RUSSIA GIVES ORDER

Cargo of Wheat for Vladivostok Is Wanted.

Exporters Encouraged at Demand From Port Where Business Was, in Former Days, Good. Millers Like Prospect.

Lack of steam tounage may prevent an order being closed here for a full cargo of wheat to Vladivostok. several days exporters have had the business under consideration, but while the wheat is available there is no tramp steamer of suitable size to be had for loading in March.

In former years Portland sold nu-merous cargoes of wheat, flour and various commodities to Vladivostock interests and especially during the Russian-Japanese war was the trade thriving but little activity has been apparent in that territory during the past few seasons and the offer to take wheat cargo came from an unex-cted quarter. At the same time flour sected quarter. At the same time flour millers are not feeling sad because the sutleek for a steamer to the Russian harbor is discouraging, for they say if the Oriental demand for flour con-tinues most of the cereal will be

In that connection they say that owin that connection they say that ow-ing to the duty on wheat, loss in man-ufacturing it, cost of handling and other expense, it would be cheaper to contract for a full flour cargo. It was zumored yesterday that two Norwegian steamers had been chartered to load but none of the firms would acknowldge the business.

There is every reason to believe that more steamers will be chartered for the Far Eastern trade, if they can be secured, as flour orders are pouring in and space is not to be had on the regular vessels for early loading. The Oriental liner Rygia, which is due here January 21 and is to sail February 7, arrived at Victoria, B. C., Tuesday night and proceeded to Nanaimo. She will have a large portion of her space filled here, but considerable more flour could go forward if facilities could be had. There is every reason to believe that

FIREMAN'S BODY IS SHIPPED

Other Victims of Dixon Disaster May Have Fallen Into Wreck.

Aboard the gasoline tug Echo, com manded by Captain George Shaver, the bedy of Silas Knowles, a fireman on the Sarah Dixon who was killed through the explosion of her boiler, was brought from the scene of the wreck to the foot of Stark street yesterday morning and was taken in charge by an underand was taken in charge by an under-taking firm. The body was prepared for shipment last night on the steamer Alliance for Marshfield, whence it will be sent on a smaller vessel to Florence, Or, the home of the victim's parents.

laptain George Shaver said that Captain George Shaver said that he was using a long pole to probe the inside of the Dixon's hull Tuesday aftermoon, in an effort to ascertain if the bottom was damaged, when he found Knowles' body, which had been blown forward from the firehole and beneath the deck. The left arm had been blown of near the shoulder had been blown the deck. The left arm had been blown off near the shoulder and a large splinter of wood was imbedded in the left the overalls was broken

It is thought possible that the bodies of Captain Stinson and Mate Monical fell into the wreckage, although the only trace of the structure above the surricans deck was a piece of the root of the texas. As the Coroner of Cowlitz County passed on the case of Knowles no further investigation was necessary here.

L'Hermite and Duquesne Fixed at Same Rate for Wheat.

In the charter Tuesday by Kerr, Gifford & Co., of the French bark L'Her-mite a lower range in the market was indicated over its tone when the Brit; ship Kirkcudhrightshire was fixed by Balfeur, Guthrie & Co., Saturday, as the latter obtained 32s 6d, and L'Hermite was engaged at 31s 3d, which is the same rate paid the French ship Duquesne, that Balfour, Guthrie & Co. toog last week. L'Hermite is at Iquique, where she arrived December 19 from Penarth.

There are prospects that two or three additional carriers will be taken this month, although tonnage continues scarce, and from San Francisco comes a story that a further advance is looked for in freights. Plenty of wheat re-mains for shipment via Portland, some of which is held in the country, and with but about five months of the cereal season left there will be abundant business for ships.

YAQUINA PROJECT INDORSED

Engineers Favor Improvement of Stream With Port of Toledo.

Approval has been given by the board of engineers at Washington, to the gineers, U. S. A., covering the proposed improvement of Yaquina River from Oyaterville to Toledo, which includes a survey and estimate of cost, placting the expense at $72,000. The next step will be to submit the project to Congress and an appropriation is expected to be set aside at the present

The river is sufficiently deep from Yaquina to Oysterville, but from there to Toledo a depth of 12 feet at mean lower low water is desired. The Port of Toledo has agreed to join with the Government in the work and furnish 60 per cent of the essimated cost. The Port has been operating a dredger in the channel and to provide means sold a block of $50,000 worth of bonds. When the digging is completed the channel is to be 150 feet in width, except at curves, where it will be increased to 200 feet.

NEGRO PARSON WINS Piles Cured

of Woman Lodger's Charge.

Members of Congregation and Wife of Minister Testify in His Behalf Against Mrs. Davis, Who Alleged Battery.

W. W. Mathews, pastor of the First African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, at Thirteenth and Main streets. was in the Municipal Court yesterday acquitted of a charge of assault and battery after a trial which had occupied the greater part of two days. Almost the entire negro congregation of Mr. Matthews attended the trial, and crowded around him to offer congratulations when his acquittal was announced.

The most aggressive prosecutor of three was a member of the minister's own race. Attorney Lew Dawley. With him were allied Attorneys Frank D. Hennessy, deputy District Attorney, and W. G. Hale. In behalf of Rev. Mr. Matthews, Attorney McCants Stewart, a negro, and C. Evert Baker appeared.

It was testified that two detectives, one a man and the other a woman, had stayed in the room of Mrs. A. F. Davis, the complainant, over night at various times, because she had complained that attempts were made at night to enter her room in the parsonage of the negro clergyman.

Mrs. Davis had complained that Rev. Mr. Matthews shook his fists at her when he ordered her to leave his premises last Saturday.

Place Found for Woman. Mr. Matthews said he had taken Mrs. Davis into his home Christmas Eve. with tears in her eyes, when she had appeared to him after the evening services, saying she was destitute. He said he obtained employment for the woman with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sharp. woman with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sharp, at the Carmelita apartments, allowing her at the same time to lodge at the parsonage. Her actions later, however, made her objectionable, he said, and convinced him that she was of unsound mind, and he took steps to have her get a room elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Davis' employers, appeared at the residence of Rev. Mr. Matthews last Saturday and demanded an exlast Saturday and demanded an ex-planation of mistreatment that Mrs. Lewis told them she had suffered at the paster's hands.

Mr. Matthews said that he had learned that Mrs. Davis had acted queer'y at two places where she was employed. His attorneys offered to introduce testimony to prove that Mrs. Davis, at two places, had complained of persons attempting to enter her room. The prosecution admitted this to be true, without comment, but objected to the defense's references to these complaints as "hallucinations." Mr. Matthews alleged that Mr. and Mrs. Sharp were taking advantage of Mrs. Davis' ignorance to make' her prosecute him for a personal grievance. "Her ignorance?" Where's her ignorance?" asked Prosecutor Hennessy. "Wherever she is," replied the cler-gyman. Lodger Ordered Away. "Once when I was going out in the sening," said the minister, "I discovwhy he was mistreating Mrs. Davis, he said, and revealed to him the hiding of detectives in Mrs. Davis' room over Several members of his congrega-tion testified for Mr. Matthews. At the resumption of the case yesterday afternoon Mr. Matthews offered to introduce as witnesses as to his char-acter A. M. Wright, assistant cashier of the United States National Bank: B. Lee Paget, Rev. J. W. McDougall and Dr. J. A. Merriman. He said he had been a minister 18 years and had been in Portland five years. Mrs. Matthews said she had been married four years and had never found cause for suspi-

Mrs. Martha Linville, who proved to be the woman detective in the case, was put on the stand as the state's last witness. About 12 o'clock, she last witness. About 12 o'clock, she said, Mrs. Davis lighted a match to see what time it was, and a few minutes later someone was heard at the door. trying to enter. She said she did not move, however, as Mrs. Davis insisted that she keep "quiet as a mouse." that she would be sure to hear the noise.

"Oh, no—that is, only I have heart

Yale Way of Purifying Swimming Pool Long Used by Y. M. C. A.

Comment in Eastern magazines on an innovation at Yale University, where it has been found that water in swimit has been found that water in swill-ming pools may be kept pure by dis-infecting it daily with chloride of lime, is causing some amusement at the Portland Young Men's Christian Asso-Portland Young Men's Christian Asso-ciation. While the Yale experiment is hatled as something entirely new in the care of swimming pools, this meth-od of disinfection has been used for several years by the Portland Y. M. C. A. in its fine big basement pool. After saying that it has never been proved that infectious diseases are ever contracted in swimming bools, an ever contracted in swimming pools, an Kastern publication says:

Nevertheless, those in charge of large indoor awimming poels, where hundreds of swimmers resort daily, have long realized the necessity of some adequate method of purifying the water. Experiments made at the Carnerie Swimming Pool, Yale Univercity, show that from 0.3 to 0.5 parts of chieride of lime added to every 1,000,000 parts of water will effectively purify the water of swimming pools; but the lime must be used daily, or at least once every 45 hours. The disinfectant is so diluted that the swimmers are quite unaware of its presence.

"While this method is halled as a Eastern publication says:

"While this method is hailed as a new discovery, it has been new discovery, it has been followed regularly in purifying the water in our pool," said H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "I do not know that there is any danger of spreading diseases in swimming pools, but we do not take any chances. The water is changed several times a week and chloride of lime is used daily. I think this should be done with every swim.

BORROWERSARECURBED

WAIVING OF EXEMPTION AL-LOWED FATHERS ILLEGAL.

Justice of Peace Bell Holds That Loan Sharks Cannot Disregard Law's $75 Limit.

"Loan shark" tactics were dealt another blow yesterday when Justice of the Peace Bell ruled that the law exempting heads of families from gar-nishment of wages or foreclosure on property to the extent of $75 could not be waived by heads of families who borrowed money or contracted indebtedness.

It has been the practice of money lenders to insert a clause in all in-struments of indebtedness signed by borrowers of money, whereby borrow-ers who are heads of families walve the exemption accorded them by law Under the magistrate's ruling all such agreements are invalid. The decision will be appealed to the Circuit Court. The case was that of the Ames Mercantile Agency against John F. Jonas and his wife. Both gave their note type 1 1982 of 1823 at 18 per cent June 19, 1909, for $128, at 10 per cent interest, to George McGowan, with the waiver inserted. The note was secured by a morigage. The property security for the note was foreclosed July 1910, and sold for $137.70. At the rate of interest of 10 per cent, a balance of $4.30 was due on the note. This with on the property securing the note, and $15 attorney's fees, or a total of $62.30, was demanded by the agency bringing suit in behalf of McGowan. The suit was allowed to go by de-fault, but Jonas appeared in court yes-terday with an affidavit saying that his wages had been garnisheed because of the judgment, and asked that the

TWO NEAR-PARDONS FAIL

Wife-Beater at Rockpile Must Wait Month Due to Lacking Vote.

James Morris, sentenced to serve three months on the rockpile for drunk-enness and wife-beating, has had two "near-pardons," but is still in jail. Two weeks ago Councilman Joy pre-sented to the Council an ordinance, the terms of which provided for the pardon of Morris, but it had but 11 votes and therefore failed by one vote to carry an emergency clause and will be in-effective for 30 days from the date Mayor Rushlight signed it.

Mayor Rushlight signed it.

Thinking to expedite the pardon, Councilman Wilhelm yesterday morning introduced another measure with the same provisions. It met the selfsame fate, being passed at first by a vote of 12 members, thus carrying the emergency clause that was attached, but Councilman Menefee, upon reflec-tion, said he had just been considering his vote. "I thought if he was drunk and got the worst of it in fighting with his wife I would vote for the pardon," said Mr. Menefee, "but I understand he got the best of his wife, so I will vote against it."

Thus the prisoner is no nearer his freedom now than he was before the Council considered his case yesterday
