72-HOUR CHICAGO TRAIN WON BY HILL

Big Merger Is Augured in Plan That Puts Hill on Equal Footing With Rivals.

C. & N. W. LEASES TRACKS

Fast Passenger to Leave Windy City Every Night - Two Through Trains to Be Result-Howard Elllott Reveals Change.

What may prove the first step in the amalgamation of the Northern Pacific and the Chicago & Northwestern is furnished in the announcement from Chicago yesterday that an agreement had been reached between the two roads by which the Northern Pacific will get its North Coast Limited into Chicago over the Northwestern road. This improved services will be effective beginning December 17. ig December 17.

ning December 17.

For some time it has been rumored that an amalgamation of these two roads would follow the recent $600,000,000 hand issue provided by J. J. Hill. Another result of these negotiations may mean that the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern will settle their partnership in the Burlington, the North Rank and various other Oregon North Bank and various other Oregon roads. This would leave the Northern Pacific free to form a new relationship with the Northwestern, and in ex-change for the trackage agreement between Chicago and St. Paul it is pos-sible the Northwestern may arrange to extend its service over the Northern Pacific tracks into Portland and Puget Pacific tracks into Portland and Puget Sound.

Elliett, Reveals Pian.

Howard Elliott, president of the Northern racific, resterday telegraphed the editor of The Oregonian, announcing the completion of arrangements between the Northern Pacific and the Northwestern by which the North Coast Limited will be operated direct into Chicago over the Northwestern road. This agreement has been under consideration for six months. President Elliott's telegram follows:

"Arrangements have been completed between the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company and the Northern Pacific Railway Company for a through passenger train between Chicago and the North Pacific Coast over the roads named. The Northern Pacific's train known as the North Coast Limited, will, on and after December 17, run to and from Chicago over the Northwestern Road and serve not only Chicago and its tributary territory, but also milwaukee and interior Wisconsin. The train will leave Chicago at 10 o'clock every night, arriving at St. Paul at 16:30 o'clock the next morning. Eastbound, the train leaves St. Paul at 18:30 A. M. and arrives in Chicago at 9 P. M. The time from Chicago at 9 P Paul at 10:30 octock the lext historing. Eastbound, the train leaves St. Paul at 8:30 A. M. and arrives in Chicago at 9 P. M. The time from Chicago to the North Pacific Coast will be 72 hours westbound and 72 hours eastbound, the same as is made by other through trains between Chicago and North Pacific Coast points.

Through Service Provided.

There will be no change in the time of the North Coast Limited between St. Paul, Minneapolis and the Pacific Coast over the Northern Pacific. Under this plan the communities served by the Northern Pacific will have the benefit of through train service to and from Northern train service to and from the Chicago via both the Burlington and Northwestern reads and to and from Mliwaukee and Central Wisconsin via the Northwestern Road."

The arrangement that has by the Northern Pacific with the North-western will be a decided advantage to the Northern Pacific, which has heretofore been unable to get its fast North Coast Limited into Chicago, This company has been maintaining a direct service into Chicago from North Pacific company has been maintaining Coast points over the Burlington. The Breat Northern has been entering Chirage over the Burlington, and the Union Pacific has been furnishing a similar service. The Northern Pacific new will be placed on the same footing as its two competitors for passen-ger business and it will make the same time of 72 hours between Chicago and Pertland and other North Pacific Coast

Hill Service Now Like Others.

A. D. Chariton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, said last night that he had not been advised officially that the agreement between the Northern Pacific and Northwestern had been completed. He admitted it had been under consideration for several weeks.

The trackage agreement between the two roads does not mean an additional train in and out of Portland over the Northern Pacific. The effect of the con-tract is to extend the North Coast Limited, the fast through train of the Northern Pacific, from St. Paul into Chicago over the Northwestern and place President Elliott's road on an equality with the Great Northern and the Harriman system in competing for through passenger business between Chicago and Portland and other North Pacific Coast points.

BRIDGE REMEDY PROPOSED

Rose City Park League Indorses Collapsible Steamer Stacks.

At the meeting of the Rose City Park League last night a resolution was in-troduced by J. W. Travers starting a movement to require, by legislation, all steamboats on the Willamette River to use collapsible smokestacks so they can pass under bridges without the draws being opened. It was recited that this method is used in many cities of the old country and the United States with success and that it will be a solution of the question of doing away with the delays caused by opening the draws of delays caused by opening the draws of the bridges. The resolution was adopted unanimously. C. B. Merrick, L. R. Bailey and A. F. Allshaw were appointed to start a movement to pave Alameda avenue for its entire length through Rose City Park, Beaumont, Alameda Park and other districts to Fremont street, the street being considered next in impor-tance with Sandy boulevard. It was re-ported at the meeting that the street railway company and the Council com-mittee probably will agree on the terms of the franchises asked, including the franchise on Sandy boulevard.

At the election for the ensuing year the following were elected: President, the following were elected: President, T. T. Geer, re-elected; vice-president, C. B. Merrick: secretary, Harold Newland; directors, O. G. Hughson, A. H. Metcalf, F. E. Hilton and H. J. Blaesing.

Two of them were the perfectly dandy papa and mamma of the tardy one-Fred Niblo, and his wife, who is Josephine Cohan professionally.

The minutes wagged along and still young Master Fred Niblo tarried some-

"He went for what he calls his constitutional," began the absurdly youth-ful-looking mother of the laggard, when, with triumphant consciousness of a freshly-scrubbed countenance and treading high and mighty in a brand new pair of shoes, the scion of the House of Niblo hore down upon us.

"I've walked six miles today," he ane nounced, after he had kissed his mother and greeted the others. "I know it's six miles by this way, Daddy," he hastened on, as he noted the lifted eyebrows. "The reason is because I am allowed to eat it alone. You see," he confided, earnestly, "mother doesn't come to carly breakfast, and usually I'm up long before father is, so I have my breakfast alone. I like it, too. I experiment—do you know what I mean? No? Well I order whatever I don't know anything about on the bill of fare. This morning I had something labeled Turkish roses.

"My dear." expostulated his mother, pen-eyed amazement written large on er brow at this departure from beaten pathways in prosate things like break-

"Really, mumsy," replied Master Fred, "It wasn't half bad, but I couldn't eat much of them. I smelled them and they were just like roses. Sometimes I do not fare so well, and get things I positively can't eat. But it's great fun. I'm hungry this noon, my walk was pretty strenuous, but I made somehow a dreadful mistake this morn-

Tell us about it, chief," said daddy.

"Well, you see I had only eaten a bit of that Turkish roses dish, and I was playing along with it, and the waiter brought me my check. I signed it, and not realizing he had butted in too early I got up and left a lot of real grub I wanted very badly. And I remembered I wanted it just as I got to the door. Would it have been all right if I had gone back, mother?"

"It would have been all right," said "mother."

"Not for mine," he asserted. "I want to be a historian. I love to read about wars and things that occur in governments, you know, troubles and taxes and tyranny. I have a big library at home and all my books are of history. Oh, sometimes," with disdainful mien, "the folks sip one in on me with a story hitched on, but I'm not keen for that. Just now I am interested in Indians. It's because I'm in their land, I guess. I know after I came back from Africa..."

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The large high-pressure field in the Northwest still overlies the Pacific Northwest, but it is moving slowly eastward and the pressure has begun to decrease along the Washington coast. Relatively high pressure obtains also over the central portion of the United States, while in the Southwest, on the eastern slope of the Appalachian Highland, and in Central Canada, the pressure is nearly normal. Within the last 12 hours light precipitation has occurred in Sankatchewan, Manitoba, Northern Utali, Texas, Louisiana, Tonnessee, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Western New Tork and the British province of Quebec.
