WHITE SPEAKS FOR PEACE

President of National Organization Would Not Surrender Right to Strike, but Says Other Methods Have Won.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16 .- Division of opinion as to the policy to be pursued by the bituminous and anthracite miners' unions of the country in attempting to enforce a demand for higher wages appeared among the leaders of the United Mine Workers of America when its annual convention pened in this city today.

opened in this city today.

The question that will be brought before the convention is whether the individual districts of the miners' union shall sign tonnage contracts with mineowners as they can be negotiated, or whether the miners as a National communication shall refuse to National organization shall refuse to sign any contracts until the operators of all the districts have agreed to the

Lewis Demands Unanimity. Thomas L. Lewis, of Bridgeport, O., former president of the miners, declared he would press a resolution that no district should sign a wage contract until the operators of all the districts are willing to sign.

President White said he would present his plan to the scale committee and would not announce it beforehand. He advocated a stand for higher wages in his annual report delivered today.

While he declined to commit himself, Vice-President Hayes said oppo-sition to the policy of a National strike will come largely from offi-cials of districts bordering on organ-ized coal fields. "It must be remembered that while the United Mine Workers have a mem-bership of nearly 300,000, there are about $5,000 coal miners that are unorganized," said Mr. Hayes.

The scale committee will go into session tomorrow and is expected to return a report before January 25.

President Speaks for Peace. John P. White, president of the or-ganization, in his annual address to-day, said, among other things: "While we will never surrender the right to strike, we should not lose sight of the fact that some of the greatest successes our organization has ever achieved lay in the channels of peace. When I speak of peace I mean an ennobling peace where the rights of our people are wholesomely re-

GOOD SAMARITAN OFFICIALS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET.

The board of trustees and the medical taff of Good Samaritan Hospital gathered last night at their annual banquet at the Imperial Hotel. Right Rev. Charles Scadding, D. D., Bishop of Oregon, and ex-officio chairman of the board, presided at the banquet, and addressed those assembled, telling them of the work the hospital was doing, of the progress made during the past year, and of the scope of the institution in and of the scope of the institution in the future.

"Good Samaritan Hospital takes rank among the largest hospitals in the country," he said. "We aim at a high standard of medical and surgical effi-ciency, and try to have a high moral, gentle and religious atmosphere. We need larger endowments that we can do more free work. We urge people to remember this institution in their wills, and to give while they can see the good that their money will do." Bishop Scadding told of the enlarge-

FOREST SURVEY IS AIM

Washington Assessors Advised That Reserves May Be Gone Over.

OLYMPIA, Wash. Jan. 16.—(Special.)
—After E. P. Kingsbury, the surveyor, general of this city, 'declined to address them today, the County Assessors appointed three of their members to confer with him, and they reported to the convention that he has plans pre-pared for surveying 100,000 acres in the forest reserves.

The department is hampered by lack of money, so the Washington delega-tion in Congress will be urged to have the Federal Land Department hasten the work and to secure the necessary funds to have the surveying completed so the lands can be assessed for taxation purposes.

Senator Sticks to His Story and Keeps His Temper.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A day's cross-examination of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, before the Senate investigating committee, failed to develop sensations. Apparently it had tangled his story and certainly it did not ruffle his temper, for he maintained his composure throughout. Most of the cross-examination was directed to Mr. Lorimer's recital of po-litical conditions in Illinois, when the Legislature was electing a Senator in 1905, the personal associations of Democrats with Republicans and the subsequent reason why he believed the Democrats voted for him.

The report on Nehalem has not been submitted, but soon will come to Con-gress and will urge a jetty project estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $350,000. Local interests are ready to pay half the cost.

The Yaquina River project calls for improvement between Toledo and Yauina. A report on this work will e submitted in a few days. For the Willamette River Mr. Hawley will urge the adoption of a new project looking to improvement be-tween Portland and Oregon City and also a project calling for an annual expenditure of $40,000 for confining the river between its banks at points above Oregon City.

New Projects Advocated. Mr. Hawley will also ask for surveys looking to the adoption of several new projects. One will call for estimates of the cost of installing a system of locks and dams in the Willamette River above Oregon City, with a view to increasing the channel depth to six feet; another for the improvement of to increasing the channel depth to six feet; another for the improvement of Young's Bay, near Astoria, and at Coos Bay he wants a survey made to determine the necessity for and the cost of repairing the jetty, which is reported to be in bad condition. Major Morrow has been called on by the War Department, at Mr. Hawley's request, as to whether there is need for an emergency appropriation for this jetty.

Another survey is requested to determine the necessity for repairs to the Coquille jetty.

PORTLAND MAN DROWNED

H. Freiwald, Homesteader Near Sheridan, Caught in Flood.

SHERIDAN, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)

The body of H. Freiwald, of Portland, a homesteader in the Darling Hill country, was found Sunday night by a party of ranchers in the upper waters of Cannady Creek. The condition of the body would indicate that the man had been drowned several days. Neighbors say Freiwald passed their houses Friday, and that was the last that was seen of him until his body was found.

body was found.

The high water on Cannady Creek was responsible for the man's untimely death. This is the only recorded case of drowning due to the high water in the Sheridan country this Winter. It is generally thought that Freiwaid, who was riding a horse when last seen attempted to ford the creek and that he was carried down stream. The horse was found later grazing on the banks of the creek.

The body was taken to Williamina, from where it will be taken to Port-

Edwards, secretary of the Edwards Company, furniture dealers, as a solution of the questions of the secretary of the secretary of the Edwards Company, furniture dealers, as a solution of the secretary tion of the unemployed on one hand, and as a relief for busy business men on the other. Mr. Edwards writes a letter to the justices in which the suggestion is made, following his sum-moning to serve on a jury a few days ago, when there was some difficulty in getting him to appear.

The writer says that he has been summoned five times in 15 days. There are lots of good men out of jobs who would be glad to make a dollar in this way. Why not help them out in-stead of taking men away from their business to try trivial cases? It seems to me that the value of the time of the men on your juries is, in most cases, more than the sum involved in the trial."

The suggestion was not taken in good part by Justice Olson, for whom the letter was intended, and who is a stickler for the enforcement of this obligation of citizenship.
