

CREATORS BESET BY STALLO GIRLS

Attorney Tells How He and Young Women's Father Had to Raise Cash.

HEIRESSSES ARE "HARD UP"

Ex-Counsel for Guardian Says He Put Up $1000 of His Own Money and He Wants It Back Together With His Pay.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(Special).—The Stallo girls—Laura and Helena—supposed to be heiresses to an estate of $50,000,000, but which their father and guardian, Edmund K. Stallo, says is far less than that, have in the past been so extravagant in their mode of living that they not only spent all their income, but kept Papa Stallo and his lawyer, Charles H. Stoll, exceedingly busy raising money with which to stand off their creditors. Tradespeople of all kinds wanted to get their talons upon such bits of the Stallo wealth as was due them and it was quite a task to get the wherewithal with which to stop their commercial mouths, if Lawyer Stoll may be believed.

The debt-contracting habits of the Stallo girls, their father's and his distress over them were told of by Stoll in Surrogate Fowler's court, where he appeared to show cause why he should not turn over to Stallo, as guardian of the girls, vouchers representing money he had paid out for and on behalf of the McDonald estate, which the Misses Stallo inherited. Stoll is no longer counsel for Stallo.

Lawyer Stoll Explains.

Mr. Stoll explained the situation and added that he kept the vouchers on a lien for services rendered (and not yet paid for) and for money advanced. He said he was perfectly willing to turn over the vouchers when he had received his pay and got back the $1000 he furnished when the Stallo girls were unable to raise a loan. Stoll said: "A year and a half ago Stallo told me that his daughters had such extravagant habits they had already spent $20,000 more than their income had been, and that he was at his wits' end to get out of the difficulty. I had been counsel for the administrators of the McDonald estate, and from them I raised a loan of $5000 and also deposited $1000 with the Massachusetts Bonding Company to secure Stallo's bondsmen. I am still responsible on the bond of which the $1000 is deposited. My own bill for services, which appears among the vouchers, has not been paid.

"The Stallos will not O. K. my account as represented by the vouchers, nor will they say it is incorrect, and so there remains a possibility of future action on the guardianship bond, and, that being so, I must decline to turn over vouchers that constitute proof of the accounts I have rendered."

Mourning Jewels Costly.

It was learned that within two months after the death of their grandfather the Stallo girls purchased "mourning jewelry" consisting of watches, black enamel and diamond necklaces, black enamel and diamond chains at $75 and a diamond ring in black settings at $250. Among the many items making up the account of Edmund K. Stallo, a guardian of his daughter, Helena, are: Matheson Auto Company, $845.33; O. Benson, chauffeur, $300.

Stallo wants to resign as guardian. It is declared that one reason why opposition is raised to the resignation of Stallo until his accounts have been judicially settled is that when the debt for auto and chauffeur hire was contracted the Stallo girls were at their summer place on Prince Edward Island and the car and chauffeur, except for a few hours while the girls were passing through this city, were used exclusively by Stallo himself.

It also appears that in the Mount Vernon National Bank is an account in the name of the Stallo girls amounting to $1300. This, in the account Stallo submits in asking for his release as guardian, is treated as cash, although the bank has failed.

NEWPORT PLANS FOR VISIT

Citizens Will Make Ocean Trip to Tillamook in Short Time.

NEWPORT, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special).—At a meeting of the citizens of Newport, Ind., held by the Newport Commercial Club, Wednesday night, at which attractions for the coming summer season were discussed, it was decided to secure an ocean-going boat and to make an excursion to Tillamook as soon as the weather will permit. A committee of two was appointed to make the arrangements. The object of the excursion is to bring the citizens of the two summer-resort towns in closer communication.

An Indian cantata, to be held next July in the wild city park, is also being planned by the women of Newport. Robert Depot, an Indian, now in charge of a school on the Siletz Reservation and leader of the Siletz Indian Band, who already has given several successful cantatas on the Siletz, has offered his assistance and will furnish the band music for the occasion. It is planned to give several free performances.

FIRM BLAMED FOR DEATH

Weston Residents to Ask Grand Jury to Investigate Electrocuting.

WESTON, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special).—The grand jury will be asked to hold the Preston Parion Milling Company, of Athena, responsible for the death of Eugene F. Graham, who was electrocuted in the basement of the Jarman store here Tuesday.

An inquest was held today and while the coroner's jury refused to fix the responsibility for the death, citizens of Weston declare the milling company, which furnished the power for Weston's lighting system, permitted the defective wiring which caused the death, and propose to appeal to the grand jury.

Line to Tap Burned Area.

FALLS CITY, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special).—The Falls City Lumber Company has surveyors seeking a route for a railroad into the Cobb & Mitchell timber belt in the Siletz Basin. The main object for building such a railroad is the securing of 150,000,000 feet of hewn lumber for which the company has contracted. Numerous surveys have been made, but none was satisfactory.

STORM IS ABATING

Middle West, However, Still Badly Tied Up.

TRACKS ARE IMPASSABLE

Snow Packed Tight in Cuts Resists Efforts of Rotaries—Seven Below Zero Hailed as Comparative Warmth.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 12.—Relief from the low temperatures which have prevailed over Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma is in sight. The weather observer issued a statement tonight that beginning tomorrow it would be warmer. It is raining in the Northwest and the storm center is turning this way.

All previous January records for this vicinity were broken in Kansas City the mercury stopped on its downward course at 29 degrees below zero. By 8 o'clock tonight it had risen, however, and the reading at that hour was seven degrees below zero.

In Kansas train service west of Topeka still is badly demoralized.

Up to a late hour tonight no trains had reached Kansas City from the West in the past 24 hours. For the third time in two weeks the Union Pacific tracks are impassable.

The snow in the cuts is packed so hard that the ordinary snowplow cannot get through and the number of rotaries in Kansas is limited. Many of the drifts were several thousand feet long.

The Rock Island today ran a special train of coal from Texas into the snowbound district to relieve the situation.

BURNS IS COLD AT 21 BELOW

Harney County Gets Snow and Temperature Takes Drop.

BURNS, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special).—The New Year so far has brought various brands of weather to Burns and Harney County. During the night of the second and the morning of the third, the Government thermometer here registered 21 degrees below zero, the coldest for two years, but moderating temperature followed with some snow each night, and on Saturday a Chinook wind, accompanied by light rains, blew all the afternoon and evening, melting a good deal of snow. That night, however, it turned cold again and a light snow fell, followed by a cold wind from the Northwest, which drifted the snow and made travel most uncomfortable.

There is an average depth of about 14 inches of snow, with a great deal more in the high hills, so the prospect is good for plenty of water this year. The days in general are bright and pleasant, and there has been no suffering, so far. Hay is plentiful throughout the county, and cattle, horses and sheep are in good condition.

OREGON COUNTIES IN LEAD

Statistics Gathered Concerning Attendance in State.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special).—That certain counties in the state lead the world as far as school attendance is concerned is shown in a statement which is being prepared by Superintendent Alderman. The purpose of the statement is to secure statistics as to the number of school children who leave the eighth grade and continue to go to school.

The table is not complete for the entire state, but a large number of counties are in. Malheur and Sherman counties show an average of 100 per cent each for the pupils leaving the eighth grade and continuing in school. Union has 95 per cent, Benton 92 per cent and Walla 92 per cent.

Superintendent Alderman, at the exhibit held at Spokane several weeks ago, showed a diagram for Lane County, claiming that this county led the world. Superintendent Busch, of Yakima County, Washington, took exception to the assertion and forwarded a statement to Superintendent Alderman showing that Yakima County averaged 91.2 per cent, which distanced the Lane County claim. These latter figures, however, show that Oregon is well in the lead again.

COWLITZ DOCTORS MEET

County Medical Society Gathers at Woodland, Wash.

WOODLAND, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special).—The Cowlitz County Medical Society held its first monthly meeting here Wednesday night in Bozorth's Hall. It was attended by Dr. Bales, Dr. Bird and Dr. Hocking of Kelso; Dr. C. J. Hoffman and Dr. Alice Hall Chapman of Woodland. Seventy-five citizens of Woodland gathered to hear the address by Dr. Bird, president, and Dr. Hoffman, vice-president.

Dr. Bales spoke on "The Medical Profession in its Relation to the Public"; Dr. Hocking dealt on "The Tuberculous"; and Dr. Bird read a paper on "Vaccination."

After the meeting Dr. Hoffman entertained the visiting physicians at supper at Hotel Martin.

It is the intention of the society to hold monthly meetings in the various towns of the county. The next meeting will be held February 10 at Kalama.

SECURE HARBOR ENGINEER

Aberdeen and Hoquiam Get Man to Look Over Situation.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special).—Virgil Bogue, the engineer, who has just completed a plan for the development of Tacoma's harbor, has been engaged by the Grays Harbor Port Commission to prepare a general plan of development for Grays Harbor. Decision to this effect was reached yesterday at a meeting of the Port Commission at which Mr. Bogue was present.

OLYMPIA TO GET BUILDING SOON.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special).—Information received from Representative in Congress Warburton, indicates that the proposed Federal building to be built in Olympia will be started in a short time. Representative Warburton announced that the plans are being gone over by the supervising architect, and that bids will be called for within a few days. The structure will be completed not later than July 1, 1912, and the contractors will be permitted to place in their bids the time of completion.

CONNER'S DEFENSE ADMITS ITS PERIL

Testimony of Parks as to Dynamiting Unshaken by Cross-Examination.

CREDIBILITY IS ASSAILED

Attorneys Will Call Several Witnesses, but Chief Hope Rests on Attack Upon Both Detectives of County.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Although assailed from every angle in an all-day attack, the testimony given by J. Mansell Parks against Bert Conners in the Hall of Records dynamiting trial, withstood today all the attacks of the defense. No important contradiction was obtained on any point concerning the alleged conspiracy with which Parks swore not only Conners, but six other prominent laborers were connected, and before the end of the day Leconte Davis, one of counsel for the prisoner, said that the witness' testimony was "dangerous to Conners."

Court adjourned until Monday and the state announced that it still had 10 more or less important witnesses to call. The attorneys for the defense said they intended to call several, but admitted that their case rested largely upon destroying the credibility of both Parks and Joseph Bishop, another county detective, who also associated with the defendant.

H. H. Appell, one of Conners' lawyers, led in the endeavor today to make Parks contradict himself, but failed. When Deputy District Attorney Horton objected to some of Appell's insinuations that Parks' memory was not good on some matters, Appell declared that he "would show that Parks remembered well only that which he was brought into court to testify to."

PHOTOS USED AS VOUCHERS

McNamara Distrustful of McManigal on Dynamite Errands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 12.—Detective from Orville McManigal, with a suitcase filled with explosives and time fuses, sneaked about the streets of Pittsburg and Buffalo and made a "open-shop" job that was to be blown up, together with photographs of wrecked places, which were forwarded to John J. McNamara, but failed. When Deputy District Attorney Horton objected to some of Appell's insinuations that Parks' memory was not good on some matters, Appell declared that he "would show that Parks remembered well only that which he was brought into court to testify to."

McManigal made three visits to Buffalo, the first in July, 1908, when he blew up a bridge. It developed that McNamara, as secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Steel Structural Ironworkers, obtained, whenever possible, photographs of structures which McManigal blew up, in order to keep a check on the dynamite he was paying for. McNamara, who is $1000 a month allowed McNamara for organization purposes. Many of these photographs are in the hands of the Government.

Just before he went to Buffalo, McManigal said, he tried to quit dynamiting, but was deterred by threats of exposure.

Mrs. McNamara was examined by the grand jury today and confirmed her husband's story in important details.

From conversations she had with her husband in Chicago, Mrs. McNamara, it is said, was able to tell much about the man who approached McManigal when he was working on a building in Detroit in June, 1907, and induced him to begin the many explosions on "open-shop" jobs. This man went to Detroit from Indianapolis and professed to have instructions and money from J. J. McNamara. After McManigal took up dynamiting regularly he frequently met in Chicago the man who, it is said, talked about places to be blown up.

Mrs. McNamara was questioned about her husband's carrying explosives through Chicago to points in Wisconsin, Missouri and Iowa, and about persons who accompanied him when he blew up a place in South Chicago, February 24, 1911.

SEATTLE VISITORS SOUGHT

Detectives Tracing Two Men and Woman in McNamara Case.

SEATTLE, Jan. 12.—The identity of two men and a woman who visited James B. McNamara, when he was in hiding in Seattle, previous to the dynamiting of the Lyons building August 31, 1910, is being investigated by detectives in connection with the Government dynamite investigations.

A man answering the description of James B. McNamara lived six weeks in a room in a cottage in the rear of 1029 Sixth avenue, which he engaged from Arthur McCormick, McNamara, who gave his name as Pete Petrovitsky, refused to allow a chambermaid to enter his room.

"My attention was first called to the peculiar actions of the man by the accumulation of mail postmarked Chicago and addressed to J. M. Boyce and J. R. Bryce," said Mr. McCormick today. "When I asked him if he knew to whom they belonged he said they were his."

"While he was there he had three callers, two men and a woman. The men called several times.

When he gave up the room I made a search and found an alarm clock with wires fastened to the alarm. This clock is now in the possession of District Attorney Frederick, of Los Angeles. Several pictures were sent to me by Mr. Frederick and from them I was able to identify my roomer as James B. McNamara."

LEADERS AGAIN INDICTED

Tveitmoen, Clancy and Johannsen Arrested on New Charges.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Olaf G. Tveitmoen, E. A. Clancy and Anton Johannsen, labor leaders of San Francisco, and J. E. Munsey, of Salt Lake City, were arrested here today on two new Federal indictments, which charged them with having conspired to bring to this state the dynamite used to blow up the Los Angeles Times building. The Federal indictment on which they were arrested two weeks ago charged them with having violated the interstate commerce law by plotting to bring here from the East the explosive used by McManigal in the attempt to destroy the Llewellyn Iron Works, December 25, 1910.

The arrests were expected. There were four counts in each of the two new indictments. Bonds were fixed at $2000 for each of the defendants and were furnished.

Here is the finest in Talking Machines that will ever be offered, including an almost endless variety of choice records and other inducements, for $196

See It This Afternoon or Tonight

A bona fide free trial offer—that means free trial. Not one which compels you to buy records whether you like the machine or not.

A 1912 Special Combination Offer

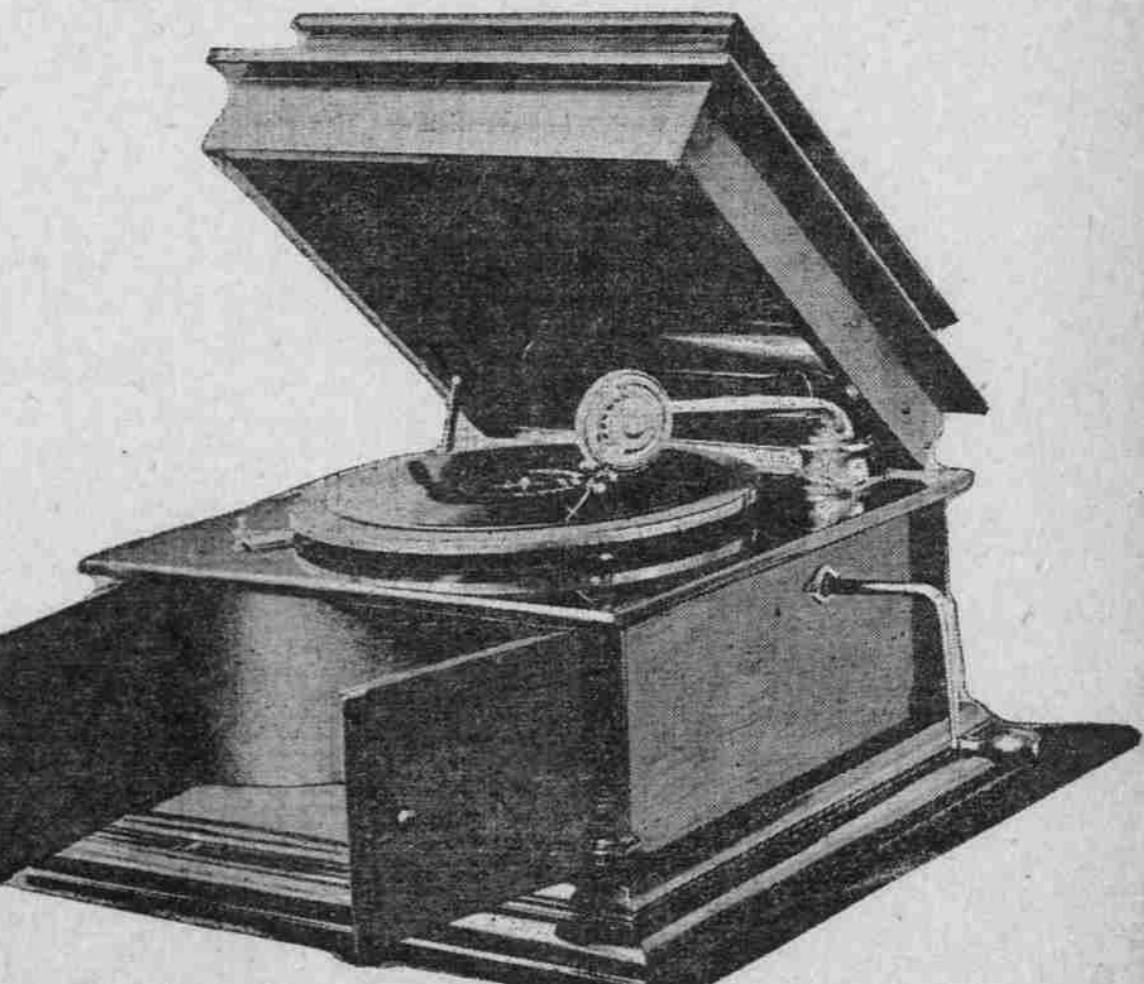

Now on display at

According to a frequently expressed desire on the part of many talking-machine enthusiasts, we have now succeeded in securing from the makers a talking machine which we can offer, including a large number of most desirable records and two packages of the latest fiber needles, also four packages of the regulation steel needles and the new $2 fiber needle sharpening machine, by means of which the fiber needles can be trimmed and made new again—all for $196 and on payments of $28 cash and $12 a month; no interest if paid for in full in one year. Three days' free trial if you like.

We have secured a machine which in finish exceeds anything made heretofore; its tone reproducing capacity could not be surpassed. It has identically the motor, the tone arm, the sound reproducer, found in certain $200 machines. Perhaps the sound-chamber is even better than in any other.

A most remarkable list of records is included in the price, $196. Carnos will supply two, one by Melba, one by Tetrazzini, one by Gogorza and Eames, two selections by Mary Garden, two by Alice Nielsen, two by David Bispham, two by Olive Fremstad, one by Maud Powell, the violinist; one by Fritz Kreisler, one by Harry Lander; the Sextet and a selection from Lucia, the Rigoletto Quartet, twenty-five popular selections and four of the latest dance selections. If our selection does not meet your desires you are also at liberty to choose your own selections.

At Last— That Delayed Shipment, Expected Ever Since New Year's Day, Has Arrived

Those who came too late to obtain one of those latest marvelous New Style Hornless Talking Machines advertised in our great $59 offer last month can secure one now. Out of the hundreds of instruments sold before the holidays, every one has proved more than satisfactory; we have never had so many appreciative and enthusiastic letters as we have been receiving from delighted customers who ordered one of these $59 offers. Twenty-four selections of Disc Records go with each machine, sent on three days' free trial to any home. Money refunded to any purchaser not thoroughly pleased. We can now supply elegant mahoganies as well as quarter-sawed oak. Finished like a $600 piano; largest size turn-table, triple spring motor (plays six pieces with one winding), scientifically correct and concealed sound chamber, modulating doors, produces tones absolutely lifelike and equal to anything hitherto achieved in even the $200 types. Price $59, cash or $4 monthly. EILERS MUSIC HOUSE, Alder street at Seventh.
