

GIPSY MAKES CALL

Evangelist Here for Hour on Way to San Francisco.

TACOMA MEETINGS LAUDED

Exhorter Tells of Converting 1500 in City of Destiny and Says He Understands Golden Gate Metropolis Needs Great Prayer.

Gipsy Smith passed through Tacoma last night on his way from Tacoma to San Francisco. For 10 days after his arrival there, and before he begins his series of meetings, he and Mrs. Smith will be the guests of James Hensburgh, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, at Paso Robles.

The evangelist arrived in Portland last night at 6:45 o'clock and left for Tacoma at 8:30 o'clock. He told of his experience with the Mountain Ash Male Chorus, from Southern Wales, which sang at the First Presbyterian Church in Tacoma while he was there. He said he went Saturday night to hear the singers, and was invited to speak. This he did briefly. An Italian song was on the program to follow, but the chorus decided the Hallelujah Chorus more appropriate, and sang that.

The leader of the chorus was the leader of my choir when I was in Wales," said Gipsy Smith last night. "Every one of the singers is a college-bred man, and they are all working in the pits at home. Their masters will keep their positions open for them until they return."

The Tacoma meetings have been great. We had a splendid tabernacle. It would seat between 5000 and 6000. There were 350 in the choir. In spite of the time, just before Christmas, when the states are kept open late, the attendance was excellent. There were about 1500 in the inquiry rooms. I answered 20 telephone calls this morning between breakfast and training, and the last thing I did before I left was to point a soul to Christ. There were between 700 and 800 at the train to sing me off. The ministers presented me with a loving cup.

San Francisco Thought Had I hope all the Portland friends will remember San Francisco in their prayers. If all reports I hear about the city are true I shall need all the wisdom and strength and power I can get for that campaign. In spite of it all I feel San Francisco is virgin soil, that the people there are not gospel-hardened.

Dr. H. H. Bell, chairman of the San Francisco campaign committee, has been in Spokane, Seattle, Portland and Tacoma, and has interested only one minister, but the business men. The San Francisco people have these four campaigns ahead of them. They ought to make the San Francisco campaign better.

CASH UP FOR DECORATORS

Elks Offer $300, $200 and $100 for Best Draped Buildings.

Cash prizes of $300, $200 and $100 have been offered by the Elks' convention commission for the best decorated buildings in the city during the week of the big reunion next July. All owners of buildings are urged to decorate for the week. It is expected that national colors and the Elks colors—purple and white—will predominate.

The schedule of parade prizes has not yet been completed. It is in the hands of George L. Baker, chairman of the parade committee, and likely will be approved by the commission at its next meeting. It is probable that $10,000 will be distributed among the various lodges attending the reunion for excellence in various features of the big parade Thursday, July 11.

The question of placing a float advertising the convention in the electric parade of the Rose Festival has been submitted to a committee. An official badge for use of grand lodge members will be adopted by the badge committee today. The committee will spend about $10,000 for badges. It is estimated that 50,000 badges will be required for visiting Elks. Special designs will be prepared for members of the grand lodge, for grand lodge officers, for the Portland Elks and for guests and newspaper men.

11,000 VOLTS NOT FATAL

Electrician Survives Great Shock With but Minor Injuries.

H. C. Inman, foreman of an electrical crew for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, received a shock of 11,000 volts of electricity yesterday morning while making a connection between a cable and a resistor box in Station "LL" at the foot of East Lincoln street. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where his injuries were found to be of a minor nature.

Inman stood on a scaffold, seven and one-half feet from the floor. In the course of his work he turned the head of an iron pipe, when the back of his head came in contact with the live wire. The circuit made by the back of his head and the pipe that he grasped in his hand prevented the electricity from entering the lower part of his body, which most likely prevented more serious injuries. He was hurried to the floor when he received the shock. Except for a number of burns about the body and a wound on the back of his head, he is not thought to be injured.

70 MAY BE IN SWIM

ENTRIES FOR CHRISTMAS DAY EVENT ARE MANY.

Instructor Cavill Says That He Is Determined Course Shall Be Kept Clear This Year.

At the rate entries are being listed for the Christmas day swim in the Willamette River under the auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, the floats, donated by the "winged M" officials by the Portland Rowing Club for use on the occasion, will hardly be large enough to hold all swimmers before the plunge in the river is taken.

Arthur Cavill, swimming instructor of the club, who will be in charge of the swimmers, said yesterday that he now expects more than 70 swimmers to try for the Elks cup, which will be tendered the winner.

A float 75 feet long will be moored at the Hawthorne bridge as a starting point, and another float will be moored 100 yards northwest to mark the finish point. The river steamer Motor, chartered by the Multnomah Club officials, will convey the swimmers, as well as the excursionists, who desire to get a close view of the event, to the starting point, and will then proceed to the finish point, where the swimmers will be taken on board and cared for by Instructor Cavill and his corps of assistants.

The course to be taken by the swimmers will be roped off this year, and none of the small craft or launches which interfered with the contestants last Christmas, will be permitted within the roped area.

Harbormaster Speler and the patrol boat Eldor will be on hand to enforce this restriction. The new market building will be inside the ropes will be the Eldor and the launches for the newspaper men.

The entries received yesterday is that of Don Vickers, of the Eugene T. M. C. A., who is one of the most prominent swimmers of the Upper Willamette Valley. Additional entries are Chester Wheeler, R. Collier, J. W. McMurray, E. R. Holt, Dr. Pugnaw, W. A. Allen and H. Hawkins.

COMPANY SEEKS TENANT

Central Market Offers Part of Building to Commercial Club.

An offer has been made by the Central Market Company to the Board of governors of the Portland Commercial Club to rent to the club the entire upper portion of the new market building to be built on the block between Ankeny and Pine streets at Sixth street. The rental is $1000 per month, and the amount of floor space that will be available in its building, if its offer is accepted. The building will occupy a full block and six doors would be available for rental to the Commercial Club, four of which might be used for club purposes and the lower two for business offices.

DINNER LIST NEAR LIMIT

Capacity of Hall May Be Taxed at Function for Governors.

The list of guests for the Governors' dinner, to be given by the Progressive Business Men's League at the Commercial Club Saturday night, is growing rapidly and has approached closely to the 300 mark, which is the limit of room in the big dining hall. More applicants are coming in daily, and the committees are beginning to fear another over-subscription, similar to that of the railroad men's dinner.

The Governors will arrive in Portland Friday evening or Saturday morning from their tour of the Eastern states. Preceding the dinner Saturday night, a reception will be held in the Commercial Club parlors at 7:30 in the evening, the dinner to begin at 8 o'clock.

Members of the receiving committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brookings, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Lively, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Merrick, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Dana, Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Young and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathes.

Friends of McMinnville Man See Senatorial Timber. CHAMBERLAIN STAR FADES Considerable Uncertainty as to Democratic Standardbearer in State Viewed by Valley Politicians. Gearin and Miller Receptive.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 17.—(Special)—More discussion is being heard in this part of the state now regarding the prospective Democratic candidate for United States Senator in 1912 than before any preceding election. Foreseeing the possibility of a split between Bourne and anti-Bourne Republicans which may carry over the primaries into the general election, Democrats assert that they have high hopes of electing the next United States Senator so are discussing the question of a candidate.

In the last Senatorial election Democrats realized their hopes of electing a Senator but at that time there was no uncertainty about the fact that their candidate would be George E. Chamberlain. This year there seems to be considerable uncertainty as to the standard-bearer.

During the past few weeks in the discussion in this part of the state only two men have been mentioned prominently as prospective candidates. These are Milton A. Miller, of Lebanon, State Senator from next United States Senator so are discussing the question of a candidate.

McMinnville Man Appeals. In the past week a new man has been brought into this discussion. This new star on the Democratic Senatorial horizon is William Galloway, of McMinnville, one of the Circuit Judges of the Third Judicial district.

What Judge Galloway thinks about the matter is not known but those who have been bringing his name forward have urged him as a strong candidate because he is a well-known name in the state and has a well-known acquaintance over the state and has had considerable experience in the official life of Oregon.

As to Judge Galloway's running qualities, his friends cite the fact that he has been elected twice to the Circuit bench in the Third Judicial district, which is heavily Republican, being formed of Marion, Linn, Polk, Yamhill and Tillamook counties. In 1884 he led Judge Boise, one of the best-known pioneer jurists of the state, for this position by 1300 votes and won out last year by 2000 majority.

The friends of Senator Miller believe he should be promoted from the State Senate to the United States Senate and are urging that he would make a good candidate, citing that he has been successful in every political race he has ever made, and has shown his ability to accomplish things by his service in the state's law-making body. Miller's work for the schools of the state and his service as Democratic National Committeeman for Oregon are being urged in his favor.

Gearin, Too, Has Friends. John M. Gearin also has some strong friends in this part of the state. J. K. Weatherford and W. R. Bligh, of Eugene, both of whom have served several terms in the State Legislature from Linn County and have been otherwise prominent in democratic circles in the state, have been mentioned also in connection with the Senatorial discussions and the names of Harry Lane, ex-Mayor of Portland, and A. S. Benning, of The Dalles, an ex-Circuit Judge in Eastern Oregon, have also been mentioned frequently.

There appears to have been but little discussion in this part of the state thus far as to possible Republican Senatorial candidates. When friends of Judge Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene, broached his name recently it elicited considerable favorable discussion but after his refusal to run, little talk on the Senatorial question has been heard.

Of course, it is known that Senator Bourne will run for re-election and that Stephen A. Lovell, of Pendleton, is a candidate, but little discussion has been heard here either for or against either one of them. When Bourne was elected in 1908 Linn County returned majorities against him both in the primaries and general election.
