Opening of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's New Political Equality Headquarters in New York Is Made Brilliant Society Affair.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 .- (Special.)-Suffragists, anti-suffragists and others who have not declared their position on the "votes for women" question, attended the opening yesterday of Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont's new political equality association headquarters at Nos. 13 and 15 East Forty-first street. The president of this organization, Mrs. Helmont, had invited 80 of her friends to come and try the 50-cent table d'hete luncheon which is to be served daily at the new suffrage clubhouse. The public opening of this costly club took place toutent.

The guests at Mrs. Belmont's luncheor The guests at Mrs. Helmont's luncheon were men and women prominent in society and after luncheon was over two or three were called upon for short speeches. The luncheon was served in the two resisurants on the ground floot, the Trellis garden and the Dutch room. Each guest carried his own plate to the steam table for soup, meat and vegetables and then returned with it to his seat at one of the small tables. Paper napkins took the place of fine linen.

French Chef Assists.

Mrs. Belmont's French chef assisted the suffrage cook, but the menu was the same as will be offered to the public every day from 11:30 till 2 o'clock. It consists of petite marmite, chicken, fried petatoes, string beans, pies, cake

Afterward the guests visited the other rooms in the clubhouse and many showed a special interest in the depart-ment of hygiens, the "beauty parior" which occupies the front room upstairs. Mrs. Mary Morgan presides over this white shrine of Venus, and already she is overwhelmed by the number of orders for suffrage drugs and beauty preparations. The suffrage "Victory" brand of beautifiers is kept in large white enameled cases and cupboards which line the walls. On one side there is a case devoted to fancy articles such as knitted baby caps and sweaters ribbon sachets and dress hangers and a

been played with a white cloud of fairy girl ballet dancers twirling on their toes. We hope to have it some day in Portland, "Faust" given on the large scale that the composer intended.

Last night the orchestra won new honors, so splendid was its playing, under the artistic Guerriori. The best vocal artist was Sabellico, basso, as Mephistopheles, and he loomed so large in voice and artistry that he dominated the stage from first to last. His rendition of the part also was sardonic and thrillingly impressive.

Ida Fassio made a sweet, girlish Marguerite and sang and acted with skill, and Angelo Antela, the eminent baritone, received a deserved ovation for his portrayal of Valentine, the soldier brother. Scarcetti, tenor, was the Faust, and he erred it, making it

"LA BOHEME" TO BE HEARD

Patrons' Request Acceded To by Opera Company Management.

So many requests have been made to the Hellig Theater management that the Lambardi Opera Company play Puccini's "La Boheme," before the present season of grand opera ends, that arrangements have been completed whereby the Lambardis will present "Boheme" at the Heilig. Thursday night. The opera is most favorably known in this city, its tunes are played on many family planos and its genuine humor and its quick change to pathos, create a most pleasing impression. Its motif is a clever and appealing portrayal of artistic life in Bohemian Paris, about the year 1830, and its principal characters are those of Rudelph, the poet; Schaunard, the musician; Marcel, the painter; Colline, the philosopher, and Mimi, the grisette. The music tells the story of the opera in doctor who sells his soul to the devil for the gift of youth so that he may win the heart of fair Marguerite. The a most charming manner.

A sensation has been caused by the discovery that the National Assembly, the Chinese foreign board and the board of finance held three different texts of the $30,000,000 loan agreement negotiated by Baron Cottu in behalf of a French-Belgian syndicate. This was discovered, it was said, when a representative of the Chinese foreign board appeared before the National Assembly in secret session.
