Woman Theosophist Easily Influenced in Business, Says Witness.

SPIRITUAL TEMPLE BUILT

Nurse in Mrs. Thurston-Patterson's Family Declared to Have Ambition to Be Head of Universal Brotherhood.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 16.—Judge Van Etten, of Kingston, N. Y., several years ago counsel for the late Mrs. Harriet P. Thurston, whose will bequeathing her property to Mrs. Katherine Tingley is now being contested to the Superior Court here by her son, George L. Patterson, followed Theodore L. Leake on the witness-stand for the contestants this afternoon.

possesses more strength than the ordinary man, dominates the courtroom. Keenly observant of every move by counsel for the state, of every answer made by a juror, she is always ready to paralyze in her own counsel's consultations.

"And," she declared this afternoon, "I have not for a moment slept, nor shed a tear thus far, and don't expect to."

All day long Mrs. Hazard sat beside her attorneys, toying with articles on the table or with the fringe of her dress, staring out of the window when not consulting with her attorneys. Although she kept her eyes often lowered or apparently away from the scene, they invariably returned to rest on counsel for the state or on jurors when either spoke or replied.

Husband Powerful Man. S. C. Hazard, her husband, was in court only for a few minutes in the morning. Hazard is a big six-foot-two giant with ruddy cheeks and weighs close to 200 pounds. He was instructor at West Point for 12 years.

"And yet they say I have hypnotized him," said Mrs. Hazard this afternoon. "I have only looked at him once to convince anyone of the falsity of that statement. Besides, it surely would be most difficult to influence a man who has had 12 years of the severest Army training."

Nurse Said to Be Ambitious. That Mrs. Hastie, who was a nurse in the family of Mrs. Patterson for several years, wanted to become leader of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society, succeeding Mrs. Katherine Tingley, was the belief of Mr. Leake, in a letter he wrote to Mrs. Patterson which was introduced in evidence at this morning's session.

This and the admission from Leake that between him and the wealthy Pennsylvania widow, Mrs. Patterson (later Mrs. Thurston), there existed a warmer relation than is usual between architect and client were the features of the proceedings.

SMOKE DEALS DEATH TO 2

Woman and Man Asphyxiated Following Upsetting of Lamp.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The bodies of Mrs. Jennie Sonberg and Edward Conners, a lodger, were found in the Sonberg home today when the police forced an entrance to investigate neighbors' reports that Mrs. Sonberg had not been seen for several days. Smoke asphyxiation from a fire started by an accidentally overturned lamp is given by the police as the cause of their deaths, which are believed to have occurred Sunday night.

Stockholm, Jan. 16.—Women henceforth are to take a full and equal share with men in the political life of Sweden. The speech from the throne at the opening of the Riksdag today contained the announcement that a bill was to be introduced enfranchising women and making them eligible at elections to the Riksdag on the same conditions as men.

Every Swedish citizen over 24 years of age and not under any legal disability has the right to vote for members of the second chamber.

and as you seem to think it will!" Mrs. Hazard threw her head back confidently.

"There is no such thing as 'I,' she said. "Besides, don't you know there is a whole lot in being right with yourself? If one is right that way then nothing else matters."

Such is the confidence of the woman who is facing the gallows on the state's charge of murder in the first degree. She sees only victory; reverses are always dead and buried.

District Attorney Powerless to Intervene—Dr. Flint Insists Mat-tewan Inmate Is as Crazy as Ever and as Dangerous.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Piece by piece the impediments—legal and otherwise—to the liberty of HARRY K. Thaw are being removed. A new plan by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Thaw, promises to give to the slayer of Stanford White the right to walk from the doors of the State Hospital for Criminal Insane at Matteawan a free man.

Exactly what course will be pursued by Shearn has not been revealed, but it is learned that the greatest impediment to Thaw's liberty has been the removal of Evelyn Neabit testimony from Evelyn Neabit Thaw that she is afraid of her husband and that he has threatened to kill her should he regain his freedom. Financial considerations affect the younger Mrs. Thaw. First, she is about to sue for a divorce. It now remains to be seen whether the removal of Evelyn Neabit testimony from the younger Mrs. Thaw. First, she is about to sue for a divorce. It now remains to be seen whether the removal of Evelyn Neabit testimony from the younger Mrs. Thaw.

Mattewan Officials Change. The fact that there have been certain changes in Mattewan recently leads to the possibility of the second course of action being pursued, while the removal of Evelyn Neabit Thaw's adverse testimony may make the first procedure appear the more advisable. At Shearn's office it would not be said what would be done, but it was admitted that an action is in preparation and would be brought shortly.

Dr. Flint gave out the following statement: "Thaw has been a potential paranoiac since early childhood, with a bad neurotic heredity. Before he killed White he had become a typical manic-depressive delusion that he had a mission to protect American girls from debauches, although at that time, he was appearing as a sane and respectable man."

COURTS THREATEN TO CURTAIL MRS. THOMAS' SHOPPING.

Creditors of Husband Ask That He Be Put on $10,000 Yearly Income, So Rest Can Go for Debts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Creditors of her husband's may indirectly compel Mrs. E. R. Thomas, who was the beautiful Miss Linda Lee, of Kentucky, to reduce her order for smart gowns and frocks and swite millinery from Paris dressmakers and modistes, for the courts of New York are being asked to cut his allowance to $10,000 a year so that $150,000 of his annual income may be applied on payment of his debts.

Before he died, General Thomas provided a large income for his son but stipulated that the principal be held in trust. He realized how more or less irresponsible his son was in the matter of his debts.

Notwithstanding the caution of the General, E. R. Thomas involved himself in business to the extent of more than $1,000,000. His creditors have become anxious and want the courts to turn over a large part of Thomas' income until the $1,000,000 indebtedness is paid.

E. R. Thomas is now living at his mother's home in Paris. His wife also is in Paris. It has been reported from time to time that the couple was estranged and had separated, but these reports are denied.

Mrs. Clara Waldo Makes Annual Gift of $100 to O. A. C.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 16.—Announcement has been made of an annual gift of $100 by Mrs. Clara Waldo, of Portland, and one of the regents of the Oregon Agricultural College, to the girls of the present senior class who are to decide upon the best ways and means of making it available for the girls through contests to be inaugurated by a committee of the senior girls. The contest will be held in debate and oratory to stir up interest in these matters among the co-eds and part of it will be used as prizes for certain other contests of merit.

Mrs. Waldo has given an additional $100 to the Waldo Hall Club in order that the club should be able to give their annual dance. This year, owing to the steady growth of the size of the college, it was found impossible to give both the dance and the reception as is usually done. However, with this added gift from Mrs. Waldo, the club will hold a dance in the near future.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Fritzi Scheff, the prima donna of "The Night Birds," the current attraction at the Providence opera house, was a victim of an accident in the second act of last night's presentation of the comic opera, when a dancer of the company, turning a somersault, kicked her on the hip. The injury was not serious, said the doctor who was called to attend Miss Scheff.

Two "peasants" were presenting a version of a country dance when the accident happened. Miss Scheff was seated at one side of the stage. One of the two dancers misjudged the amount of room he had for his specialty, and his acrobatics resulted in his feet striking Miss Scheff's hip with considerable force. Miss Scheff rose to her feet quickly and her chair toppled backward on the stage.

BRUISE, NOT SEVERE, IS RESULT OF ACCIDENT WHILE COMIC OPERA IS IN PROGRESS.

Persons in the audience thought that she would faint, but she walked off the stage and the dancing continued.
