St. Louis Chauffeur Declares Strikers' Brick Thrown at Him Caused Crash.

DETECTIVE MAY NOT LIVE

Trolley Passengers Suffer When Car Jumps Track and Hits Curb—Several Attacks Made on Independent Drivers.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—Fifteen persons were injured when a taxicab ran into a car near the Union Station shortly before midnight and caused the car to leave the track and crash into a curb. William Pullen, a secret service man, riding in the taxicab, was injured perhaps fatally. John Tucker, the chauffeur, said he had been struck by a thrown brick a few minutes before the accident and this caused him to run into the car. Pullen was riding in the taxicab to protect the non-union driver from strike sympathizers. It was reported to the police tonight that there had been several attacks on non-union taxicab drivers since the strike of the union men against the two big companies began December 8.

PORTLAND MAN CONFESSES

Shooting in Pennsylvania Admitted by Frank M. Calhoun.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., Dec. 18.—Frank M. Calhoun, of Portland, Or., tonight confessed that he had called Benjamin P. Galloup to the latter's door late Saturday night and had blown off the top of his head with a shotgun. He said he shot Galloup because Mrs. Galloup was being abused and because he feared for his own life. Galloup, who is 69 years old, by a remarkable display of vitality, is still alive in the hospital, although part of his skull and brain have been shot away. Galloup answered a matrimonial advertisement and came here and married two years ago. Calhoun, who is 22 years old, left a wife in Portland, came here shortly after Galloup's marriage and took up his residence in the latter's home as a boarder. Galloup resented Calhoun's attentions to his wife and compelled him to leave. George Walla, 17 years old, a stepson of Galloup's, and Mrs. Galloup, are being detained in connection with the case.

WOMAN WITNESS ACCUSES

Matron Says Lewis Told of Taunting Rumball Girl.

OROVILLE, Cal., Dec. 18.—Mrs. Harriet Flinn, of San Francisco, who sat by the dead body of 13-year-old Helen Rumball the night after all-night vigil, removed from an attic in which she died after great suffering, was the most important witness today at the trial of Arthur Lewis, accused of the murder of the Rumball girl. The witness testified that on the night of the tragedy, when the two were making the all-night vigil, Lewis told her that he had made a trip to the garret, where the girl died, and that he had found a gag. She said that she went to the garret and saw the gag, and that Lewis took it from her and burned it and cautioned her not to tell. The witness further told how the mother of the girl had beaten the child earlier in the day of the tragedy. The witness said Lewis told her of visiting the garret where the girl was tied and that when the child told him to go back downstairs, he taunted her.

KNOX GIVES LIST

Removing Discrimination is Problem, He Says.

AMERICANS NEED TO ACT

Secretary of State Gives Information to Senator Curtis Which Would Justify Legislation for United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Secretary Knox has written to Senator Curtis, of Kansas, a letter giving information compiled by the Government which in the opinion of Mr. Knox would justify legislation to provide a graduated means of meeting various discriminations by foreign countries against American commerce.

The Senator has framed a bill calculated to meet the situation. "The problem," Secretary Knox said, "is to provide for the removal, so far as practicable, of such features in the practice of some foreign nations as may be found adverse to our export trade development, and of serious import to those American enterprises directly affected."
Instances Are Cited.
Secretary Knox cited some of the more important instances to which the attention of the State Department had been called, "but which properly may not be considered as falling under the classification of 'undue' discriminations."
Secretary Knox's list of countries showing discriminations, however, he said, he did not consider as properly speaking "undue" follows in part:
Belgium—Failure of state railways administration to permit the Continental Petroleum Company of Antwerp, representing a Texas oil exporting concern to bid for supplying the state railways with lubricating oil of American production.
Germany—Administrative embargo on American meats, legislation restricting the potato output and so taxing the surplus production as to make valueless certain advantages obtained by Americans under contracts with German mines in 1904 and 1909. Export certificate practices, which provide for equivalent of bounties on exports, destructive of American trade in neutral markets; freight rates on state railways much greater eastbound than westbound on the same commodities, materially advantageous to Austria and Russia as compared with the United States.
Italy—Manufacturing tax on imported cottonseed oil, distinctively an American product.
Austria-Hungary—Tariff on cottonseed oil, double that applied to any other edible oil with which cottonseed oil competes; unequal and oppressive government measure applied to American investments in Austria respecting conversion of crude oil into refined oil; proposed legislation that would destroy a great part of the American petroleum trade in Europe.
Other Provisions Given.
"Bulgaria—Required denaturing of cottonseed oil, when imported, making it unfit for human use."
"Portugal—Practical prohibition of cottonseed oil imports."

NOVEL BRINGS LAWSUIT

W. H. DAILY DOESN'T LIKE AL-LUSIONS TO EATING.

When Friends Send Marked Copies of Gelett Burgess' "The Heart Line" He Sues for $100,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Gelett Burgess, the novelist, of New York, has been sued for $100,000 damages for libel by William Hand Daily. The cause for the libel is based on publication of the novel "The Heart Line," a story of life in San Francisco before the fire. Daily now lives in New York. His lawyer, Herman D. Sears, says Daily lived in San Francisco more than 15 years, that he had large mining interests thereabouts and that he was and still is well known in San Francisco and London. It appears that the alleged attack upon the character of Daily has to do with the matter of one's fastidiousness in eating canvaseback ducks and one's delicacy in sipping champagne, all of which is set down in a passage from "The Heart Line" complained against in the action. This and the implied association of the eater with imbeciles and people of questionable character tend to hold the profession up to scorn and ridicule of society. William H. Daily had never heard of "The Heart Line," so his lawyer explained today, until about a year ago, when friends in San Francisco and the State of Washington and in London began sending him marked copies. What he read, carefully marked in each friendly gift, led him to institute the suit. Four Suspects Sent From City. Frank Johnson, alias "The Jiggerous Kid," who the police say is a confidence man, with three companions, was ordered out of the city by the police last night. The men with Johnson gave the names of Mari Ray, F. E. Wilson and John Woods. The men were sighted at Fifth and Washington streets by Detective Moloney. They said they had just arrived from Spokane. In the last four days 10 men have been deported from Portland by the police. Sir Charles Tupper Critically Ill. LONDON, Dec. 18.—Sir Charles Tupper, formerly Prime Minister of Canada, and once High Commissioner for Canada in London, is critically ill with tracheitis at his country home in Kent.

MAN SHOTS FRIEND ACCIDENTALLY.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 18.—Private H. J. Nohls, of the Marine Corps, a guard on the prison ship Nipsic at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, was shot and killed today by his friend, Private H. J. Banser, while the two men were cleaning their pistols on the Nipsic today. Banser is under arrest, and declares that the shooting was accidental.
