual, the Northern Pacific and Great Northern trains moving practically on schedule. The Northern Pacific beat its competitors into Vancouver, B. C., by getting through by way of Sumas at 5 o'clock this morning. Milwaukee trains are still using Northern Pacific tracks over the Cascade Mountains, but hopes to have its own line in operation tomorrow afternoon. Traffic on the interurban electric line btween Seattle and Tacoma was resumed today.

Notarial Commission Revoked.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The notarial commission of James Evars, ex-cashier of the defunct Philomath State Bank, was revoked by Governor West today. The reasons for revocation of the commission, as explained by the Governor, were that Evars is charged with making false statements as to the bank's condition and with receiving deposits when he knew the bank was in a state of insolvency.

One Million Dollars for a Good Stomach

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune should serve as a warning to others. Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want everyone troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

If you give Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets a reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00.

Sold only by the Owl Drug Co. Stores in Portland, Seattle, Spokane, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

Nervousness

is in great part due to stomach disorders—Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Before a cure can be effected you must get at the seat of the trouble—the stomach.
