

MEET JONES TO BE LEAGUE CHIEF

Northwestern Magnates to Make Famous White Sox Leader President.

CHOICE THOUGHT CERTAIN

Four Club Owners Favor Sterling Baseball Man as Successor to Judge Lindsay—Executive Office to Be in Portland.

BY W. J. PETRAIN.

Fielder A. Jones, ex-leader of the Chicago American League, is to be the next president of the Northwestern League, and this means that the executive office of that organization will be in Portland.

As the Northwestern League is in need of a thorough baseball man, as its chief executive, and Jones is rated as one of the best baseball men in the country, his selection means a great deal to that circuit.

If Fielder Jones is elected president of the Northwestern League, that organization for the first time in its history will have a man at the helm who will be president of the league in fact as well as in name.

Resides having made a name for himself on the baseball field, Jones has also proved himself a successful business man.

As a batting base yesterday, Joe Tinker told a yarn on Larry Schaffly, the ex-Portland second baseman, who pulled off an unusual triple play here in 1908.

"I don't remember the year exactly, but Jimmy Casey wrenched his knee in a game against Pittsburg, and Schaffly had to play in his place. I was sent in to play third base. Schaffly took up his position, but when he saw that I was Wagner was at bat, backed out on the grass.

"I looked toward him and when I saw him playing so deep, yelled to the pitcher to wait a minute, and ordered Schaffly to play in. For Wagner is a good hunter. Larry had no sooner taken his position when Wagner laced one at him going a mile a minute.

"I'll be hanged if I will; let him hunt if he wants to, and he could not be persuaded to play any closer for me. I had just pitched the ball, and he did not play third any more for Chicago."

Negotiations are now pending between Tommie Sheehan and the management of the Tacoma Club to secure the Beaver third baseman as captain and third baseman of the Tigers next season.

Sheehan is in San Francisco, and George Shreder, owner of the Tigers, is delaying a final agreement with Sheehan pending the outcome of his possible sale of the club to Tacoma capitalists.

Evanson Academy to Duplicate Trip of Oak Park Last Year.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Evanson Academy will make a Western football trip this season, leaving the city December 19, with two games arranged. The first match will be with Washington High School of Portland, and the second will be played January 1 with Tacoma High School at Tacoma.

Challenges have been received by Evanson from Wenatchee, the team that lost to Oak Park last year, Pendleton at Spokane, Spokane High and high schools at Aberdeen and Salem. Dr. Kellogg Patterson will have charge of the trip as business manager, as he did with the Oak Park team he took to the Western Coast last year.

This team defeated Washington High School 6-2, Paul Russell winning the game in the last few minutes with a plunge through the line. It also won from Wenatchee 12-0.

Coach Perkins of Washington High, was on the 1909 University of Chicago team. He has produced several high school teams on the Pacific Coast.

NEW COACH EXPERT

O. A. C. Gets Noted Athlete as Physical Director.

EASTERN MAN IS ENGAGED

Dr. E. J. Stewart, Professional Football Player in His Day, to Pay Particular Heed to Students' Physical Needs.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Dec. 6.—(Special.)

Announcement was made today from the office of the president at the Oregon Agricultural College that Dr. E. J. Stewart has been appointed professor of physical education and director of athletics.

"I feel that it is of great importance that the physical welfare of the student body as a whole should receive most careful and expert attention," said President Kerr yesterday.

Dr. Stewart comes to Oregon Agricultural College from Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., where he has had charge of physical education of all the men in the institution. He was, besides, head coach in athletics. In this period Allegheny has won the championship in football, basketball, basketball and track.

In 1908 Dr. Stewart coached the Purdue basketball team, which took second in the Western Conference League.

Dr. Stewart will have charge of all athletics at O. A. C., acting as advisory coach in the different branches of sport. He will be assisted in the major branches by special coaches, but will coach track and basketball teams himself.

Graduated from the Steubenville, O., High School in 1895, Dr. Stewart attended Seelye College, and afterward took his degree in medicine from Western Reserve University. While at Western Reserve, he played three years on the football team, the track team, basketball team and baseball team, captaining both the latter twice in that time. He then played one year on the Mount Union College team, which he also coached. He organized, played quarterback and coached the famous Massillon Tigers, a professional football team, composed entirely of former college players, most of whom were from the big Eastern universities.

He played professional baseball in the Ohio and Pennsylvania League, a class B organization, and professional basketball in the Central Basketball League of the United States.

Dr. Stewart will pay particular attention to the physical condition of the student body. To attain this result, he will introduce physical tests such as are used in all Eastern universities.

PORTLAND TO HAVE CONTINUOUS BALL

Pacific Coast League Magnates Raise No Objection to Two-Club Plan.

SEASON TO LAST 30 WEEKS

Beavers Open at Los Angeles, but Seals Have First Series on Portland Home Lot—Important Points Come Up Today.

ACTION TAKEN AT COAST LEAGUE MEETING.

McCredie given permission to install Northwestern League club in Portland for season 1912.

Allan T. Baum elected president, secretary and treasurer of Coast League for five years.

Portland to open in Los Angeles, Oakland in San Francisco and Vernon in Sacramento. San Francisco, for first time in history of league, will open the season in Portland.

Matters Yet to Be Discussed. Double umpire system. Arrangement of schedule and problem of whether there shall be Sunday morning games outside of Oakland and Washington, Oakland. Adoption of an official ball.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—(Special.)

With every club represented, the Pacific Coast League began its annual session today at the St. Francis Hotel.

About half the important matters that are to come up for discussion were passed over by the directors, who adjourned late tonight until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Such matters as were necessarily postponed will be brought up at that time. It is believed the delegates will wind up their business some time tomorrow afternoon.

Vernon was the only club represented by proxy at the meeting. Ed F. Mafese was unable to make the trip and Happy Hogan held the proxy of his absent boss.

One of the most important of the matters acted on was the decision of the directors to limit the season to 30 weeks, as was the case last year. It is much easier to arrange a schedule on such a basis. The season will open Tuesday afternoon, April 2, and will close Sunday, October 27.

McCredie Not Opposed.

Oakland, having first choice by rotation to open in San Francisco, Portland will go to Los Angeles and Vernon to Sacramento. At the combined request of W. W. McCredie and Frank M. Lutz, it was decided to let the Seals open the Portland season against the Beavers, something that has never occurred in the past.

There was absolutely no objection to the request of the Portland team for permission to install a Class B team in the Pacific Northwestern League.

The election, following the annual football banquet at the Hotel Oxburn, was the most spirited in athletic history at the university. Twelve men were eligible to vote, the two candidates not balloting by mutual agreement.

Captain-elect Walker has been a regular backfield man on the varsity for three seasons, having played a consistent game at left halfback through the season just ended. He is a good student and is popular on the campus, being president of the junior class.

Walker is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS

MUCH interest is already shown about the track training camps of the high schools over the track meet at the University of California next Spring. This meet will be an all-Pacific-Coast affair for both colleges and high schools.

Meetings will be held today in all the high schools to arrange a reconciliation between the principals and the students. Some time ago I wrote and other disturbances after games became so numerous that the three principals, Hopkin Jenkins, H. H. Herdman and T. T. Davis put a stop to all contests between their schools until the students should promise to behave.

Basketball practice started at Jefferson High yesterday with a strong turnout. Coach Dake will take charge at once and will endeavor to get the team in shape to meet Hood River High at Hood River December 15.

Several of the old men are still at the school and with the advantage of their own gymnasium, ought to turn out a strong organization. Lincoln uses the Y. M. C. A. floor. Owing to crowded conditions at the institution, only 10 men can turn out on any one night.

$10,000 traction line extension to serve the ball park.

To back up the application for admittance to the league, at a meeting of the baseball men tonight the matter was finally decided and J. T. Crawford and J. L. Sharpstein were named to put the movement through.

Draper Is Five Points Ahead.

Charles Draper, the Kansas City pool expert, came back strong yesterday in the third night's play of the 600-point continuous pool match and overtook Henry Solomon's lead of 81 points.

SEATTLE QUILTS COLD

GAMES BETWEEN HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS CALLED OFF.

Husky Portland Lads to Substitute Game Against Multnomah Club

Eleven for Next Saturday.

Refrigerated feet on the part of Seattle high school principals resulted last night in the cancellation of the proposed all-star high school football game between Seattle and Portland, scheduled for Saturday on Multnomah Field.

The sudden apathy of the Seattle school officials will not be allowed to put a crimp in local plans for a game Saturday, however, for arrangements have been completed for the local all-stars to go against the champion Multnomah Athletic Club team.

Multnomah will be minus the services of Halfbacks Clarke and Wolff, who are out through injuries received in the Oregon game. Hickson, star end, is also on the hospital list, so the heavy scholastic lads figure they will have a good chance with the winged "M" men.

Coach Rinehart had the boys out for a stiff workout last night and the news from Seattle struck like a thunderbolt. The boys are enthusiastic, though, over the opportunity to meet Multnomah.

Two additional Lincoln men turned out last night, Condit and Tuerck, and not one of the starry candidates for quarter, also appeared in a suit. Bibee of Jefferson will undoubtedly hold down one of the ends. Campbell of Jefferson and Hedger, a rival of Tyson at center, are expected in suits today.

With Clark and Wolff and Hickson out of the game, this high school bunch will make Multnomah hustle," said Coach Rinehart, who is also captain of the winged "M" last night. "Person would rather see that game than the Seattle-Portland. I don't know whether the boys will permit me to play against them. Of course I would not tip off their signals and would play in the backfield defensively, so I guess it wouldn't matter."

GOIN GIVES CAPTAINCY

DEAN WALKER TO HEAD OREGON FOOTBALL MEN.

Tackle Bailey Tied for Honor on Five Ballots, but Flip of Silver Favors His Opponent.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The flip of a coin tonight won the 1912 football captaincy at the University of Oregon, where Dean H. Walker, of Independence, after the votes cast by the "O" men of the team stood 5 to 5 on five successive ballots.

Edward F. Bailey, of Eugene, the 227-pound right tackle, was favored by the fall of the silver coin on only the first of the three tosses.

The election, following the annual football banquet at the Hotel Oxburn, was the most spirited in athletic history at the university. Twelve men were eligible to vote, the two candidates not balloting by mutual agreement.

Captain-elect Walker has been a regular backfield man on the varsity for three seasons, having played a consistent game at left halfback through the season just ended. He is a good student and is popular on the campus, being president of the junior class.
