Rich American Cut Glass

—There IS a difference in cut glass. A casual glance through a show window or a show case will not reveal the shortcomings nor the defects of inferior glass.
—Upon close inspection you will find that the glass blanks are thinner, the color lifeless, the moulds, instead of being entirely cut by hand, are merely recut over pressed patterns. Then, again, when finished this inferior glass is polished with acid and only retains its brilliancy for a short while.
—Such cut glass never finds an opening wedge in this store.
—Today we have ready for your inspection a most complete exhibition of rich American cut glass, heavy, sparkling, scintillating pieces deeply cut in attractive patterns, with a lasting brilliancy.
—Beautiful examples in bowls, nappies, dishes, ferneries, vases, tumblers, cruets and carafes.

Ivory Baskets

—In Naples, tucked away in a narrow side street, is a famous curio shop. The sign over the door informs you that the shop has been in existence for almost two centuries.

—They make a specialty of marbles, glassware and baskets. These baskets are faithful reproductions of antiques in popularity three and four centuries ago.

—A Yankee manufacturer on pleasure bent admiring the beauty of these baskets was at once struck with the idea that these could be reproduced in America. Purchasing a number of samples he returned to New York, and the baskets now on sale show how shrewdly he reckoned.

—Compared with the Italian baskets it is impossible to detect the difference.

—In price the Yankee beats the Italian, for there is no duty to pay. You pay half as much here as you would in Italy.

—Ours is the only store fortunate enough to secure a representative assortment of these beautiful baskets.

E. G. LEWIS SCORES

Indictment Charging Use of Mails to Defraud Quashed.

LONG CONTROVERSY ENDS

Federal Judge Kills Accusation
Against St. Louis Publisher-Promoter Said to Have Begun
From Cortelyou's Spite.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—The indictment against E. G. Lewis, the St. Louis and University City, Mo., publisher, banker, manufacturer and promoter, charging him with using the mails to defraud, was today quashed by United States District Judge Trieber.

Lewis fought the Postoffice Inspectors' accusations vigorously, alleging that the charge developed from a spite against him held by George B. Cortelyou, then Postmaster-General. He asserted that he was being persecuted by the Postoffice Department. A sensation was caused when ex-Third Assistant Postmaster-General Madden published a scathing criticism of the department for its charges against Lewis.

The various enterprises in which Lewis has been the promoter and dominating spirit during the last few years have involved millions. He published the National Woman's Daily, organized the American Women's League, of which he is president, the People's Savings Trust Company. Most of the Lewis enterprises were directed by him at a "city beautiful" community he established and known as University City. The buildings erected by the Lewis interests there are said to have cost $2,000,000.

Lewis has made and lost several fortunes, it is said. He promoted companies for all manner of industries, from the manufacture of toothpaste and foot powder to grape-growing.

Since the Postoffice Department first made the charges against Lewis, he has been in legal hot water. Suits were instituted last summer to have receivers named for all his companies, and in that connection the charge was made that Lewis defrauded investors. He denied this charge as vigorously as any of the others, and the American Women's League asserted that it believed in him.

Lewis has said that he is a victim of a conspiracy to ruin him begun in the Postoffice Department.

Spurious Treasury Notes Directs
Secret Service Men to Printing
Press and Dies.

SEATTLE, Dec. 5.—The printing plant of Albert Leon, the celebrated counterfeiter who was arrested in New York October 3, was brought to Seattle today from Nootka Island, British Columbia, packed in three trunks, and will be shipped to New York at once, to be used in the trial of Leon.

The hiding place of the outfit on Nootka Island was found from the following description furnished to Secret Service officers by Leon after his arrest: "Measure 200 feet back of the cabin on Nootka Island; pace 20 feet east and an equal number south, climbing down dark ravines and through an almost impenetrable forest. Travel in a semi-circle due north 15 more paces and pause before three fallen trees. There you will find the treasure."
Secret Service Agent Glover, with the precious plant, was on the steamship Tees when she was fog-bound in Kluquot Sound last week, and that was

Abscesses

"I should feel guilty of ingratitude if I did not tell of the benefit I have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. Five ugly and painful abscesses formed in the lower part of my abdomen. I was confined to my bed thirteen weeks, and the pain was almost unbearable. A neighbor suggested that I try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did. I began to improve immediately. The abscesses began to heal, and I took the medicine until I was well." John Wallace, Field Sec. Y. M. C. A., Pittston, Pa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of twenty different ingredients.

one reason why the revenue cutter Teahome hastened to the rescue of the Tees. Glover and his trunks were taken off the steamer and brought here. In the hidden recesses of a forest on Nootka Island, which is tucked away on the coast of Vancouver Island, Glover and Thomas B. Foster, captain in charge of Secret Service work, found Leon's cabin several months ago. Much incriminating material was obtained, but the outfit itself was missing. Then it was that Eastern Treasury agents induced Leon to draw the chart describing the outfit's location.

Included in the outfit is the blue seal for stamping Treasury notes, dies, a whole drugstore of chemicals, an unique printing press invented by Leon himself for stamping the paper and pressing together the notes with silk threads between, and the photographic outfit, with which the notes were photographed on dies.

A banknote purporting to be that of the First National Bank of Portland was the fourth bank note believed to be Albert Leon's work that came to the notice of the secret service authorities on the Pacific Coast. This was located here shortly after the finding of the notes of the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, which was secured October 7 in Portland. All the found notes which are believed to have been the work of Leon and his associates were considered good in typographical ways, but a little off color. Leon did not counterfeit many notes on Pacific Coast banks, largely, it is said, because his own plant was on this Coast, on Vancouver Island. Few notes of the four banks, which he attempted in Oregon and in California, were made, and the damage done by Leon on the Pacific Coast is considered slight.

PIANOLA PIANOS MUST
and Shall Be Sold or Rented Before the Holidays, No Matter What the Sacrifice
PAY ONLY $8.00 A MONTH

THE PIANOLA PIANO WAS considered the very best Player Piano up to some time ago. But the many improvements developed in the Autopiano have relegated the other instrument far to the rear. There are now more than twice as many Autopianos sold than all other makes of Player Pianos combined.

WE HAD TO CHOOSE between the Autopiano and the instrument made by the combine. We should have been guilty of faithlessness to the interests of the thousands of people who buy of us annually, the people who repose confidence in us, if we had not decided in favor of the Autopiano.

WE ARE NOW DETERMINED to get rid of all Pianola Pianos, no matter what the sacrifice. The injunction secured by the Combine recently, whereby it was intended to compel us to adhere to certain big retail prices, has been dissolved. Eilers Music House has the right to sell Pianola Pianos at any price it sees fit, provided it offers them as so-called "second-hand." Thus it is that Pianola Pianos that have never been used, and are the latest improved types, are ticketed in our salesroom as "second-hand."

Our Special Offer
Pianola Pianos at the reduced prices, as heretofore advertised, on payments of $8 down and $8 a month. Remember there are no extras. Rent a Pianola Piano at $8 a month, and if, at any time within a year, you determine to buy it, we will allow all rent paid toward purchase price.

Nothing could be fairer—nothing more liberal. On this basis we ought to dispose of every Pianola Piano in our establishment before the Holidays.
