THIRD AND MORRISON

SLOVER IN PULPIT

Chief of Police Preaches at Free Methodist Church.

LOVE OF HUMANITY URGED

Official Declares That People of All Sorts Should Be Embraced in Individual's Creed of General Forgiveness.

E. A. Slover, Chief of Police, preached at the Free Methodist Church, East Ninth and East Mill streets, last night. His subject was "Love." Except for the fact that he does not carry the title "D. D." and has no "Rev." as a prefix to his name, and that he does not wear a long coat, he might have been taken for a professional preacher.

"If we loved each other more, the old saying 'there's no house big enough for two women,' would never have gone abroad," said the policeman-preacher. "There are houses large enough for a half-dozen women, and churches large enough for a thousand men," he continued.

"I wish the members of this church would come to the point where they would really love each other. I have been several years getting down to this point. I ask myself sometimes, 'Slover, will you let people drink you a beer?' 'Yes, if they want to.' 'Will you allow people to take away your belongings, without retaliating?' 'I don't know. That's another thing. But it has to come to that—to the point where we just love folks in spite of themselves, and I believe that God has given me such a feeling of love that I can love a black man or a red man as well as anybody else; an old man as well as a young man; an ugly old man as well as other folks. That's why I can like some people better than others. I am not talking about likes. I am talking about love; the love David had for Jonathan; the love Ruth had for Naomi; and Abraham had for Isaac; that Mordecai had for Esther; that God had for his people; that you love your neighbor as you love yourself. You get down on your knees and ask God to make you love your enemy; ask him to plant that love in your heart. If you do there will be some love in your heart. These about you will know."

"I am glad I grew up in this church. You have had much patience with me. I need your prayers just now as much as I ever did."

Chief Slover used as texts, I John 2 and John 13:34. "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another."

"We must love others whether they love us or not," he said. "I don't suppose Jesus liked the ways of the people who put a crown of thorns on his head, and who spit in his face, and nailed him to the cross, but he said, 'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.'"

CHURCHES OBSERVE DAY

Special Christmas Service Held Throughout Portland.

Midnight Christmas services were held at 11:30 last night at Trinity Episcopal Church, All Saints' Episcopal Church and at St. Helens' Hall. Christmas sermons were the order of the day yesterday. At the Catholic Cathedral Archbishop Christie delivered a Christmas message. At the White Temple Dr. W. B. Hinson preached in the morning on "Jesus Christ's Christmas," and in the evening on "How to Be Happy at Christmas." "Behold the Man" was the topic chosen by Rev. W. F. Resgor for his morning sermon at the First Christian Church. Last night the time was given to Sunday school exercises, the children bringing gifts to be distributed today.

The Christmas sermon, drawn from the Life of Robert Louis Stevenson, was the topic of Dr. John H. Boyd at the First Presbyterian Church last night. The contribution of several hundred dollars worth of food and clothing, and $100 in cash toward the making of a happy Christmas for the needy is said by Dr. Benjamin Young, pastor of the Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal Church, to be the best Christmas offering by a church of which he has ever known. He said that all needy cases which have come to the attention of members of the church have been provided for without discrimination as to creed or color.

The First Congregational Church was decorated with an electric star suspended above the choir gallery. White flowers and evergreens adorned the pulpit. Dr. Luther Dyott preached his Christmas sermon at the morning service, his topic being "The Best Meaning of Christmas." His text was I John 3:1, "Behold what manner of love the father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the children of God."

BACKBONE OUT, MAN LIVES

Florida Youth Regains Use of His Hands After Operation.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 24.—Although his spinal cord is severed and a portion of his backbone removed, Sam Montedeca, of St. Cloud, is still alive. After a successful operation he regained the use of his hands.

Montedeca, who is only 19 years old, was accidentally shot several days ago while examining a pistol. The ball passed through his shoulder and lodged in his backbone.

CONVENTION PLUM IS GIFT

planning for Democratic success next year. In connection with the National committee meeting the harmony programme is somewhat disturbed by visions respecting the Jackson day dinner in honor of the members of the committee. There is fear of an open clash between Speaker Clark and ex-Governor Folk, who are rivals for Presidential support in Missouri and have been accusing each other of double-dealing.

The local committee started out with great care to avoid all friction and, it is reported, decided to keep Carier Harrison, of Chicago, off the programme because of his factional differences with National Committeeman Sullivan. The care exercised, however, has not availed entirely and there are some badly mixed situations in connection with selecting speakers from Jackson's old home, that faction-ridden State of Tennessee, and elsewhere.

Sixty-Cent Drink Angers Buyer.

Because he objected to paying 60 cents for a drink of whiskey, Jake Schultz informed the police that Charles Kanstany, a waiter in a restaurant at 241 Couch street, was operating a "blind pig" on Sunday in that place. Patrolman Scott accompanied Schultz to the restaurant, and, with his guide, says he succeeded in buying drinks. Kanstany was arrested.

WEBER CASE TURNS

Brother and Sister of Slain Spokane Girl Suspected.

PROSECUTION WILL NOT ACT

Despite Request of Police No Ar- rests Are Made in Murder Mys- tery—Family Prepares to Leave for Austria.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—A new turn in the case of Anna Weber, aged 22, the German girl found cruelly murdered on a trail leading from Summit boulevard to the river near St. Luke's Hospital December 9, came Saturday evening when the police department and Commissioner of Public Safety Hayden asked Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wiley to cause the girl's brother, Herbert, aged 20, and her sister, Elizabeth, aged 17, to be taken into custody on suspicion having either taken part in the crime or having guilty knowledge of the perpetrator.

This action was induced by information the police have that the young man was about to leave the country for Austria, following close questioning of different members of the Weber family by the police. The Webers, after selling their dairy a week ago, moved into a house on Mallon avenue and they have been under police surveillance much of the time since the dead body of Anna Weber was found on the hillside leading to the Weber home.

Commissioner Hayden, Chief Duest and Captain DeLoe Burns united in the request of Prosecutor Wiley to hold the girl's brother and sister, but they say the prosecutor has declined to take further action.

Prosecutor Wiley tonight said he had not finally decided.

BY LEONE CASE BAER.

UNDER the general designation of wholesale fun must "Bizzy Iszy" be pigeon-holed—because it's so much of everything that goes into the making of good entertainment. First you think it's just going to be a musical comedy, but as it progresses you realize that a continuous vaudeville is going on with specialties, songs, dances, jokes, travesties, all sorts of comedy, some fresh and new, some neither fresh nor new and a bit of musical foolery. "Bizzy Iszy" kept the Baker Theater audiences at yesterday's matinee and evening performance in a continual gale of giggles that ascended often into a crescendo of unrestrained mirth, and again dropping into the low rumble of satisfaction.

In a two-hour procession of joy, all sorts of pretty girls—little ones, big ones and capable principals flit across the other side of the incandescent. And all of it is good—particularly "Iszy," who is certainly "bizzy" making laughs. George Sidney, in the stellar role, is a comedian who merits the title as a Hebrew promoter of a ladies' emporium and haberdashery, and later as a would-be hotel-owner, as is positively a delight.

Regarding the plot—well, "It's like that myth of today—Saint Nicholas—the meles of fun, "Iszy's" grand emporium is shown, and in the second act, "Bizzy Hotel" takes up space to advantage. The whole show is funny in a marked degree, because Mr. Sidney has been good enough to have as his support capable players.

He is especially fortunate in having as his principal feminine support Carrie Webber, who sings pleasantly and dances with delightful grace. Every minute she is on the stage she holds attention. And aside from her clever acting she is good to look upon.

In addition to these two principals, a large cast of other folk assist greatly. For instance, there's Dick Hume, as "Washington Wolf," a "planner," who attends to everybody's affairs, to the everlasting amusement of all concerned. Mr. Hume is reminiscent of Eddie Foy in looks and acting. Nick Basil, in the guise of a rapid-fire messenger boy, is a riot of joy, and John J. Magee as a "rube" marshal and Frank Gibbons as a shark, with Walter Webber, a brother of the prima donna, doing the character role of Sylvester Parbola, completes the masculine support. The chorus is pretty, collectively and individually, and has choral abilities.

All in all, "Bizzy Iszy" is well worth while. It will be all week at the Baker with matinee today, Wednesday and Saturday.

OLD-TIME FIGHTER DYING

Robert Baker, Once Prominent in Pugilistic Arena, Ill in Jail.

Robert Baker, one time middleweight pugilist, who fought Joe Wolcott and "Mysterious" Billy Smith and other fighters of note, is thought to be dying of delirium tremens in a cell at the city jail, where he has been for the past five days.

Baker fought under the name of Dick O'Brien, and is well known in sporting circles. The police did not discover his identity until yesterday.

DR. C. H. MAYO IS BETTER

Noted Surgeon May Recover From Appendicitis Attack.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—The condition of Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., who was operated on a week ago for appendicitis and who underwent a second operation yesterday, now indicates that he will recover.

A bulletin given out at the Presbyterian Hospital tonight states that Dr. Mayo passed a restful day and his temperature and pulse are both better.

Athlete-Politician Dead.

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—State Senator Edward J. Riney, of the North district, died at his home here today. Senator Riney had been in San Antonio, Tex., for several months in quest of health, and when several days ago he was advised he probably could not live, he hurried home to be with his mother.

TRUST DODGE SEEN

Vaudeville Combine Fears It Will Be Prosecuted.

FIGHT DEEMED UNLIKELY

Mention of Struggle Between East- ern and Western Circuits Rid- iculed by Prominent Chi- cago Theatrical People.

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The announcement of the dissolution of America's all-powerful vaudeville combine, said to be an attempt to avert trust prosecution, was made today in New York. The announcement was in the nature of publicity given to the supposed repudiation of an agreement of 14 years' standing between the Keith interests in the East and the Orpheum circuit in the West, which are in absolute control of the vaudeville situations from coast to coast.

Newspapers heralded the alleged breaking of relations as a declaration of war between the two ruling vaudeville bodies. Prominent Chicago theatrical people interviewed today scoffed at the idea of war in the vaudeville field.

Documents are said to be in the hands of the prosecutors showing that vaudeville actors are forever blacklisted if they play in any house except those indicated by the trust, and this only gives them about three months' actual work in a year.

SUGAR CUBES ARE DICE

Newsboys and Six Cents in Stakes Taken in Police "Raid."

An elaborate gambling outfit was confiscated by Special Policeman Childers and two boys accused as gamblers were taken to the police station Saturday night after the incriminating evidence had been taken from them. Six cents in stake money was also presented as evidence.

The culprits were Eugene Rosenkrantz and Isaac Serkus, newboys, who were accused of shooting craps on the public thoroughfare. The gamblers had their Yale dice, but to supply the deficiency, had slipped two cubes of sugar out of a restaurant, and, with a pencil, had made the customary spots on their faces. With these implements and the six cents between them, they were rolling the "bones" assiduously when the policeman came upon them. Their case was referred to the juvenile court.

Brothers Celebration Checked.

When Charles Sundt and his brother, Harold, received an alcohol cigar lighter from a friend last night as a Christmas present they forthwith began to celebrate. Patrolman Litherland curbed their Yuletide spirits at Sixth and Stark streets, when he arrested them on a charge of drunkenness. They are in jail.

Three Caught in Slide.

NELSON, B. C., Dec. 24.—Three men, named Blair, Thomas and Ross, were caught in a snowslide at Noble Five mine at Sandon yesterday.

Ross was carried half a mile in the snow and succeeded in digging himself out. Blair escaped with minor injuries, but Thomas is completely buried and no trace of him can be found.

BANKRUPTCY RULE MADE

JUSTICE DAY WRITES OPINION AT BEDSIDE OF WIFE.

State Interference When Federal Court Is Passing on Petition Is Deemed Illegal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—At the bedside of his wife, in Canton, O., Associate Justice Day, of the Supreme Court of the United States, has written an opinion dispelling much uncertainty about bankruptcy proceedings.

Last Monday Chief Justice White announced in court that the opinion would be recorded and the printed opinion has just been filed in the Clerk's office.

Among other things are these: That the State Court cannot entertain a suit of a debtor by a creditor against a debtor, when a Federal court in Missouri state courts the printed opinion has just been filed in the Clerk's office.

But a Federal court cannot take five years to pass on the petition, allowing some creditors to manage the debtors' business. That would amount to denying the petition.

So it was decided that the Beskman Tumbler Company, of Missouri, could sue in Missouri state courts the Acme Harvester Company, of Peoria, Ill., despite bankruptcy proceedings in Illinois.

Indian Pupils Give Programme.

NEWPORT, Or., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The young Indian children in the Upper Farm School, Siletz Reservation, through the direction of their instructor, Robert Dupot, a full-blooded Indian, presented a holiday entertainment fully up to the standards set in the schools of the young white children.
