"For three weeks I have been travel-ing and in that time I have made it my business to meet and discuss this sub-ject with members of the medical and local professions who know much Ject with members of the mover much legal professions, who know much about the standard of morals," said Mrs. Commerford, "and in this way I have learned much that is both asfounding and almost inconceivable. In some states study of the sex question has been introduced in the high schools, has been introduced in the instruction be-sin in the primary grades of the pub-lic schools. False modesty in treating with this subject and the double stand-ard of morality are largely responsible for the immoral conditions found in every city.' PAWNBROKERS ASK VETO New Ordinance Regarding Their Business Displeases Them.

Pawnshop proprietors throughout the city have united to oppose the ordinance passed last week by the City Council requiring all pawnshops to make daily reports to the police de-partment of all goods taken in pawn or purchased, together with a complete description of the person pawning the article.

description of the person pawning the article. The ordinance, which was passed by unanimous vote, was not profested by the dealers at the Council meeting be-cause, it is said, none of the dealers how such a measure was up for con-sideration. Testerday a delegation via-tive day or Rushlight and requested him to veto the ordinance. The measure is intended to relieve the police department of the work of visiting the pawnshops and examining goods, which work requires the so-tifte time of several officers. Under the new system, as provided in the ordinance, every article received must be described in a blank form furnished the dealer by the police dopartment. The lists can be checked up each day and compared with the lists of the stolen property kept by the police. The pawnbrokers say the new rule will work a hardship on them. The ordinance requires each person pawn-ing property to be described in detail as well, as the article pawnet.

In his pockets were found two postcards from a man signing himself as Jim Stevens. One was malled from Albany and the other from Los Angeles. A latter also found is from J. Ksvan-augh, who gives his address as Lents in care of John Tully. The tenor of the letter would indicate that the writ-er was a county prisoner at one of the rockpiles. It is written on the letter-head of Sheriff Stovens.

Linn Sets Wedding Record.

ALHANY, Or., Jan, 1.--(Special)-For the first time in at least a decade and possibly for the first time in the history of the county, December led all other montha of the year in 1911 in number of marriages performed in Linn County. October, which is gen-orally the leading marriage month of the year here, was well toward the bot-tom of the list this year. Juns, which
