Engineers to End Task Here Tomorrow and Report From New York, Probably in Two Months. Tube Service Is Predicted.

An appeal for the East Side was made yesterday before the Commission of Public Docks and the board of New York engineers investigating the situation with regard to public docks by delegations from the East Side Business Men's Club and the United Improvement Clubs Association.

Despite its large percentage of taxes, Edward Newbegin, of R. M. Wade & Co., asserted the East Side was destitute of any public building whether local or National and he demanded that consideration be given to public docks on that bank of the Willamette River. He was applauded vociferously by the

HILLSBORO, Or., Dec. 15 .- (Special.) -William Lind, aged 26, today pleaded guilty to resisting an officer at Beaver. on, and was sentenced to four months ton, and was sentenced to four months in the county jail.

Several weeks ago Lind and three young men from Tigard went to Beaverten and proceeded to get hilarious. Two of the party were thrown in jail by the Marshal and Constable, and Lind started to the jail to release his fellow-roisterers. Deputy Constable Hunter ordered him to throw up his hands, but Lind fied. Hunter fired, the bullet striking Lind in the shoulder. The restriking Lind in the shoulder. The re-mainder of the quartet in the imbroglio were sentenced and paroled, except H. Kuehne, who paid a $75 fine.

STUDENTS AIDING VARSITY

Young Folks of Old Willamette Make Appeal for Endowment.

SALEM. Or., Dec. 15-(Special.)-The students of Willamette University manifested their interest in the endowment campaign of that university to day at the chapel service. They signed a petition to the "parents, patrons and Methodists of the Northwest" and sub-scribed $1250 as the last stroke on the $500,000 endowment. They also passed a resolution inviting the young people of the Northwest to second this appeal. The exercises were led by Dr. Edward H. Todd, vice-president. He is spending all of his time furthering the endowment campaign in Portland. To Parents, Patrons and Mothedists of the Northwest, Greeting—We, the students of Willamette University, Salem, Or., present this, our appeal in behalf of the young people of the Northwest, of whom we are a part, for Christmas gifts for the years of 1911 and 1912.

Pret. We ask for 1811 that you will

First—We ask for 1811 that you will pledge the $190,000 necessary to secure the proposed $500,000 endowment, and a new building in memory of the founders of Oregon, for Willamette University.

Secund—We ask that by Christmas, 1912, these pledges be so guaranteed that the gifts, sacrifices and the toll of the fathers, the pledges already made and your gifts may aggregate $300,000 in property and $500,000 of endowment.

aggragate $500,000 in property and $500,000 of endowment.

Third—We know full well that equipment alone does not make a school what it ought to be. But that the characters of the students and the grade of work which they do are vital factors. We hereby make our plodge, that we will on our part do our best by dilligence and honest effort to make such records, scholastically and morally, which will bring honor to old Williamethe and satisfaction to you.

Fraying you, in the name of the young people of the Northwest, in the name of our state and in the name of our God, that you will give to us the blessing of an adequately endowed university where we may have the best advantages for education under the guidance of the Church, we respectfully subscribe ourselves.

AINSWORTH CONDITIONS SUCH AS TO ENDANGER HEALTH.

Committee Representing Residents and Taxpayers on Portland Heights Demand Action.

That conditions in the Ainsworth School are such that the health and morals of the pupils are endangered was the substance of a report submitted to the School Board at its meeting yesterday by a committee representing residents and taxpayers on Portland Heights. The present building is con-demned as unsanitary and without suf-ficient protection from fire. The committee referred to the fact that property values are higher in the Portland Heights district than in any other residence section in the city, and that the taxpayers are not receiving the consideration in the matter of ap-propriations that their contributions in propriations that their contributions in the way of taxes warrant Unless a suitable building is erected during the coming year the report declares that many children will be withdrawn from the Ainsworth School and placed in pri-

When Deputy County Clerk Noonan, who officiates at the marriage license counter, returned from lunch at 3

After preliminary conversation calculated to pave the way, young Piper admitted that he had lost his marriage license and wanted a duplicate. He couldn't imagine what had become of the precious document. Noonan knew, however, as shortly before noen a man had come into the office and left it, explaining that he had found it on the street.

Well, I guess you'll have to take "Well, I guess you'll have to take out a new one," said Nooman.
"Gee whirs! that'll be $3 more. Now be a good fellow and give me another one for the same price," the young man pleaded. 'Til tell you what I'll do, considering the joke is on me. I'll put up the cigars and we'll call it square." He threw down a dollar in small change on the counter. Nooman laughingly picked them up and handed them back and then produced the license, much to the joy of the discomfited benedict-to-be.

TAFT COMMITTEE WORKS WITH VIM

Headquarters to Be Established First of Year and Clubs to Form in Counties.

CO-OPERATION IS PROMISED

President Selling Receives Many Encouraging Letters From Outside Districts-Aim Is to Renominate and Re-elect.

Not later than the Wrst of the year the Portland Taft committee of 18 will establish headquarters, probably in the Selling building. Simultaneously systematic movement will be in systematic movement will be made gurated for organizing Taft clubs in every county in the state. The pur-pose of these organizations will be to work for the renomination and re-election of President Taft, both in the primary and general elections.

Although the committee will not begin active work until next month, Ben Selling, State Senator and chairman of the committee, has not been idle since the organization of 18 leading Republicans of this city was formed a few weeks ago. In the meantime he has been communicating with Republicans in every county of the state, soliciting their co-operation in behalf of Presi-dent Taft and inviting suggestions as to how best to conduct the campaign that will be waged for the renomina-tion and re-election of the Nation's chief executive.

Selling Asks Co-operation.

Sciling Asks Co-operation.

Following is a copy of the letter Mr. Selling has been addressing to Republicans throughout the state:

As you are doubtiess aware, a Taft campaign committee has been formed in this city with the advice and consent of the President, for the purpose of looking after his interests in the primaries to take place April 18, 1912. This is to invite you to folm with other representative Republican in your county in forming a similar committee which will take charge of affairs in your vicinity. Every Republican who is in favor of the renomination of President Taft is confailly invited to assist. This committee will not presume to dictate in any manner to the other committees, but we hope to work together. I am writing a number of citizens in your county whose names have been suggested to me, and I hope you will see your way clear to meet with them at an early date.

I will be glad to have any suggestions from you at your convenience.

Numerous have been the responses to these letters and invariably the answers have been accompanied by the assurance of Republicans that they will cheerfully co-operate and do all within their power in their respective communities both individually and through the organization of Taft clubs to further the candidacy of Mr. Taft for re-election. As a result of Mr. Selling's pre-the candidacy of Mr. Taft for re-elec-tion. As a result of Mr. Selling's pre-liminary efforts, supporters of Mr. Taft in six counties already have formed the nucleus of a Taft club of large and influential membership.

Many Districts for Taft. Within the last week several prom-faent Republicans from outlying coun-tles have called on Mr. Seiling per-sonally and reported as to conditions In their respective counties. Uniformly these reports are encouraging to the friends of Mr. Taft. The reports are to the effect that the rank and file of the Republicans in the several counties are erally supporting Mr. Taft's candidacy.

Among out-of-town Republicans to call on Mr. Selling recently were Wil-liam Grimes, of Marshfield, and Colone B. H. Rosa, of Bandon, both prominent business men of Coos County. They were a unit in pronouncing conditions in Coos and Curry Counties highly sat-isfactory. The Republicans have big majorities in both of these counties and the two visitors predict that in the primaries Mr. Taft will receive the ful party vote in that section of the state Equally encouraging reports have been received by Mr. Selling from the other counties in which Taft clubs are being formed and the members of the committee feel more than satisfied with the outlook.

Taft's Trust War Telling. Writing from Klamath Palls to Mr. Selling, a Republican of that city, in assigning reasons why President Tatt should succeed himself, said in part:

"President Taft has caused to be en acted by Congress more constructive legislation than any of his predecessors since Lincoln. He has instituted more since Lincoln. He has instituted more suits against trusts and big business than all his predecessors and is the only President who has given life to the Sherman anti-trust law although it was enacted by Congress 20 years ago. President Taft, by the enforcement of the provisions of this statute, has made it effective, with the result that trusts are now begging for mercy and a halt. In addition, President Taft must be recognized as the apostle of peace by reason of his leadership in the movement for universal peace."

reason of his leadership in the move-ment for universal peace."

As indicated by the letter Mr. Sell-ing has sent to Republicans in the dif-ferent counties, members of the Port-land committee will leave to the Re-publicans in each county a determina-tion of the plan they shall adopt in effecting their local Taft committees or clubs. At the same time the Port-land committee is desirous of receiving suggestions from the members of to party generally. It will also seel the party generally. It will also seel the support and co-operation of every Taft club in attaining the purpose for which the Portland committee and like com-mittees are formed—the renomination and re-election of President Taft.

Fine Glee Club From Pacific University Pleases

Performance at White Temple Attracts Large Audience.

ONCE a year Portland has the pleasure of listening to a concert by Pacific University Glee Club and Or-chestra, and imbibing at the same time chestra, and imbibling at the same time some college atmosphere. These university concerts have grown to be looked-for events, and treasured in one's memory accordingly. Last night, at the White Temple, a large and appreciative audience attended a "Pacific" concert, and enjoyed it so much that nearly every number on the interesting and varied programme was encored.

ACTING - GOVERNOR OLCOTT TALKS OF NAVAL MILITIA.

International Discord and Strife Should Be Eliminated or Organization Disband," He Says.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 15.—(Special.)—In declaring that he believes Edgar N. Simpson is entitled to the commission as Captain of the Oregon Naval Militia under the contentions of Adjutant-General Finzer, Acting Governor Olcott, in writing to the Adjutant-General today, states unequivocably that unless dissension in the ranks of the Naval Militia is eliminated and internal discord and strife be abandoned, the appropriation for the maintenance of the militia will be misspent and wasted and the militia should be disbanded.

"Since writing to Mr. Finzer I have "Since writing to Mr. Finzer I have just received another bill in connection -ith the Naval Militia, which shows that $1547 has been expended for dress coats and is another illustration of the nanner in which the taxpayers' money has been thrown about with a prodigal hand," said the Acting Governor.

"I am assuming the stand that Mr. Simpson should be given the commission because I believe the law provides that the Captain should be named in the manner that he was. As I under-stand it, only 31 men of the militia voted and in event there had been an election for Captain in this manner, these votes were cast arbitrarily and should be thrown out and all of the men of the militia should be allowed to vote. But I believe the law provides that the selection should be made in the manner it is made in the National Guard and consequently the commis-sion of Mr. Simpson has been signed and issued to the Adjutant-General. In commenting on the conditions the Acting Governor in his letter to the Adjutant- General says: "Unless this dissension can be eliminated; unless internal discord and strife shall be abandoned, and every member of the Naval Militia work member of the Navai alintis work earnestly and harmoniously for the one great object of the organization, and for that alone, the organization is worse than uscless, the appropriation for its maintenance is misspent and wasted, and the Navai Militia should be disbanded. The people of Oregon are not supporting the Navai Militia for purposes of private preferment or of-ficial honor, but for the possible de-fense of the state and Nation. Unless the theory of the organization is fol-lowed out in strictness and in honesty, the organization should be disbanded, for one, am heartily in favor of such action-thus saving to the taxpayers of this state the unexpended portion of the appropriation, in amount about $13,000."

CHARTER-MAKING MEETING DELAYS House of Welcome

East Side Commission May Seek Time Extension Beyond December 19.

BOARD MEMBERS DIVIDED

Dispute Results Over Acceptance of Short-Form Commission Plan, Which Is Rejected by Vote of Six to Three

The People's Charter Commission East Side, may ask for a still further extension of time after December 19, the date set for filing their charter with the City Council. Last night when the meeting adjourned, opinions were divided as to the possibility of finishing within the time set when the Council first granted a time extension. R. W. Montague, chairman of the revision committee, did not believe that the work could be finished before December 29, and suggested that they request 10 days more time, while A. E. Clark, chairman, insisted that every effort be made to have the revision completed and the document ready for filing by next Tuesday.

After a dispute over the shorter revision submitted by W. C. Benbow, in which it was rejected by a vote of six to three, and a reading of the first four pages of the first half of the regular report of the revision committee, the Commission adjourned late last night, with opinions of its members as to what it will do within the next week, very uncertain. At the meeting called for 2 o'clock this afternoon, final de-cision will be made as to whether they will try to file the revised form of the new charter Tuesday.

Short Charter in Favor.

Mr. Benbow's short charter was sub-mitted as a minority report from the revision committee, against the regular eport, which embodies a charter cov report, which embodies a charter of the ering more than 40 typewritten pages. About Mr. Benbow's charter the greater part of the evening's discussion was waged with more or less heat. Mr. Benbow stated that his reason for submitting the charter in revised form as he Lad redrafted it, was because of the short form submitted by C. E. S. Wood and others to a vote of the peo-

"The people want a charter that is brief and can be easily comprehended, he said, "and if the Wood charter come up to a vote against one 10 or 15 time as long, popular favor is going to fall toward the one that is the shortest and most readily comprehended. I have this to say about the charter revised and returned to you by your revision committee—I have studied it and find it about the most complicated and non-understandable document I have ever set my eyes upon.
"In my minority report I have en-deavored to boil down the ideas expressed in this longer document, and put them in a form that can be under-stood by the masses of the people." Mr. Clark denied that Mr. Benbow's report preserved the ideas of the origcommittee.

Clark Has Different View.

Clark Has Different View.

"In fact it is diametrically opposed to it in may respects," he said. "If you insist on a short charter form" you can do it better than either Mr. Benbow or Mr. Wood has done it without using more than one page. Merely a statement providing for the commission form of government is all you need. But in my opinion we need something more than a mere broad statement of that one principle. It is essential to state in the charter the full rights of the people. Otherwise they will have to keep their attention on the different ordinance provisions from time to time and try to keep pace with the change of conditions in that way. If this comes about, the last condition of the people is likely to be worse than

If this comes about, the last condition of the people is likely to be worse than the first."

"If brevity is what you insist upon," added Mr. Montague, "you might as well chuck overboard all the present documents you have drafted, merely provide for a commission form of government and let the commission thresh the details out in the provisions of the old charter."

Dr. C. H. Chapman spoke in favor of the Benbow report and suggested that it be substituted for the original report of the revision committee, as a document more intelligible to the layman. When Thomas M. Hurlburt, to put an end to the long controversy that centered about Mr. Benhow's document, moved the adoption of the first half of the regular report of the committee Dr. Chapman moved an amendment to Dr. Chapman moved an amendment to have the shorter report of Mr. Benbow considered in conjunction with it. "The longer report is just wandering in a sea of verbiage," he declared, "that the average man can't make head nor tail of."

He suggested that, where feasible, the wording of the shorter form be substituted for that of the original report. Voted down in this, Dr. Chapman made one more affort to have the Benbow report brought up for consideration, moving the substitution of one of its sections for a longer and more involved statement in the report declaring that the section as worded was tall of. ing that the section as worded was "not worth a row of pins." His motion was voted down and the section approved as it stood.

Merger Plan Not Mentioned.

Immediately after this Dr. Chapman and Mr. Benbow excused themselves and left the meeting.

Although all present admitted the danger of no charter being passed if several were offered to the people at one election, no one on the commission and activities in favor of taking steps. one election, no one on the commission said anything in favor of taking steps to fuse the charter of the official commission with their own, and favored making all haste to place the result of their work before the people.

"Either we must go ahead," said Mr. Clark, "and complete our work or take another tack and confess to the people our failure to succeed in what we have undertaked, and our facility in shifting from one ground to another. I for one am in favor of finishing the work we have begun."
