Prior to the adoption of the constitu-tion and the election of officers John P. Rusk, of La Grande, and Judge Kavanaugh spoke before the assembly. Mr. Rusk deplored political corruption, which he said had existed in Oregon in which he shid had extated in Oregon in the past, and declared that he believed women by their voting could wield a powerful purifying influence upon the politics of the state. Judge Kavanaugh spoke of the effects of woman's suffrage as he had observed them in California, and declared that woman's suffrage was a natural evolution in the growth of society.

Mr. Davis announced that the immediate work of the club would be to organize Multnomah County for the coming suffrage campaign and that after this had been done the club boped to see auxiliary associations started in

SINGLE TAX PUNCTURED

MOVEMENT IN OREGON SCORED BY CLACKAMAS GRANGE.

Farming Interests Go on Record as Bitterly Opposing Shaping Legislation Here by Outsiders.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 12 .- (Special.)-The single-tax movement in Oregon was punctured this week, by Clackamas County Pomona Grange at its quarterly meeting with Harding Grange at Logan, in a resolution that Grange at Logan, in a resolution that scores the men who are promoting the single-tax propaganda in Oregon under salaries from the Joseph Fels fund. Harvey G. Starkweather, master of Milwaukie Grange, fathered the resolution and had an easy time securing its adoption, the main opposition coming from O. D. Robbins, of Logan.

The action of the Pomona Grange, which has representatives from every NOTORIOUS SCHOONER CARMEN-CITA IS WRECKED.

"The Ghost," by Jack London, Based Upon Illicit Craises of Vessel Now on Rocks of Lower California.

SAN DIEGO, Cal. Jan. 11.—Wrecked on the rocks of Punta Maria. 150 miles south of San Quentin, Lower California, the old schooner Carmencita, notorious years ago as a smuggling and peaching vessel in the North Pacific, has found a last resting place. News of the disaster was received in San Diego from Loreto Matos, master of the schooner, who also said that the crew of the vessel, which was known in San Diego as the Johnnie Thein and the Ramona, consisting of three seamen and four fishermen, had walked from the scene of the wreck to San Quentin and were ill and destitute.

The career of the Carmencita has been preserved in song and story on the Pacific Coast. Built many years ago, the vessel was noted for its fieetness and achieved an unpleasant reputation along the North Pacific Coast, Puret Sound and the Bering Sea as a seal peacher tirst, then as a smuggler of contrabands, mostly Chinese.

"The Ghost," written by Jack London, was based on the exploits of the Carmencita and its daring skipper in seal peaching in the Bering Sea.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—An unprecedently heavy Socialist vote, which probably reached 4,000,000, and heavy Socialist gains proved as expected, the feature of the 1912 elections to the Reichstag held throughout the empire yesterday. The election was marked also by the disastrous rout of the radicals and far smaller inroads into the clerical and conservative majority of the last Reichstag than was anticipated.

The results at 2 o'clock this morning, although far from complete, show that the Socialists have captured 21 seats from the non-Socialist parties and lost only two, a gain of 19. They also have entered into some re-bailots which would make it seem that they are almost certain to gain the 51 seats they held at the dissolution of the Reichstag in 1906 and probably a few more.

struction of the Broadway bridge if they are willing to work under openshop rules, is the promise of Thomas Earle, president of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, of Steelton, Pa., who arrived in the city yesterday to represent his company when the contract for the bridge superstructure is let by the Executive Board.

Mr. Earle says his company is not attempting to break the backbone of organized labor in Oregon, as has been charged, and declares that the statement of labor union officials that it was for that purpose that the company made unusually low bids for the work is absurd. He declares the low bids were the result of a juli in work and were prompted by the necessity of the company getting a good-sized contract to fill in an unusually quiet season.

New Bids Advised Against. New Bids Advised Against,

"It happened that when the city advertised for bids on the Broadway bridge we were a little shy on work," said Mr. Earle last night, "and we de-cided to go after the Broadway con-tract. We knew the foundation work tract. We knew the foundation work had been nearly completed and that work could be started on the superstructure this Winter. This would exactly fit our shop conditions, so we bid as low as we could on the work. There is some talk of the city asking for new bids. This is not advisable. I will assure the city that it will have to pay more for the work if it readvertises for bids, because the price of steel has gone up and the work of steel has gone up and the work could not be done at a figure as low as our bid. We made low bids with the hope of getting the contract at once,
