Court Upholds Officials.

Holding that a sufficient showing had not been made to convince him that the city officers were about to defraud the taxpayers and declaring that the courts presume, in the ab-sence of proof to the contrary, that sence of proof to the contrary, that public officials are doing and will do their duty towards the public. Presid-ing Judge Gatens yesterday dissolved the temporary injunction issued last week restraining the city from accepting and paying for the new creatory. Deputy City Attorney Latourette, ap

Deputy City Attorney Latourette, sp-pearing for the city, presented affi-davits signed by City Health Officer Wheeler: D. E. Otis, expert engineer at present in charge of the operation of the crematory, and C fi Feldman. Although he has during his entire lifetime been opposed to equal suffrage W. M. Davis has come to view the ques-tion from the standpoint of the fair sex and anfiounced yesterday that he is clared in his sworn statement that in October 1141 tons of garbage was COP October 3141 tons of garhage was con-sumed at an average cost of 51.5 cents per ton. In November the cost was per 10m. In November the cost was 50.5 cents a tun for 2899 tons. The maximum price named in the contract was 52.5 cents a ton. All three de-nied the presence of noxious gases, ex-plaining that gases were consumed at 1206 degrees Fahrenheit, and that an excession temperature of 1806 degrees is average temperature of 1800 degrees is maintained in the combustion chamber.

Complaint Held Insufficient.

Dr. Wheeler explained in his affi-davit that the contract calls for a onsumption by one unit of 100 tons in 24 hours, and 150 tons in the same length of time with both units in operation. The plant had, he said, incinerated an average of 119 tens a day on one side for seven days, and 168 tons on both sides. In September, when H. N. Napler was superintendent, 2542 tons of garbage were consumed at cents a ton, the doctor stated. Mr. Latourette also attacked the sufficiency of the complaint, saying that Mayor Rushlight was only one mamber of the Board of Health out of five. It was on the strength of the Mayor's statement that the plant was to be accepted that Joseph Slosson and Gust Wilds commenced action, alleging the crematory to be wholly insufficient and declaring that the payment of the balance of $40,000 due the Public Works Engineering Company would be a wanton waste of the public funds. It was also alleged that noxious gases escaping.

Attorney Coan, appearing for the plaintiffs, called attention to the clause plaintiffs, called attention to the clause of the original contract which states that if after six months' trial the cre-matory should prove unacceptable to the Board of Health and Mayor it should be removed from the bity prop-erty. He urged that the four months' extension of the trial period was il-legal, and that the plant should have been removed at the expiration of the six months' test, when it was rejected by Mayor Simon and the Board of by Mayor Simon and the Board of Health then in existence, the majority of the members of which are the same
