Nothing but Praise Spoken for Secretary Barnes at Olympia Meeting.

ORGANIZATION IS LAUDED

C. C. Chapman Tells Southwest Washington Development Association Theirs Is Only Self-Supporting Body of Its Kind.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—

In addition to about 200 delegates, noted railroad men, men interested in the development of Western Washington and numerous politicians were on hand when the joint convention of the Southwest Washington Development Association and Olympic Peninsula Development League opened for a three-day session this afternoon.

Tomorrow, however, is the big day, when special trainloads of visitors will be in from Grays Harbor, Tacoma and Seattle.

At the afternoon session the speech of C. C. Chapman, of the Portland Commercial Club, was the feature of the day. There have been rumors of trouble brewing for J. E. Barnes, secretary of the Southwest organization, and Mr. Chapman praised the work done by Secretary Barnes. He referred to him as the "man on the job," the one who has had to stir the "moosebacks" and to get out and perform many of the unpleasant duties.

No Assistance Asked. He said that the Southwest was able to boast of the only organization of its kind in the United States which had been able to organize by itself, do its own secretary and do its own work without any assistance from the metropolises of the state.

Mr. Campbell assured the citizens of Dallas that it was the intention of the Southern Pacific Company to build an electric line from Portland to Corvallis, through Dallas, within the next two years, and when completed, Dallas would be given trains for Portland and a few from Portland to Corvallis.

SEE GOD DILIGENT

Vancouver Invaded by Score of Marriage Seekers.

DIVORCE IS OBSTACLE

Woman, Who Has Not Been Separated from Husband Six Months, Denied Privilege to Remarry.

Portland Benedicts Many.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Cupid must have been working overtime in Portland for some time and his efforts were crowned today when a score of marriage seekers and widows came to Vancouver and were married.

Judge Donald McMaster, of the Superior Court, has been listening to a tedious case for two days when a couple, Herbert Taggersell and Miss Lilian Brown, accompanied by Arthur Smith, appeared with a license and wanted to be married by the Superior Judge. Judge McMaster said that he had heard enough argument for a while and he felt that the jury had done its duty and he pronounced the couple.

One young couple may not have been married today, although the case was secured. It was because there was a temporary financial embarrassment. Aron Glenn Dow and Edna Buley, accompanied by Mrs. A. E. Buley, of Portland, were in Vancouver today for the prospective bridegroom began to dive in his pockets and he brought up the last two nickels to make the amount required.

When Rev. H. S. Templeton, of the First Presbyterian Church, was marrying Alexander F. Douglas and Miss Isabel Meach, who were accompanied by a sister, Miss Annie Meach, and more couples arrived armed with the necessary licenses and waited in an adjoining room while the single ceremony was performed. Then Mr. Templeton performed a double marriage ceremony, the ring service being used. The principals were Charles M. Hill and Miss Edna Louise Tennant, and J. W. Byron and Miss Edna Baldwin. Mrs. Ruth Bowman was witness for both couples and each couple witnessed the others' papers. All were from Portland.

Edward J. King and Mrs. Minnie Smith, accompanied by Robert E. Anderson, of Portland, secured a marriage license this afternoon. The couple from Vancouver was James Harding and Miss Mary Scheideman, with W. E. Albertson as witness.

Traveling Salesman Weds. Although one couple came all the way from California to be married, it looked as though they would be compelled to wait awhile, but a friend was found in Harry A. Bancroft. The couple were J. Wilson, a traveling salesman, and Miss Florence Brownlee, both of San Francisco. The license was secured and Rev. J. M. Canse, of the First Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. The couple will make their home in Portland.

These are the tales of the happy ones, but there is a sad story to be told of a couple who came with exuberant spirits and great hopes of returning as man and wife. But when they answered the questions asked by William Marshall, County Auditor, it was learned that the prospective bride had not been divorced six months. Two other couples applied by night as they are witnesses or friends they were compelled to go back.

FIRST SENT TO HONOLULU

INFANTRY AT VANCOUVER ORDERED TO NEW POST.

Officers Pleased but Men Like Philipines Better—Troops to Sail on May 5.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The official order from the headquarters of the Western Division of the Army, at San Francisco, sending the First Infantry, stationed here, to Honolulu, in compliance with telegraphic instructions received January 20, arrived in the post today. The First Infantry is instructed to leave this post in ample time to reach Portland and there await a government transport leaving that port for Honolulu May 5. Upon arrival the regiment will report to the commanding general duty.

All files of orders of the Department of the Columbia will be left here for incoming organizations, but the files of the Western Division will be removed. Nearly all the officers are much pleased with their new station, but many of the enlisted men, who desired to go to the Philippine Islands, where they were first ordered, are sorely disappointed. Many men desiring to go to the islands to get in a little time, allowed for service there, were transferred from other regiments, even paying the expenses of the transfer.

Other men in the First Infantry, whose time of enlistment is about to expire, were transferred to organizations stationed in the United States. All these transfers have been made, so now that the regiment will go to Honolulu, where only straight time is allowed, those who have made the change believe they have the worst of the bargain.

A. C. Thomson, Violent When Examined for Sanity.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—While an inquiry into his sanity was being conducted today before County Judge Beattie, A. C. Thomson, who has lived here at a hotel several months, attacked Dr. H. S. Mount, the examining physician. Thomson seized the physician's throat, but was soon overpowered by Sheriff Mass and Judge Beattie. The crazed man was taken to the asylum at Salem today. Thomson is wealthy and recently bought about $10,000 worth of property in this city and county.

William Cox, a farmer, who lives near Eagle Creek, was adjudged insane today. Cox was accused of having tried to kill Henry Coleman, a neighbor. He is said to have placed a gun against Coleman's breast, and pulled the trigger twice, but the weapon was not loaded.

GOLF LINKS LAWSON PLAN
Crook County, Oregon, to Have Nine-Hole Course This Summer.

PRINEVILLE, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Crook County is to have a golf links, a nine-hole course, to be located on the ranches of Thomas W. Lawson and Thomas Sharp, Jr., which join each other and are located down Crooked River about six miles below Prineville. Work will be finished this Summer.

Another unique feature of the course is that it will be an irrigated course, the irrigation canals to provide the natural hazards. Mr. Sharp is now laying his plans for the course and will send it to clover and bluegrass as soon as his ditches are constructed. Old golf enthusiasts who have located in the interior are looking forward with a great deal of anticipation to this latest addition to the Thomas Lawson ranch, where now is being built a mansion the equal of any New Yorker's Summer home.

Mr. Nordhausen was born in Germany, served as a corporal in the army in the war of 1866 and came to America in 1869. He lived in Iowa and Nebraska until 1891, when he came to Oregon, where he had since resided. An Opportunity for a Salesman

This is the Kind of a Man I Am Looking For

FIRST of all, he must be a man who thoroughly believes in himself. Second, he must be a worker—a fellow who believes in "keeping everlastingly at it." Third, he must be the kind of a man who falls in love with his work—who makes his business his one most important consideration. Fourth, he must be a man who lives within his income—a man who saves a portion of his earnings. Fifth, the man I engage will be one who looks to his physical welfare—a man who makes it a point to be in working trim every morning.

NOW then, the man I am looking for may be a salesman already—working in a field that is limited. Or, he may never have been a salesman but is capable of being developed into one. We have a school where we teach a man the science of selling. This school develops a man's latent powers. I have men working for me who never sold a thing in their lives until they came here. These men are making good—they are closing business and making money.

IF YOU believe you can measure up to the requirements outlined you are the man I am looking for. If you are the right man there is no limit to the amount of money you can command for your efforts. If you think you are the man I am looking for, call for an interview at the offices of Columbia Life & Trust Company, 916 Spalding Building, between the hours of 9 and 12 A. M.
