For 40 years we have been manufacturing and distributing direct to the people good, reliable clothing and woolen goods, and always at the right price. Five large successful stores today tell us that our liberal policy of always doing the square thing, and paying strict attention to our own business, has been a decided success.

We have now on hand about two thousand Boys' Suits, ages 6 to 17 years. Some of them are hanging in clothing cabinets, some on our tables and plenty more in our reserve room. These Suits are all anxious to run around the balance of the season with a good, live boy. Just so the boys will remember our age we will for the next fifteen days give the pick and choice, without reserve, any Boy's Suit in the store for only

$4.85

The regular prices are $5, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $10 and $12.50. No matter how fine a Suit or what the price, $4.85 will get it for the next fifteen days.

We thank our many friends for their patronage and confidence shown in the past, and now that we celebrate, we want you to come in and help yourself to a good warm suit or overcoat at a very little price.

HILLMAN MUST SERVE

COURT OF APPEALS CONFIRMS MILLIONAIRE'S SENTENCE.

Seattle Man Convicted of Using Mails to Defraud in Land Schemes Dealt Blow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed today the conviction and sentence in the case of Clarence Dayton Hillman, the Seattle millionaire, found guilty of using the mails in promoting fraudulent land schemes, and also confirmed the conviction of E. B. Kirk and M. J. Webb, detectives employed by Hillman, and who were caught trying to bribe the jurors in the case. Hillman, according to the indictment, used the Postoffice as a means of promoting his various land schemes. It was charged that he had fraudulently represented that railroads would be cut through his land, that seaports would be built and cities established on his tracts, when, as a matter of fact, he had no idea of making any improvement at all. The indictment against him was found in October, 1910, and his sentence was fixed by Judge Donworth at two years and six months in the Federal prison on McNeill's Island, together with a $2500 fine. Hillman brought every influence to bear on the court in fighting his case and only recently was subjected to a heavy fine in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco because of inspiring his employees to write letters to the Judges of that court, setting forth Hillman's private virtues and the reason why his conviction should not stand.

HILLMAN TO APPEAL HIGHER

Seattle Man Will Carry Case to United States Supreme Court.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 4.—The case of the United States against Clarence Dayton Hillman, the Seattle real estate dealer, reputed to be worth several million dollars, is to be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States. Simultaneously with the announcement of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco today, denying his appeal to that body from the lower Federal court in Seattle, and confirming his conviction and sentence, came the announcement, through Hillman's attorney, Frederick Burch, that the case would be taken to the highest tribunal in the land.

GRAZING TROUBLE ENDS

IDAHO WOOLGROWERS AGREE WITH FOREST SERVICE.

Differences Settled and Both to Work in Harmony According to Present Indications.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 4.—(Special.)—The lion and the lamb laid down together here today when the Idaho Woolgrowers' Association and the representatives of the Forest Service agreed to forget their differences of the past and stand together on a working basis harmonious to both, by which the sheep grazed in National forests will be given just as much range as the service can map out. The get-together action was taken at a meeting held at the Owyhee Hotel, when resolutions were adopted and accepted by the Forest Service representatives, by which no cuts will be made upon any sheepman grazing his flocks within the reserve. The three-year lease limit was also modified, the Forest Service agreeing to allow permit holders the right to transfer their rights and the purchaser will have use of range called for by the permit, "within the reserve." District Forester Sherman was delegated to draft the new rules for the reserve with the assistance of F. R. Gooding.

SEATTLE CONSUL QUILTS

CHINESE REPRESENTATIVE EXPECTS REBELS TO WIN.

Goon Dip Notifies Manchou Minister at Washington That He Sees "Handwriting on Wall."

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—Coincident with the wave of revolutionary spirit that has swept Chinese colonies on the Pacific Coast the past few weeks, during which open demonstrations have been made by the younger Chinese, who are heartily in sympathy with their rebellious brothers across the Pacific, comes the authentic news that Goon Dip, Imperial Chinese Consul to Seattle, has tendered his resignation to the Chinese Minister at Washington, D. C. That the Seattle Chinese representative under the Manchou dynasty saw the "handwriting on the wall" and resigned before the time arrived, when the rebels would take into their hands the government of the Chinese nation, is the belief of the insurgent Chinese of Seattle. Together with Goon Dip's resignation the message carried to the Legation at Washington the resignation of his consular secretary, Chin Keay.

The resignations of Goon Dip and his aide were submitted to Washington three weeks ago, and that this step was taken by them, first because of the almost certain overthrow of the Manchou dynasty, and secondly, because of the demonstration of sympathy for the insurgent forces by Seattle Chinese, is emphatically asserted by the latter. Goon Dip could not be found at a late hour today, nor could his secretary. Reports as to whether their resignations had been accepted were variable. That neither the official nor his assistant had allied themselves with the Seattle revolutionary spirits, is said by leaders of the movement, but many prophesied that if their resignations had not been accepted already, they might make that action as soon as they were.
